FBI Is Probing Pentagon Leaks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI is investigating the leaking of secrets at the Pentagon, the White House says.

News Secretary Pierre Salinger announced the investigation on Thursday night but declined to discuss its nature or what set it off. He said only: "There is an FBI investigation today of leaking of secrets at the Pentagon."

But the Chicago Sun-Times in a dispatch from Washington said President Kennedy ordered the FBI and military intelligence agencies to find out how a national publication got secret information on military plans for Berlin.

The Sun-Times story by Thomas B. Ross said: "Mr. Kennedy was appalled at reading about the Joint Chiefs of Staff's contingency plan for the Berlin crisis in a national publication before it reached him in the White House.

"He immediately directed the FBI and the military intelligence agencies to find out how the highly classified information had leaked to the press."

From High Official

The Sun-Times added: "The published report on the joint chiefs' contingency plan contained enough accuracy to persuade Mr. Kennedy that it was wilfully disclosed by a high official in the Pentagon."

The Sun-Times dispatch did not identify the national publication but it apparently was a reference to a Newsweek magazine edition which went on sale Monday.

Newsweek said the Joint Chiefs of Staff would present to Kennedy this week a plan for action in the Berlin situation, calling for a "show of strength" in an attempt to convince the Soviet Union that the United Sates does not intend to retreat from Berlin.

Newsweek reported the United States is prepared to back its commitments to West Berlin "even at the risk of nuclear war."

Many Sign At KHS for Courses

Registration for Kingston Summer High School was reported "very heavy" this morning by Assistant Superintendent of Schools Franklin Hazard who also announced that there will definitely be a summer school on the elementary level.

There had been some question about the elementary level because of an apparent lack of interest. However, 84 pre-registrations have been received, with others anticipated, Hazard pointed out.

Registrations to date will support four classes—a fourth grade section, a combined section of grades five and six, and two primary sections. Hazard said there is staff enough to handle any number of pupils.

To Sign Up Wednesday

Any questions about elementray summer school may be directed to Principal Ambrose J. Boyd of the Washington School.

Hazard said students were still registering late this morning for the summer high school and that officials anticipated a final registration of at least 800.

Come From Area

River Excursion To Reenact Trip Of Mary Powell

Reenactment of the Mary Powell's first trip on the Hudson Tuesday, July 18 will mark the 100th anniversary of her launching at Jersey City, N. J., and the sesquicentennial of the founding of the Town of Esopus.

The Town of Esopus will conduct the steamboat excursion from Kingston Point to New York and return on the Peter Stuyvesant of the Hudson River Day Line.

The vessel will leave Newcombe's dock at 8 a. m. and is scheduled to arrive in New York City at about 1 p. m. on the Day Line pier, foot of West 41st Street. On the return trip the steamer will leave New York City at 5 p. m. and is scheduled to reach Kingston Point at about 9:30 p. m. There will be an orchestra aboard for dancing and cafeteria service will be available.

For over 50 years the Mary Powell, the Queen of the Hudson was one of the most famous river steamboats. During the summer months she made daily trips from Rondout to New York City and return.

The excursion this year has particular significance as the year 1961 marks the 100th anniversary of the "Mary Powell's" launching.

The Queen of the Hudson has several close connections with the Town of Esopus. For a number of years after her launching the vessel wintered at Port Ewen, and in later years her lay up berth was the Sunflower Dock, east of Sleightsburgh.

Captain Absalom L. Anderson, the man who had the Mary Powell built and was her commander for many years, also maintained a residence in the Town of Esopus just south of Port Ewen. During this period, the "Powell" would blow a salute on her whistle every evening when passing the Anderson homestead.

Launching Marred

The launching of the Mary Powell was originally scheduled for the afternoon of July 29, 1861, at the yard of her builder Michael S. Allison of Jersey City. However, to the consternation of those present she stuck on the ways and the actual launching did not take place until August 1.

Such an event in maritime circles is usually considered an omen of ill luck. The delay, however, had no effect on the Mary Powell for she went on to become not only one of the best known river steamers in Am-

Moscow Unveils Powerful Bomber

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union's giant new jet bomber is more than 40 feet longer — and may be considerably more powerful—than anything in the U.S. long range nuclear bomber fleet.

The new Soviet bomber, a four-jet delta wing craft, was unveiled in Moscow two days ago during practice flights for an air show there July 9.

It came as no surprise to U.S. officials here. They said the plane — designated by U.S. military authorities with the code name "Bounder"—has been under development for a number of years.

This suggested the Soviets may have the plane in quantity, although firm information was not available.

Public disclosure of the Bounder could be intended by the Soviets as a way of pointing up Soviet airpower at this time of deepening crisis over Berlin.

Historian To Talk at Centennial

Principal speaker Saturday at the Civil War Centennial observance in the Senate House Museum will be Dr. Albert B. Corey of Albany, state historian for the State University of New York.

The program will start at 2 p. m.

Dr. Corey holds Master's, Ph.D. and Doctor of Literature degrees.

The ceremonies will mark the opening of the Civil War Room at the museum in which will be displayed replica colors of the three famed Civil War regiments from Ulster County—the 20th, 120th and 156th.

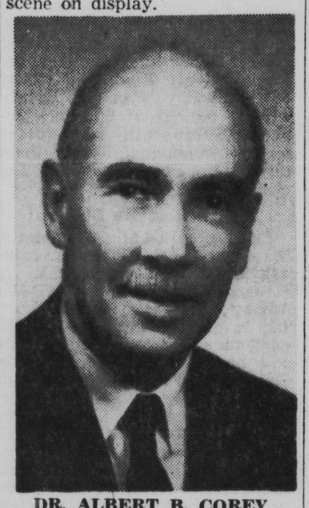

A feature of the exhibit will be a Civil War operation map made by Pfc. John J. Natoli, a member of Battery A, First Howitzer Battalion, 156th Artillery.

Natoli, who is employed by IBM, is a resident of Woodstock. He is a commercial artist.

An artillery salute of three rounds, one for each of the Civil War regiments from this County, will be fired by the 156th Artillery.

There will also be three color guards, all of the 156th which will present the regimental colors to the museum.

Honor guards will be furnished for the ceremonies by the 120th Volunteers North-South Skirmish Association, Saugerties. The association will also have a Civil War tent camp scene on display.

Newburgh-State Welfare Clash Hotter

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Officials in Newburgh prepared today to challenge in court the validity of a state subpoena summoning them to a hearing in Albany to unravel a tangled welfare situation.

As the Newburgh-state clash over welfare rules adopted by Newburgh became more intense, welfare officials across the state reviewed a new instrument that will give them power, beginning tomorrow, to require new-comers to New York to prove they did not come solely to get on relief rolls.

Supporters of the controversial law that goes into effect Saturday say it will curb welfare abuses. Others say the law will do nothing. It was passed by the 1961 Legislature and represented a compromise between Gov. Rockefeller and Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney, both Republicans.

In the Newburgh situation, the State Board of Social Welfare and the State Welfare Department resorted to a subpoena Thursday to call eight city officials to the hearing July 7.

Newburgh officials contend welfare costs have been rising rapidly and sharp tax increases may result if the rules are not implemented.

The new state welfare measure —Mahoney describes it as a residency law, while Rockefeller says it is not—provides that welfare officials may investigate if they have reason to believe a newcomer to the state who applies for relief has no intention of finding a job.

An applicant may establish that he did not come to the state solely for relief through one or more steps specified in the law.

Other laws passed by the 1961 Legislature that go into effect tomorrow include statues that:

Reduce from 45 to 40 the minimum age of persons covered by a state law probhiting job discrimination because of age.

Repeal a 15 per cent state tax on cigars, pipe tobacco and some other tobacco products. Cigarette taxes are not affected.

Warning Blasts At Crossings To Be Discussed

Complaints against warning blasts from Diesel engines at downtown crossings is to aired locally as advised by the Public Service Commission, it was revealed today.

Samuel R. Madison, PSC secretary, in response to an inquiry by Supervisor Joseph J. Turck (D) Fourth Ward, noted that operating procedures "calls for the sounding of a whistle at grade crossings whether or not protected by automatic signals," but he also reported a possible exception.

Advised to See Officials

"In some instances," he wrote, 'pursuant to special arrangement with city officials, the railroad has relaxed this rule. Accordingly, it is suggested that you take the matter up with the municipal authorities for direct discussion with the company."

Madison also advised that 'in our 1960 annual report to the governor and legislature, we noted that 45 per cent of the collisions reported in the last 10 years were at potected crossings. Automatic flashing lights are, therefore, additional protection, and this commission has at no time directed the elimination of the whistle signal at protected crossings."

Turck, who last year had requested PSC action to gain automatic signals at the crossings, said he will take the matter up with city officials and the New York Central. The railroad, after hearing last September,

U.S. May Strengthen NATO Force to Meet Red Moves on Berlin

Democratic Albany Is Under Probe on Taxes

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Republican heat was turned on high in the Democratic stronghold of Albany today, with Gov. Rockefeller leading the attack on what he called shocking inequities in tax policies and "possible conflicts of interest on the part of city and county officials."

The Republican governor continued on the offensive Thursday by asking State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, a Democrat, to examine tax records and other fiscal matters of the city and county of Albany.

The order followed other recent state actions against and criticisms of Albany, raising local Republicans' hopes in their uphill battle against Democrats who, under the leadership of Daniel O'Connel, have been in the driver's seat for nearly 40 years.

The latest move was the broadest inquiry ever sought by a governor, a spokesman for Levitt said.

Rockefeller asked Levitt to report by Sept. 15. The local election campaign will be in high gear at that time, observers pointed out.

Noting that Albany's tax policies had been criticized in 1959 by Levitt and more recently by the State Investigation Commission, Rockefeller asked Levitt to determine "whether the various, apparently illegal, practices ... have continued."

Rockefeller also asked Levitt to determine whether county officials or employes had any personal financial interest in transactions involving county property or tax sales.

The chance of overturning Democratic rule here in the near future is considered remote. Rather, Rockefeller's immediate aim reportedly is cutting down the Democratic vote in the city and county, both of which he lost in the gubernatorial election of 1958.

Recent moves by the state in the capital city have included:

The formation, over Democratic opposition, of a state commission that will study rehabilitation.

Criticism by a state official of poor enforcement of weights and measures laws.

Miscalculation Is Thing to Avoid, Rusk Says in Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States may increase its military forces in Europe to strengthen NATO defenses in preparation for a possible showdown with the Soviet Union later this year over Red threats to West Berlin.

Such a move is understood to be one of the measures being studied by Kennedy administration policy makers for dealing with the Berlin crisis.

Meet Almost Three Hours

President Kennedy met with the National Security Council for two hours and 40 minutes late Thursday to discuss steps that may be taken.

The White House kept the discussions secret, and, the news secretary, Pierre Salinger, declined even to say which officials attended.

It was not disclosed when final decisions may be made and action initiated. It is known, however, that top officials believe some redeployment of U.S. forces may be necessary because of the threat posed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev to the position of the Western powers in West Berlin.

Steps to Be Taken

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, speaking in a television interview Thursday night, said one thing which is necessary in the developing crisis is to try to avoid any "miscalculation"—by the Soviet Union—of what the Western Allies will do if and when their vital interests are threatened.

Rusk predicted that a number of steps will be taken "aimed at the avoidance of this kind of mis-

Eichmann Says He Shipped Jews, Did Nothing Else

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — Adolf Eichmann said today he was the man called in when the Nazis needed transportation to ship Jews out of Holland and Denmark to the death camps. But the former SS officer refused once more to accept any further responsibility for the mass slaughter.

Defense counsel Robert Servatius explored the Dutch and Danish ordeal under Nazi occupation with Eichmann on the stand for the ninth straight day and elicited a flood of explanations adding up to only one thing: Eichmann never conceived an order but only carried out his superiors' bidding.

Illustrative of this was Eichmann's repudiation of a document naming him as the man who "ordered" evacuation of a mental hospital in Holland so it could be turned over to SS military units.

"This could not be accurate at all," said the defendant, claiming that Arthur Seyss-Inquart, the Nazi governor of Holland, had full "legislative authority" and did not need to come to Eichmann's bureau in Berlin for such action.

"It was quite obvious they only needed a train," said Eichmann. "And that is how it was referred to my section."

He said there was a tendency to term any unit connected with affairs — a "sonderkomman— — his department IV-B-4—Jewish affairs — a "sonderkommando."

Sonderkommando, or special unit, was the name given by the Nazis to the battalions sent to the East in 1941 and 1942 to liquidate two million Jews by gunfire and in mobile gas vans.

The Danish venture failed to materialize, mostly because the Danes by an almost unanimous resistance made Denmark the one giant failure of the Third Reich's effort to liquidate the Jews.

Eichmann admitted he went to Copenhagen on orders of his immediate superior, Gen. Heinrich Mueller, but contended the plan already had been "implemented" by an SS colonel on the scene by the time he got there.

Schwenk Tax Argument Wins

City May Get $75,000 Reduction From Town

A tentative agreement for a $75,000 reduction in the assessment of City of Kingston water works pipe lines and appurtenances in the Town of Ulster has been reached in conferences between Town of Ulster officials and representatives of the Kingston Water Board.

The tentative reduction in assessment is the result of an investigation instituted several months ago by former Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwenk, who charged as a result of high assessment of water works property, school taxes in the Town of Ulster are less than they are in the City of Kingston.

Schwenk alleged that an improperly computed equalization rate for the Town of Ulster resulted in inequitable distribution of school taxes between the taxpayers of the City of Kingston and those of the Town of Ulster.

Officials Hold Meeting

Following receipt of re-appraisal of the water works property in the Town of Ulster by the State Board of Equalization and Associations, meetings were held between the town assessors and the city water board representatives.

As a result of those meetings a tentative offer to reduce the assessment by $75,000 over a three year period has been made, Donald R. Hyatt, president of the Kingston Water Board, stated today. This offer has been referred to Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly for study, he said.

Challenges Figures

In challenging the assessment on Kingston water works property in the Town of Ulster, Schwenk alleged that the State Board of Equalization and Assessments appraised the water works property in the Town of Ulster at $230,300 and since the property was assessed at $199,060, the State was saying that it was property assessed at 47.36 per cent of its 1957 market value.

The Board of Assessors of the Town of Ulster, Schwenk alleged, appraised the property at $947,000 and since it was assessed at $199,060, they said it was being assessed at approximately 21 per cent.

He also alleged that a list of city water works property used by the State Board in determining its appraisal value of the actual amount of city water works property in the town. This resulted in an inequality which he sought to have corrected.

Following a conference in Albany last December the state agreed to conduct a re-survey. That was completed and a report submitted early in June. The new re-appraisal figure was not made public by the State Board and LeRoy Crosby, chairman of the board of assessors of the Town of Ulster refused to make the figure public.

RETIRES FROM RAILROAD—Trainmaster Stephen J. Keating ends 45 years of railroading today in his office here of the River Division, New York Central System. He started as a telegrapher. A Navy veteran of World War I, he became a lieutenant colonel in WW II and earned six battle stars. For the immediate future he'll rest and do some traveling. (Freeman photo).

Keating Ends 45-Year Career As Railroader, Retires Today

The retirement today of Lt. Col. Stephen J. Keating, (U. S. A. retired,) as trainmaster of the River Division, New York Central System (West Shore Railroad,) marks the close of a railroading career of 45 years of a man born in Kingston and retiring in the city of his birth.

Steve Keating was born in Kingston, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Keating, and was educated in the local school system.

November 30, 1916 marked the beginning of Keating's career as a railroader, when he entered the employ of the New York Central System as a telegraph operator and agent on the St. Lawrence Division. He served at various stations along the division, and on June 17, 1920 he was promoted to the position of train dispatcher on the River Division, working out of Weehawken, N. J.

"In those days there was plenty of action on this West Shore Railroad," said the trainmaster.

Steve Keating was promoted to trainmaster of the River Division in October of 1939, returning to Kingston to become a permanent resident here. "I was sure happy to get back to Kingston to live," said Keating. This move made Kingston the division headquarters for the West Shore Railroad.

The railroad career of the local man was interrupted by two periods of service in the armed forces of the United States. In World War I, Keating served for two years with the Navy in the North Atlantic Submarine Patrol.

World War II brought three additional years of service, including foreign duty at Tunisia, Naples-Foggia, Apennines, Rome-Arno, and the Rhineland. Numerous ribbons and citations and six battle stars attest to his service to his country. He was a captain in the Engineers when

Purse Contains Candy 'Lures'

WomanSuspectQuizzed In Death of Youngster

Police said she fitted a slightly revised description pieced together from questioning 14 persons who said they had seen the slender, dark-haired woman who lured Andy to Delaware Park a week ago today and previously bound and gagged two other young children.

Description Revised

Many women of similar description had been questioned and released, but the woman held today was the first under the revised description compiled at a meeting of the 14 persons. The revised description made the woman younger than the mid-30s previously assumed but still with a smooth skin and high cheekbones.

Police withheld the name of the woman picked up today but said she lived in Silver Lake, east of here, and was found hitchhiking in the Buffalo suburb of Amherst. She was drunk, police said.

Visited in Area

They said the attractive woman had relatives in the Parkside section of Buffalo, where Andy lived, and visited them Thursday night after a fight with a boy friend in a tavern.

Her purse contained several pieces of hard candy—one of the lures used by the killer. She said she carried the candy because she was a diabetic.

The body of blond, blue-eyed Andy was found last Sunday in Delaware Park Lake, with his hands and feet tied with a woman's stocking and a towel around his neck. He had been drowned.

Two five-year-olds previously bound and gagged by a woman and left beside a railroad track were among witnesses who helped to provide a description. Those two were not harmed.

U. S. May

calculation." He did not make any reference to military measures but said there would be "points of clarification, of purpose and procedure and issue."

The range of possible steps under consideration by the President and his chief advisers, including Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, is known to include military measures.

Cheered by DeGaulle Move

The United States is understood to have been urging its NATO allies to increase their own military strength in Europe so that if a showdown with the Soviet Union develops and a conflict threatens it may be dealt with, at least at the very outset, by nonnuclear means. Kennedy administration officials were cheered by the recent decision of French President Charles de Gaulle to shift a division of French troops from Algeria back to France.

The United States itself has five divisions in Europe out of its total of 14 now in active service. Altogether, U.S. troop strength in Europe totals 250,000 men, but this includes a large number of service and supply troops.

Rusk stressed in his discussion of the Berlin situation Thursday night that the United States intends "to explore every possibility of working out a tolerable peace that is consistent with the vital interests of our country." He said it is important to avoid running into a "dead end" in dealing with the Soviet Union on the Berlin dispute.

There is no doubt, Rusk said, that there will be discussions between the Western powers and the Soviet Union about Berlin, though he would not predict what form negotiations for a settlement might take. That will be determined in the course of discussion, he indicated.

Khrushchev has proposed to make West Berlin what he calls a "free city" with the withdrawal of U.S., British and French forces and the establishment of some kind of international guarantee. The Western powers have rejected this proposal repeatedly on the ground it would lead to domination of West Berlin by Communist East Germany.

In recent weeks Khrushchev has threatened to sign a peace treaty with East Germany by the end of this year. He claims this would wipe out the rights of the Western powers with respect to Berlin, including access to the city across East German territory.

Notes Obligations

"We have obligations to ourselves and to the people of West Berlin," Rusk said in a transcribed discussion (CBS—At The Source), "and we do not accept the notion that those rights can be terminated, or that the security of the people of that city can be endangered by the unilateral action taken by someone else."

As to how the crisis will develop, Rusk thought that Khrushchev might try to whittle down the rights of the Western powers in slow stages instead of presenting them with an open challenge as dramatic as a forcible interruption of their land or air traffic between West Germany and Berlin.

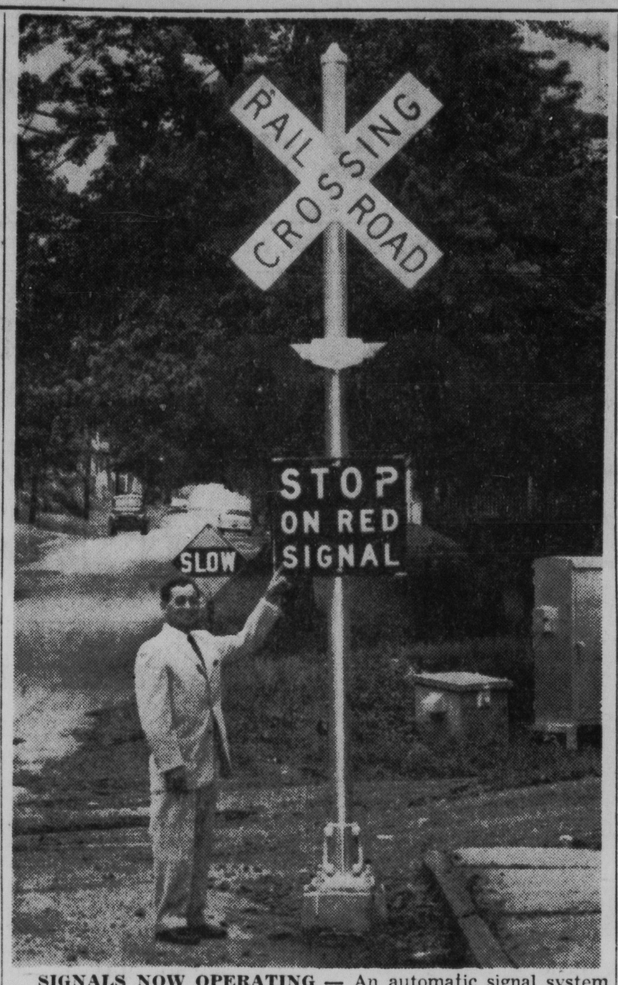

Consultations are now going on intensively between the United States, Britain, France and West Germany and between them and the other members of the 15-nation North Atlantic alliance on preparatory measures which should be taken in the next few months.

The East Germans issued a decree Wednesday that after Aug. 1 airplanes flying across its territory must register with East German authorities. The decree did not specifically mention planes using the air corridors to Berlin, but U.S. officials thought the Reds might later seek to interpret it to apply to corridor flights.

The State Department bluntly denied the right of the East German regime to impose any regulations on allied air traffic using the corridors.

Railroad Retirement

A representative of the Railroad Retirement Board will be at the Main Post Office, 496 Broadway, Room 3 on Wednesday, July 12 for interviews from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. At that time he will assist the railroad workers, his wife, widow or survivors in retirement and survivors problems and will answer any inquiries in connection with railroad retirement and Unemployment Insurance Acts.

Commissioner Estimates 30 To Lose Lives

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) —Thirty motorists will die on New York highways over the four-day, Fourth of July holiday beginning tonight, the state motor vehicle commissioner believes.

Commissioner William S. Hults said yesterday he based the estimate on the holiday toll of previous years.

Figures tabulated by The Associated Press also foreshadow that drownings and boating accidents may claim as many lives as traffic accidents.

An Associated Press check in the state from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Tuesday two weeks ago showed that 11 persons died on highways, 6 were drowned, 1 was killed in a boating accident and 10 perished in other types of accidents.

Her first trip to Rondout was made on October 12, 1861. Her last trip was made on September 5, 1917. For over 50 years the Mary Powell plied the waters of the Hudson River and, because of her Rondout to New York route, was regarded with great affection by the residents of Kingston and vicinity.

Tickets for the July 18th excursion are now on sale. They may be obtained from Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce office in the Governor Clinton Hotel; Potter Brothers, 294 Fair Street; Epstein's News Store, Broadway, Rondout; Esopus Town Hall; Charlie's Texaco Station and Town and Country, Port Ewen; Withall's Store, Rifton; Beaver's Filling Station, Esopus, Ricketson's News Store, Saugerties, and at the News Shop in Woodstock.

Against Night Blasts

In his recent letter to the PSC Turck reported complaints from residents of the ward against the warning blasts especially at night.

Madison, in his reply, cited a provision of the penal law, which could result in a misdemeanor charge against an engineer for not sounding a whistle or horn or causing one to be sounded.

Pleads to Lesser Charge, Pays $25

David MacFarland, 43, of Esopus, who was arrested June 5 on a charge of driving while intoxicated, today pleaded guilty to the lesser charge of reckless driving and was fined $25 by City Judge Aaron E. Klein.

The arrest followed an accident at TenBroeck and Albany Avenues. Attorney Richard W. Griggs appeared for MacFarland, and Francis J. Vogt for the district attorney's office.

Four men, booked on vagrancy charges, were released and told to get out of the city. Three of them, Roman Andino, 21, Reyes Cotto, 27, and Angel Perez Rivera, 18, said they had no homes. A police report at 1:55 a. m., said they had arrived here by bus from Lancaster, Pa., and were picked up by Officer Thomas Kearney at Broadway and Cedar Street. The other, Lucien Tardiff, of Albany, who was said to have been loitering near the Clark Lumber Company, 480 Washington Avenue, was arrested by Officer Robert Bonesteel.

President Signs Benefits Bill, May Quit at 62

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today signed "with great pleasure" legislation increasing Social Security benefits for about 4.42 million Americans and permitting them to draw their benefits at the age of 62.

In signing the bill, Kennedy said the new amendments will make the Social Security System "a more effective instrument for the well-being of our people."

Only seven members of Congress, members of the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee, showed up for the ceremony.

"You must be the only members of Congress left in Washington," Kennedy remarked, alluding to the Fourth of July holiday that has all but shut the Capitol down.

The bill cleared both the House and Senate Thursday with little debate after Senate-House conferees had resolved differences in the various bills passed earlier by both chambers.

Beginning Jan. 1, 4.42 million Americans would draw larger Social Security benefits. Men would be permitted to draw them at 62, instead of waiting until they reach 65. Women already may do so.

If a man chooses to retire at 62 he'll receive for the rest of his life 80 per cent of the benefits he would get if he waited until 65. If he retires sometime between 62 and 65 he will receive a pension proportionately larger than 80 per cent.

The new program is expected to cost $825 million in its first year. This is to be met by an increase in the payroll tax. Both employer and employe will have to pay one-eighth of 1 per cent more on the first $4,800 of the employe's annual income. The self-employed will have to increase their Social Security tax by one-fifth of 1 per cent.

Pagens Are Cited For Child Rescue

John Pagen, 28, and his brother, Jerry, 19, who now live in Wappingers Falls, were in Poughkeepsie June 7 looking for the home of a friend, when they saw Pamela Summers hanging by her neck from a clothesline at 18 Allen Place.

They cut her down, applied artificial respiration, and comforted her until she was taken to Vassar Hospital by her father, Julian Summers.

At a meeting this week, the Poughkeepsie Legion post presented the Pagens with medals and scrolls for rescuing the child. They are brothers of William Pagen of 60 Gilead Street, this city.

Bear Takes Stroll Into Golden Hill Sector Thursday

A bear, said to have been on a prowl about town last night, was last seen going that way—westward over Golden Hill.

A police report shortly after midnight said Thomas Richter, of 200 Boulevard, walking in the yard at the rear of his home, saw a dark animal, which he though at first was a large dog.

At it moved, however, he saw it was a black bear, and it was headed in the direction of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital.

Officers George Barringer and Frank Monte were dispatched to the area, but bruin had apparently headed for the woods.

Fulbright Cautions Against Unilateral Armed Intervention

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., has cautioned the United States against the "dangerous doctrine" of unilateral military intervention anywhere to prevent the spread of communism.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is an important Senate voice on foreign affairs. His address to the Senate Thursday was considered a major foreign policy speech.

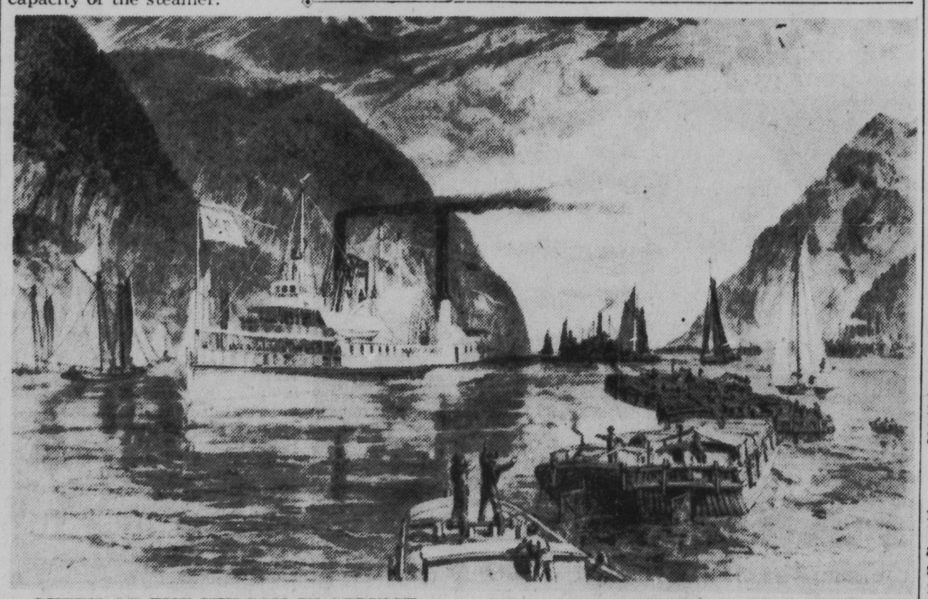

"Nothing would please Communist leaders more," Fulbright said, "than to draw the United States into costly commitments of its resources to peripheral struggles in which the principal Communist powers are not themselves directly involved."

Fulbright concentrated mostly on Cuba. He studiously avoided discussion of the Berlin crisis after remarking that it is "at this moment under the most serious study by this government and our European allies." He evidently put Berlin in a different category.

For the United States to try to overthrow the pro-Communist Castro regime in Cuba by use of its own forces, Fulbright said, might alienate "most of Latin America, Asia and Africa."

He referred specifically, too, to the Southeast Asian kingdom of Laos in striking at suggestions that the United States "should not hesitate to commite its strength to the active defense of its policies" anywhere outside the Communist empire.

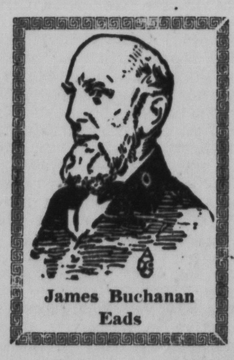

The United States, Fulbright said, "cannot guarantee the border of a neutral country against infiltration, or its villages from subversion."

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Business was prosperous during the Civil War due largely to inflation, and started to boom directly afterward. The shooting of President Lincoln, however, caused stocks to tumble and a year of depressed business followed.

Unexpected Events

Again business began to boom with further inflation until the famous "Black Friday" in 1869, followed by another year of depressed business. Stocks quickly rebounded, and again investors were looking forward to several years of prosperity when, in late 1871, the Chicago Fire occurred. This was followed by the great Boston Fire in 1872.

The market had just about again recovered when the failure of the great banking house of Jay Cooke and Company was suddenly announced. For the first time, the leading Stock Exchanges closed for several weeks. There followed the great depression beginning in 1873; then higher stock prices finally returned as a result of another dose of inflation.

Important Banking Failures

Suddenly, on July 2, 1881, President Garfield was shot. A chain reaction of selling followed. During this period, the banking house of Grant and Ward, and the two leading "bulls", Henry Villard and James R. Keene, announced their failures. Depression followed.

1892 was a year of great prosperity; but suddenly the failure of the National Cordage Company was announced in May 1893. This was then one of the ten biggest "blue chip" corporations.

The following year the Pullman Strike — first serious labor strike — occurred and cast fear and gloom over the stock market. This was accompanied by a series of crop failures and mortgage foreclosures.

Again in 1897 business steadily improved and permanent prosperity was prophesied, accompanied by stock splits, mergers, and large security offerings. Suddenly, in 1903, there came rumors of great quantities of "undigested" securities . . . accompanied by the investigation of large life insurance and traction companies. The crash came just following the San Francisco Earthquake.

Up to this time the Supreme Court had decided questions only between the States. Suddenly, in the early 1900's, it issued its "Northern Securities" decision. This took the zip out of the stock market until the first World War began. After the closing of the New York Stock Exchange for several months, there followed some years of prosperity.

Then came the sinking of the S. S. Lusitania and our entrance into World War I. All went well with the economy until after the war when soaring interest rates and commodity prices brought on another collapse. This was quickly corrected and the stock market continued to advance until it reached an all-time high in 1929.

Speculation and the Crash of 1929

Then came the business collapse in Europe with the continued withdrawal of gold, climaxed by the very sudden failure of the Austrian Credit-Anstalt. This caused startling repercussions throughout the world. There followed several years of real depression.

Beginning in 1938 there was another recovery in business lasting throughout World War II, but this did not help the stock market much until 1942. With the exception of several relatively brief adjustment periods, our country has enjoyed good business for about 23 years.

The preceding one hundred years teach two lessons:

(1) That there has always been an economic race between inflation and production. These inflations were of different kinds—stock market, commodity, political; but they always gave business a "shot in the arm." Fortunately, increased production absorbed this . . . the great era of railroad building; opening of the South and West to farming; and finally increased commodity production due to inventions and advertising, accompanied by the electrical, chemical, and automobile eras.

(2) That when each prosperity period came to an end, it was from an unexpected event—a great fire, an earthquake, or the failure of some banking house or large corporation. In wartime, inflation always has been resorted to. We expect it will occur again to provide funds for the "cold war." This should mean higher prices for stocks, commodities, and real estate. Yet the period of inflation we are now entering may be obsorbed by the "space era," which is an unexpected event on the optimistic side.

Marbletown Group Offers 6 Awards for July 4 Floats

Independence Day events with a parade and six awards for the best floats and marching units are planned for Tuesday's observance sponsored by Marbletown Community Project in Stone Ridge.

The parade will assemble at Factory Street and Route 209 at Stone Ridge 12:30 p. m. Starting time is 1 p. m.

Parade awards will be judged on the following basis:

Most patriotic; most original; largest marching unit; best oppearing fire equipment and men; two awards for two best appearing antique autos and occupants, and best and second best groomed horse and rider.

Edward T. Green, supervising principal of Rondout Valley School District will be the principal speaker at the Independence Day ceremonies.

The parade will proceed from Factory Street and Route 209, Stone Ridge to the town plaza and return to the bank building. Chairman Kenneth E. Osterhoudt announced that to date 30 organizations have made known their intentions to parade, and two musical marching units have been signed to lead the marchers. Others are expected to be signed.

Chairman Osterhoudt is deeply concerned about the finances for the observance. To date only 85 of the 1,250 letters of solicitations seeking funds for the event, have been returned. He said the committee must meet expenses and he hopes the public will respond generously in the final days before July 4.

Highlights of TV Slate Next Week

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP-TV Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There comes a season in the television year—and this is it, viewers—when the best program you can see is usually one you have seen before. But there is also some fresh material available, if you look hard.

"Person to Person," on CBS tonight (10:30-11 EDT), is new. Host Charles Collingwood will go a-calling on comedienne Carol Burnett and her teen-age sister.

Highlight of Saturday has to be ABC's "Fight of the Week"—just about everything else on the schedule is a repeat. National Boxing Association light heavyweight champion Harold Johnson will move into the heavyweight division for a 10-round bout with Eddie Machen in Atlantic City.

Gen. Thomas D. White, retiring Air Force chief of staff, will be the guest of "Meet the Press" on Sunday (NBC, 6-6:30). Ed Sullivan's guests (CBS, 8-9) include Louis Armstrong, Teresa Brewer and comics Rowan and Martin.

"Mystery Theatre" — repeat of programs which first ran in the same spot last summer—will move into NBC's 9-10 p.m. spot.

Re-runs of "The Ann Sothern Show" on CBS Monday 9:30-10 p.m.). On Tuesday (9:30-11 p.m.) CBS begins a weekly series of repeats of "Playhouse 90" dramas.

Wednesday night's "Mystery Theatre" on NBC will be "Breakout," an English-made whodunit with Lee ("Surfside Six") Patterson and Hazel Court.

TV's only new, live dramatic show will premiere Thursday: CBS's "Great Ghost Tales" (9:30-10 p.m.), with an adaptation of an Edgar Allen Poe story. It will be followed by a repeat of the Yul Brynner Special, "Rescue" (10-11).

IF YOU WOULD DRIVE CAREFULLY

Demand for stricter enforcement of speed limits is a natural reaction to the threat of highway insanity that we face during the coming holiday weekend, but it is in no sense the full solution to the problem of death by automobile. In fact, it is only a small part of the answer.

The appalling number of highway accidents continue to mount with each holiday. During the recent Memorial Day holidays, 483 persons died. Estimates that as many as 583 will die — all needlessly — have been made for the July Fourth holiday period.

The snap reaction to such facts and forecasts is to lament the ill luck of innocent vacationers and assign blame to habitually irresponsible motorists. Liberty Mutual Insurance, which has studied the vagaries of highway safety, has isolated two sets of figures that discredit these beliefs. One is that eight out of ten traffic accidents occur within 25 miles of the drivers' homes. The second is that eight out of every ten drivers involved in accidents are normally "good" drivers.

It would seem from these statistics that the main problem is you.

Your acceptance of familiar streets and highways as safe; your view that social drinking is acceptable prior to driving; your feeling that your superior skill justifies an occasional calculated risk, your belief that accidents will happen only to the other driver.

These are the friendly, comforting bromides that sooner or later will betray you.

OUNCE OF PREVENTION

The old aphorism about an ounce of prevention being equivalent to a pound of cure tolds true in medical care. This has been underscored again by a report, in Science Service, on the toll of failure to consult a doctor soon enough.

It is estimated that 40,000 Americans die annually from preventable cancer, 20,000 from preventable rehumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease. The report goes on to other fields; a million and a half cases of eye trouble that could lead to blindness, 60,000 cases of tuberculosis, and so on.

The point is not obscure, not difficult to understand. Medical science has made enormous progress in the early disagnosis and control of disease during the past couple of decades, but none of this knowledge can be brought to bear until the patient appears. He has to take the first step toward that ounce of preventive care.

THE ULTIMATE WEAPON

The United States is progressing in the development of camera satellites that will make all existing surveillance techniques obsolete. Meanwhile the Reds are reportedly experimenting with a "death ray" weapon which could overshadow even the hydrogen bomb as a killer.

Other strange and wonderful advances in military technology are probably going on behind the scenes. We seem to be approaching some sort of a limit. Soon the only thing left to discover will be something to eradicate man's ambition to destroy himself. That would really bring the millenium.

RESERVE STRENGTH

The stock market must soon absorb about 300 million dollars worth of Ford Motor Co. and Gulf Oil Corp. stock which will be offered to investors by the Ford Foundation and the Mellon interests. Happily for the managers of these operations, the market at present has a good measure of reserve strength.

This strength arises from indications that stock prices, though presently at record levels, will go even highe before the end of summer. Industrial production made a sharp advance in May and, with a little more effort, could reach the levels prevailing before the start of our late unlamented recession.

Other factors undergirding market optimism include a renaissance in heavy construction and the fact that purchasing agents report encouraging developments in various fields. The only real blot is the continuing high rate of unemployment. This incongruity presents a problem which will tax our best minds before it is solved.

NEW YORK POLITICS

New York City politics often affects the fortunes of the parties nationally. The present tumult in the Democratic Party is aimed at destroying the prospects of Governor Nelson Rockefeller as a candidate for the Presidency. It is a political battle waged by amateurs who do not grasp the peculiar composition of New York's population.

The basic fault in New York City politics is that a large part of the population has very little interest in what happens here. Thus, the Democrats have generally been elected to municipal office. If one excludes Fiorello La Guardia who was a man of many parties as he was a man of many languages and many personalities, no Republican has been elected Mayor since 1914 and before that none since 1902. The Democrats must be in very bad shape; their conduct must be so outrageous as to evoke great civic anger before they are defeated.

Men are not elected to the office of Mayor because they are able. They are usually elected because of personal popularity, or because they have made a combination of groups, or because they belong to an important ethnological element. The parties portion out offices on strictly ethnological lines: each ticket must have an Irish Catholic, a Jew, an Italian and a Negro. Otherwise the party is regarded as discriminating and will be opposed by those who get excited about discrimination. This is the way things stand and nobody can make a change.

Mayor Robert Wagner, the incumbent, who has served two terms and who has generally been regarded as an unbeatable candidate, has managed to get himself into a quarrel with the powerful Democratic leaders who are minded to repudiate him now that he has rejected them. This is partly due to the political activities of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and former Senator Herbert Lehman and possibly the Kennedys who want to control New York City so that they might more successfully defeat Governor Nelson Rockefeller in 1962.

A peculiarity in this situation is the Liberal Party. This Party is made up of labor union personalities and certain intellectuals. It broke off from the American Labor Party which President Roosevelt had organized to make it possible for Fiorello La Guardia to pass from the Republican Party to the New Deal. The Liberal Party is Fabian Socialistic, anti-Communist but also not in favor of the social or economic status quo. It polls between 300,000 and 400,000 votes and therefore cannot be ignored in a mayoralty election. Congressman Charles Buckley, the Democratic leader of the Bronx, and a powerful figure in Democratic politics, was the first leader to object to the Liberal Party. Bronx candidates are supposed not to accept Liberal Party endorsements.

Whereas Carmine de Sapio, the Democratic National Committeeman was very slow in coming to the support of John Kennedy at the Democratic Convention, his choice being Senator Stuart Symington which turned out to be an error of judgement. Charles Buckley was the first supporter of Kennedy in the New York area and therefore has expected that he would be consulted by the Kennedy Administration concerning New York affairs.

Whether the Democrats can survive this schism is indeed doubtful. The Republicans have nominated Attorney-General Louis J. Lefkowitz as Mayor. Lefkowitz is a popular personality and has the warm support of Governor Nelson Rockefeller which could mean that the usually poverty-stricken Republican Party might have a sizeable campaign fund.

A week or so ago, one felt that the Democrats would forget their quarrel and would kiss and make up. At this moment it looks as though powerful forces in the Democratic Party in New York City are ready to throw the election. They could do this by running a third party, anti-Wagner, anti-Reform and put it all together, anti-Kennedy.

If Lefkowitz should be elected Mayor, the Democratic organization would be left entirely without patronage, getting none from Washington or Albany or City Hall. The Democratic Party in New York City lives on patronage. It has done very well over the past 30 years. The Republicans, on the other hand, have enjoyed little patronage and are accustomed to political poverty. Should the Democrats be defeated in New York City in 1961, they could easily lose New York in 1962 and thus Nelson Rockefeller would be the Republican candidate for President in 1964.

Massage Will Not Help Shrink Prostate Gland

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—You recently wrote that prostate massage will not cause an enlarged gland to shrink in size. For the past six months, I have been having massage to prevent prostate enlargement. Will this be effective? And, if not, what can I do to prevent later enlargement? I am 70 years old and I fear operation.

A—Prostatic massage will neither prevent prostatic enlargement nor cause the enlarged gland to shrink. In fact, I know of no useful purpose that's accomplished by prostatic massage. None of us would serious consider an attempt to prevent or correct enlargement of the nose or ears by a course of rubbings, however vigorously administered.

Unfortunately, too, there is no available treatment measures that will effectively and consistently influence the size of the prostate.

When bladder emptying becomes impaired by prostatic enlargement, there is no alternative to surgery. Carried out by a skilled surgeon under proper auspices, operative risks and discomforts have been greatly reduced despite the advanced age of most patients.

Q—Some time ago you wrote about a summer camp for children with epilepsy. Is this camp still running and how do I find out about it?

A—The annual summer camp opens July 1 at the National Children's Rehabilitation Center near Leesburg, Va. For detailed information write the director, Dr. Charles Kram, at the center. Children between the ages of 7 and 15 are eligible for admission without regard to religion, race, color or creed.

Q—Is it true that most childhood deaths between the ages of 1 and 4 are the results of accidents?

A—Not exactly. But the largest single cause for death at these tender ages is the accident. And a splendid community effort to prevent these fatal accidents would include a showing of a color motion film called "Safe at Home." It is available to community organizations without charge. It can be obtained through the American Academy of Pediatrics at Evanston, Ill.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—The 15-member presidential commission to study the long-standing railroad management and the five operating brotherhoods—engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen and switchmen—has now shifted to hearing labor's side of the case after four months of hearing employers.

It will take till mid-October for the rail unions to present their own case and rebut management arguments. It will take until the end of the year for the study group to make its report.

FORMER SECRETARY OF labor James P. Mitchell started out as chairman of the commission. When he resigned in March to run for governor in New Jersey, President Kennedy named former Federal Judge Simon H. Rifkind as chairman. If he can persuade—browbeat, cajole, kid or horsewhip the other 14 members into any kind of agreement—it will be a major miracle.

The five management members will probably vote one way. The five labor members will vote the other. The five public members—two professional labor arbitrators, two college professors and Judge Rifkind — are likely to split.

Whatever report the commission files after its year's work will then be submitted to rail management and labor for collective bargaining. If that means the dispute goes on as it has for the last 50 years, that's the way free collective bargaining works in a democracy.

THE ORIGINAL IDEA was that the Presidential Study Commission would be just that. It would study facts which have long been known and try to bring in an independent solution.

But when the railroads brought in their heavy legal counsel for extended hearings and the brotherhoods felt obligated to reply in kind, study was doomed.

MANAGEMENT, in the hearings so far, has proposed six major changes in work rules:

Permit longer runs on faster trains for one day's pay.

Eliminate rules which require crew changes at existing crew change points.

Let management decide when to eliminate firemen on diesel locomotives.

Allow management to determine the number of crew members required.

End rules requiring idle standby operating employes.

SPOKESMEN for the operating brotherhoods make five counter-proposals for modernizing railway labor conditions:

Pay night crews more than day crews.

Provide for paid holidays.

Pay overtime for crewmen who work a seven-day week.

And they oppose paying the average $20 a day for 100-mile runs if runs are extended to 150 or 160 miles on faster trains.

Rail management accuses its labor of hanging on to "featherbed" practices. Rail labor replies that its productivity has increased more and that the labor costs on railroads have increased less than in other U. S. industries. Labor charges that half its 200,000 layoffs are due to rail automation.

Listen to New York Central President Alfred E. Perlman and he will tell you that private ownership of railroads is in jeopardy unless the companies get freedom to merge their lines and offer integrated services of all kinds, giving the shippers the kinds of transportation best suiting their needs.

This is the carriers' "Magna Carta" program to liberalize U. S. transportation policy. Legislation to make it possible is now pending before Congress.

Listen to Eli Oliver, economist for the unions, and he will tell you that the healthy, growing railroad industry is not sick, but is giving the impression its financial position is desperate so it can get more government aid. Oliver maintains the companies' publicity is giving many people the impression that the eventual outcome will be government ownership.

BOTH RAIL MANAGEMENT AND RAIL LABOR say they are opposed to government ownership, but this is about the only thing they do agree on. Oh, yes. They both oppose Jimmy Hoffa and his Teamsters' union efforts to block "piggyback" hauling of truck trailers by rail.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

June 30, 1941—Upstate members of the Dairy Farmers' Union planned a "milk holiday" to gain a uniform price of $3 a hundredweight for milk.

A state report placed the death toll at 16 from heat and 23 from accidents in two days.

Actor Edward G. Robinson, who appeared in plays during Woodstock's early summer theatre days, pledged $100,000 to the United Service Organization.

June 30, 1951—A pay boost petition with 4,000 signatures was filed with the city clerk by local police and firemen.

Officer Joseph T. Fallon, 51, a member of the local police force 23 years, died suddenly, June 29 at his Lucas Avenue home.

Solomon Ellsworth , 47, of Apple Street, died suddenly.

The Board of Elections office, John Street, reported central registration for absentee voters, now under way, would continue to Sept. 19.

Will JFK Continue to Delay While Soviets Test Away?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, June 29—It is amazing how confusing and inadequate some of the information can be that is given out in a Presidential press conference. All that the newspaper dispatches thus far have really told the American people is that President Kennedy has asked a special panel of scientists to find out for him whether the Russians can carry on underground testing of nuclear weapons without our knowledge.

But the truth is that the President's announcement is just a maneuver designed to allay for a while the clamor for a resumption of testing. Indeed, the United States government knows, and has known for more than two years, that tests can be conducted underground without detection. Even aboveground tests are never announced by the Soviets unless they have been detected by other countries.

The real question today is what the President is going to do about it, and whether he will authorize a resumption at least of underground tests, as has been demanded in recent months by public opinion and reflected by speeches by the members of both parties in Congress.

Mr. Kennedy's action, however, means more delay and more proscrastination. He is unwittingly giving an advantage to the Soviets, who want more talk and more time consumed while they keep the United States from doing any testing as they continue to carry on their clandestine experiments.

Silent About A. E. C.

Another factor causing a raising of eyebrows is that the Atomic Energy Commission, which is supposed to be the center of the whole nuclear-research problem, isn't mentioned by the President as having any voice in the decisions he is about to make. He has called in outside scientists—including presumably some of the men who mistakenly place faith in Soviet assurances that they will refrain from testing.

The record of what happened under the Eisenhower Administration and the conditions under which it agreed to a voluntary suspension of testing of all kinds — above and below the ground—has perhaps not been studied carefully by President Kennedy. For there seems no other way to explain his latest statement announcing the plan to set up a special panel of scientists to take a look "at the serious questions" involved. Here are the "questions in particular" which Mr. Kennedy is asking the panel to answer:

"First, what is the extent of our information on whether the Soviet Union has been or could be engaged in secret testing of nuclear weapons?

"Second, to the extent that certain types of tests can be concealed by the Soviet Union, what technical progress in weapons could be under way in that area without our knowledge?"

Answer to a Question

The President says the answers will be reviewed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the National Security Council, but significantly he omits reference to advice from the Atomic Energy Commission.

Mr. Kennedy, in answering a reporter's question, conceded that the United States has no information on the subject of whether the Soviets have been testing and says what he really wants to know is "if it is possible that they could be testing without our knowing and what the chances are that that might be true."

But the answer to that question already has been furnished to Congress. A Senate document of hearings on April 16 and 17 1958, at which scientists testified, tells us that there had been one underground shot by the United States and that it occurred in Nevada. A seismic station in Alaska, which had been notified in advance of the exact time to expect it, picked up the signal of the blast.

The tape recording of that explosion shows that the "wiggles" were smaller than for some earthquakes and other disturbances, and that it would be impossible to differentiate as between underground-nuclear-test marks shown on the recording and those made by an earthquake or other disturbance, such as the winds against the cliffs in the Aleutian Islands. There is an average of 200 earthquakes a year in the Soviet Union which make the same marking on a seismic tape as do large-scale explosions.

As a matter of fact, six months after the negotiations on the test ban began at Geneva, American experts had to admit to the Soviets that we had been wrong in our previous assumption that underground tests are detectable and could not be concealed.

Already One Mistake

Will some of these same experts now be asked to decide the all-important question involving judgment rather than technical matters?

The United States already has made one mistake in voluntarily agreeing to a suspension of testing on the assumption that the Soviets would do likewise and that they could be checked upon to determine if there was any cheating. In fact, the current negotiations were started entirely in that belief. Now the United States knows that underground tests can be concealed by any nation intent on doing so. But the President still is reluctant to resume testing. This is exactly what the Soviets want America to do—to maintain the test ban indefinitely while they go ahead to perfect weapons of greater and greater power such as the so-called neutron bomb.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

NEW YORK—On my travels in the South of late I read in some of the northern papers that the Ku Klux Klan was batting people around in riots fomented by interlopers from New York and Chicago. One picture showed a white man with a nosebleed and a dramatic smear of gore on his wrist, his collar and the front of his white shirt. This is a common picket line sight of course. But it was a terrible slaughter, a massacre, almost a pogrom in these surroundings and there was circumstantial text to the effect that fiends in human form had used ball bats and iron pipes on cut-rate Gandhis, most of them white men. I will bet you that if a .220 hitter in the Little League should clip any normal man with an official junior bat that man wouldn't even twich, still less get up, but let us proceed...

In the 'twenties when Charlie Sweeney, an Irish Catholic reporter for the World under the great Herbie Swope, exposed the Klan in Atlanta, Macon and Augusta, and little Sidney Whipple was yapping defiance in the Denver Express, I barnstormed the country all I could and often denounced the Klan fearlessly. Herbie Swope got practically all the credit for all that, but his role reminded me of a story of Charles H. Chapin, the tyrant city editor of the old Evening World Somewhat before Herbie Swope's time, who was said to have bellowed to a reporter on the phone, "Threw you downstairs, did he? Well, you go back and tell that swine he can't intimidate the New York Evening World."

I never was much afraid of the KKK even in Kissimmee, which in those days was one of the toughest dirt road towns in the country but without the renown of Cripple Creek or Cicero. In Kissimmee, whiskery specimens of swamp life would crawl out of the primeval clime at dusk and quietly yank some neighbor out of his home and paddle back into the Everglades and either string him up for buzzard bait or weight him down with old iron to nourish the alligators and a special brand of snapping turtles which can snap a crowbar in half with one clamp.

I always heard that this was the doing of the KKK although there never were any convictions and it may have been a case of false witness. It is very dangerous to hazard a doubt of the perfidious nature of the Klan even though indictments were rare and convictions more so. Years later, in France, the Communists would knife a German soldier on a quiet street in the dead of night and ten members of the resistance would be picked up at random in a process like the fearsome military punishment called decimation and put to death by German firing squads to throw the fear of God into the population. Then the Communists would kill another German soldier and so forth and so forth.

Now in these recent fracases down south there was no evidence, to say nothing of proof, that the KKK let any blood or even made a typical CIO phone call in the dead of night to terrorize any innocent victim. Nevertheless, the Ku Klux Klan was presumed to have resorted to awful wickedness and so I began to study the cards in my hand.

And now I would ask our Attorney General, "Bobby Kennedy, how come you so angrily deplore brutality, bloodshed and denial of civil rights by a suspect vaguely called the KKK but never have raised your voice against the mobs of the United Auto Workers, the several sailors' unions, the steel workers and a hundred other terroristic bunds of your own personal political constituency and your august brother Jack's? Bobby, what has the KKK done, even assuming that it did paste a few people in the snoot who went down south, looking for trouble, that these unions of your political adherence have not done to the nth power?"

I think that puts the questions neatly but I would like also to lay it down that as far as the evidence goes, the KKK is innocent in all this noisy mischief down south whereas many of the unions of the Democratic political organization are actually organized gangs of thugs fairly comparable to Hitler's brown shirts. None of these thugs has the slightest respect for the constitutional rights and "civil liberties" which the administration pretends to cherish when "freedom" rioters are slapped around, and the very spirit of all this is a denial of the right to vote in union matters, the right to fair and speedy trials on fake charges before kangaroo courts, the right to work at lawful toil and the right to receive, in full, pay which they have earned.

I have never heard a charge against the KKK in all the years from the 20's which has not been generally made against the AFL-CIO and their components. And all such crimes are justified on the ground that these monsters with blood on their hands, in claiming to act for workers with no power to repudiate them, had thus ennobled their crimes.

Blames Producers

NEW YORK (AP)—The main problem in the theater today is producers, says Producer Carmen Capalbo. The "weakness and complacency of most of them," he feels, is responsible for lack of imaginative and experimental entertainment. Show business is so complex now, Capalbo concedes, that producers "have to be responsible to a lot of other interests besides the public and critics." But it is timidity that gets him. "Producers in general create an image of a mass of jelly with a cigar stuck in the middle," he asserts.

Rusk Brandishes Words, Not Sabres Over Berlin

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Those in search of peace of mind but disturbed by the Russian ruckus on Berlin should try to stay calm in the next few months unless there is an actual crisis.

This seemed to be the message from Secretary of State Dean Rusk Thursday night.

In a TV interview he discussed dealing with the Russians now when they have tizzied the West with their renewed demands—about 2½ years old—that Berlin be turned into a "free city" and that the Allies get their troops out of it.

Firm on Determination

Ever since taking office Rusk has run his job like a man who had an understanding with President Kennedy that the secretary would play it cool and quiet while the President made the big pronouncements and furnished any fire needed.

Rusk was cool Thursday night, speaking very firmly on the Allies' determination not to be pushed out of Berlin. But he spoke very vaguely on just how the Allies were going to avoid being pushed.

Kennedy was just as vague on this point at his news conference Wednesday. In fairness to both men they may feel it much too soon to get down to specifics for fear of sounding belligerent.

But Rusk did reveal the kind of thinking which has become an international way of life in situations which may be extremely serious but are not in actual crisis.

It's this: Let's talk. This explains the fantastic number of international conferences by foreign ministers and representatives since World War II on subjects ranging from Berlin to nuclear tests and disarmament.

Just Like 1959

Rusk suggested that the Allies would discuss the Berlin problem among themselves—just as they did in 1959, after Premier Khrushchev first raised it—and then would discuss it with the Russians, just as they did in 1959.

Berlin was a long drawn-out business before and promises to be again unless this time the Russians are determined on less talk and more action.

Since it's been 2½ years that Khrushchev first upset the Western calm on Berlin, Rusk was asked if in the intervening time where to draw the line on the American planners had figured where to draw the line on the Russians.

Rusk wouldn't even go into that. He said Kennedy had dwelt on that Wednesday. But Kennedy gave the impression that this country's ideas are still far from fully formed on what action or actions it should take.

In the days and weeks ahead, Kennedy said, he will be considering a "whole variety of measures which might be taken."

But Thursday an Associated Press reporter at the Pentagon wrote that—so far as the Defense Department is concerned—there ar several plans, constantly being updated, for dealing with any Berlin showdown.

Prefers Confabs

But now, as in 1959 under President Eisenhower's administration, Kennedy and Rusk are avoiding sabre-rattling, preferring to get together with the Russians for a confab.

In 1959 the storm Khrushchev raised over Berlin—setting then as now a six-month deadline for a settlement—didn't get any closer to a crisis than a conference between the Russian and Western foreign ministers.

And six days before that one petered out—it ended July 13—Khrushchev prosposed a meeting with Eisenhower. Then he forgot about his own deadline and met with Eisenhower, a meeting which didn't solve Berlin at all.

Khrushchev talked tough in 1959, just as he's talking tough now. But what makes dealing with the unpredictable Khrushchev painful to the Allies is not knowing from one time to the next whether he means it.

But before Krushchev this time reaches the point of blowing up or calming down there will probably be, as Rusk indicated, no end of jawing back and forth between East and West.

Gen. Le May Is Taking Command Of U. S. Air Force

The Air Force arranged a formal farewell for White, veteran of 40 years service, in a ceremony at Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland.

LeMay, 54, is a pilot credited with building the powerful U.S. nuclear bomber force. In the late 1940s, as head of the U.S. Air Forces in Europe, he organized operations for the famed Berlin airlift.

He was picked by Kennedy to succeed White, 60, last May 22.

Million Acres Are Infested

Grasshoppers Adding To Threat on Plains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Massive grasshopper invasions today posed an added threat to the northern Great Plains, already in the grip of a devastating drought which has brought scores of counties under federal disaster programs.

The new menace came as temperatures again in the 90s continued to sear vast acreages in five states and three Canadian provinces.

Heavy Smoke Calls

Unseasonable summer fires on the usually verdant prairie and in wooded country at its northern fringes still were casting heavy smoke palls.

From Helena, Mont., came federal and state reports that grasshoppers have infested an estimated million acres in Montana, plus other large Wyoming areas.

Firemen from five towns, aided by 1,000 volunteer farmers and oil workers kept the fire from invading inhabited territory.

The blaze raged as the final two of North Dakota's 53 counties were declared disaster country. "This is very serious because it's the Great Plains breadbasket that's going," said Norris Ellertson, regional director for Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation.

May Add 30 Counties

After a personal survey and reports from field men, Ellertson said Thursday night at Bismarck, N. D., that he was recommending addition of 30 more counties in Montana, Wyoming and South Dakota to the disaster category.

These included Montana's 20 easternmost counties, 12 in western South Dakota and 6 in northeast Wyoming. If approved in Washington, these would bring to 111 the counties eligible for emergency aid in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Montana and Wyoming.

In Ottawa, the Canadian government mapped emergency measures to save dairy and breeding stock in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, where up to 75 per cent of grain land was reported in jeopardy.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market slipped even further into indifference early this afternoon as the Independence Day weekend approached. Prices were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down .20 to 242.40 with the industrials down .60, rails down .10 and utilities up .10.

Most prices showed fractional changes as trading became progressively duller. The stock exchanges will be open on Monday but many Wall Streeters were obviously preparing to make this a four-day weekend.

A few stocks responded to special news or developments but the trend was mixed among motors, oils, chemicals, rails, utilities and aircrafts. Tobaccos leaned to the upside and steels showed a slightly lower tendency.

Gulf Oil was nearly a point lower.

Blaze Destroys Plattekill Home

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a one-story frame summer bungalow on Unionville Road, Plattekill, late Thursday afternoon.

The bungalow, occupied at the time by a summer tenant identified as a Mrs. Colon, consisted of four rooms, a bath and kitchen. It was a total loss.

Chief Lester Upright told The Freeman that when the Plattekill Fire Company reached the scene the bungalow was "just a ball of flames inside."

It apparently started in the kitchen end of the structure.

Firemen were called about 4:30 p. m. and remained at the scene for two hours.

Chief Upright called for assistance through mutual aid which dispatched the Modena Fire Company with 12 men and a tank truck. The Plattekill company had about 20 volunteers at the scene.

Upright said the bungalow was one of a group of six or seven such cottages and structures located on about an acre and a half of land.

Carefree Capital

Leopoldville Celebrates 1st Freedom

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—With flags flying, a big parade and a beauty contest, Leopoldville turned carefree today in celebrating the first anniversary of Congo independence.

Clouds of political uncertainty blew in from the problem province of Katanga, but Congolese in this white-washed capital seemed determined not to let these mar the fun.

Four days of celebration in the troubled infant nation got under way Thursday with a football game. Other highlights are a competition to select Miss Leopoldville of 1961 and a round of diplomatic receptions.

Moise Tshombe, Katanga President, at odds politically with the Leopoldville regime but of late an avowed admirer of Mobutu, sent a contingent of 75 gendarmes to take part in the parade.

called to duty in the last World War, was given a field promotion to major in the Transportation Corps in Tunisia, and was later commissioned a lieutenant-colonel.

During the campaign in North Africa, Keating was selected in a small group of officers and men to accompany General Carl R. Gray Jr. in a harrassment action against the famed German General Erwin Rommel. "We had some tough going that trip," commented Keating.

Lieutenant Colonel Keating returned to Kingston in 1945 to his wife and family, and to resume his railroading career. He is married to the former Olive C. Le Brun, and has three sons and a daughter: Stephen J. Keating Jr., a graduate engineer with Pratt and Whitney Corporation; John D. Keating, lieutenant senior grade in the U. S. Navy as a fighter pilot; Anne Berenice, a graduate of Marquette University and currently a teacher at St. Ursula Academy in Kingston; and Thomas L. Keating, in the U. S. Navy at the Great Lakes Training Station.

Currently residing at 136 Lucas Avenue, Trainmaster Keating said that he has no immediate plans for his retirement. "I'm going to visit some relatives in various places, and take it easy for awhile. Maybe I'll find something interesting in the near future, but now I'm going to rest a bit," said the trainmaster.

Be Wary of 6% Income Without Factual Back-up

Q) "I'm interested in a security which is yielding 6 per cent right now. I'm sold on it except for one thing—when I asked for financial reports and a balance sheet, I was informed that no such statements were being issued. A while ago my broker sent me a booklet which said not to invest in anything unless detailed information was available. What should I do?" M.F.

A) I would forget about the 6 per cent and do as your broker's booklet suggests.

While not everyone can interpret a balance sheet and earnings statement, it is very important that these be made available. Most publicly owned corporations make a true effort to furnish adequate information on their activities.

Shares of companies where little financial data is published are not necessarily bad risks, but they're certainly harder to evaluate and more difficult to follow once you've bought into them. The more detailed information you can get on a company before investing, the less are the chances that you'll acquire a real lemon.

Under present market conditions, I would want to know a great deal about any stock yielding 6 per cent, which is more than the going rate. The return offered may be higher because of a relatively poor outlook which has held down the price of the stock in question.

Since you seem to want income, I suggest that you take a look at Melville Shoe (NYSE), a relatively safe stock which offers a 4.7 per cent return and an opportunity for moderate growth.

Q) "Should I sell my American Viscose shares, bought at 44?" M. O.

A) Publicity given to your company's development of a new edible cellulose has pushed the stock up sharply in recent weeks. The product is said to contain no nutrition of calories and thus could be used for dietary purposes. I believe you should hold your shares for the present.

Marilyn Monroe Has Gall Bladder Out on Thursday

Early today, the blonde beauty, 34, was reported in good condition.

Seven doctors were in attendance during surgery, including Marilyn's personal physician who had flown in from California.

Under sedation, the movie queen was wheeled into her private room where her ex-husband, former baseball great Joe DiMaggio waited.

A hospital spokesman said, "The entire gall bladder was removed" during the operation, adding: "There were no complications and she is resting well."

A hospital spokesman said the normal convalescence period from gall bladder surgery is 10 to 12 days.

DiMaggio, who had been standing by at the hospital ever since Marilyn was admitted, has been seen with her a great deal ever since her divorce last winter from playwright Arthur Miller, her third husband.

Last February, Miss Monroe signed herself into the Payne Whitney Clinic of New York Hospital, a psychiatric institution. Later she transferred to Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center for treatment of what was described as "emotional and physical exhaustion."

NEW YORK (AP)—Movie star Marilyn Monroe spent a comfortable night and was in satisfactory condition today after having her gall bladder removed Thursday night, Polyclinic Hospital reported.

The blonde beauty, 34, was in the operating room for 2½ hours.

Resigned Chairman May Lose County Job

GENESEO, N.Y. (AP) — J. Donald Root, forced to resign as Livingston County Republican chairman only last month, now stands to lose his job as county welfare commissioner in November.

The county committee Thursday night bypassed the incumbent Root and chose Robert Fox, a Nunda supervisor, to run for the office in November. Root has held the welfare post since 1955.

Root's support of State Sen. Austin Erwin's son for one of three new State Supreme Court judgeships in the Seventh Judicial District recently cost him his post as county chairman.

Jesse Crispell Sentenced as First Offender

A criminal matter dating back to 1935 came up before Supreme Court Justice William Deckelman Thursday when Jesse Crispell, now confined to a penal institution from another county, came up for re-sentence before Justice Deckelman under an Ulster County conviction had in 1935. At that time Justice Russell sentenced Crispell to a term of five years in prison as a second offender.

Since then the prior conviction, which had made Crispell a second offender in 1935, has been set aside by the Appellate Division.

Justice Deckelman set aside the previous conviction in 1935 and then sentenced Crispell as a first offender to a term of from 1½ to 3 years in prison, giving credit for the time which Crispell has already served. However this placed Crispell in the position of being a first offender at the time he was sentenced in 1935 and may have the effect of lessening subsequent sentences, including the one he is now serving.

SLIPPING INTO THEIR NATIVE TONGUE

Q: My husband's family are foreign born. However, they have been living in this country many years and speak English fairly well. Every once in a while, when I am visiting them, they will suddenly say something to each other in their native tongue. I have no understanding of this language and feel very uncomfortable when they do this. I always feel that they are talking about me or saying something they don't want me to hear. Don't you think that this is very rude on their part? I think that when I am present they should speak nothing but English. What is your opinion on this?

A: They most certainly should not speak in a language you do not understand when you are present, but before letting this offend you, remember that it is a natural thing for them to make an occasional remark to each other in the language they have always used together.

Shower for Absent Mother-to-Be

Q: A very close friend of mine recently moved to another city. She is expecting her first baby soon and I would like to give a shower for her. As she is unable to travel at the present time it will be impossible for her to be present at the shower. Would it be proper to give it anyway? Several friends of mine said that a shower without the guest of honor would be improper. What do you have to say about this?

A: It will be entirely proper to give this shower inviting only her very closest friends. After the presents are opened, they can be put into one large box and sent to the mother-to-be.

Thanking Celebrity for Autograph

Q: My hobby is collecting autographs of well-known people. I would like to know if it is necessary, after receiving their autographs, to write and say thank you?

A: Saying "thank you in advance for your kindness" when requesting the autograph is sufficient and saves a very busy person from opening and reading another letter.

Miss Julia Kinzelman of Saugerties Is Wed To Malden Man Before Nuptial Mass June 24

Miss Julia Marie Kinzelmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kinzelmann Sr. of Route 2, Saugerties, was wed Saturday, June 24, to Martin Daniel Hull, son of Mrs. Frances Hull of Malden-on-the-Hudson, and the late William Hull, before an 11 a. m. high nuptial Mass at St. John's of the Clove Church, Veteran. The Rev. Daniel Daley officiated at the double ring ceremony, while the Rev. Joseph Hamilton of St. Mary's Church in Saugerties and the Rev. Walter T. Kearns, assistant pastor of St. John's were seated in the sanctuary.

Mass was sung by the Assumptionists Fathers of Barclay Heights. The organist played On This Day as the bride dedicated a white bouquet of carnations, touched with blue, to the Blessed Mother before the ceremony.

The church was decorated for the occasion with arrangements of white delphiniums, gladioli and pompons, and satin bows marked the pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza and Chantilly lace over bridal satin fashioned with a Sabrina neckline trimmed with pearls and sequins. The gown featured long tapered sleeves, and the full skirt of lace panels over the silk organza swept back into a train. A crown of pearls secured the triple French silk illusion veil. The bride carried a prayer book with a white orchid surrounded by lilies and stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Bertha Heiden of Duluth, Minn. served as matron of honor in a gown of white nylon over yellow taffeta, with a yellow cummerbund. She wore a braided crown trimmed with crystals which held a circle veil to match the gown. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow and orchid pompons with a yellow ribbon.

Another sister, Mrs. Eleanor Teitter of High Woods was her other attendant and was attired in an orchid gown identical in styling to the matron of honor's. Her veil and flowers matched her gown.

Kathleen and Karen Kinzelmann, nieces of the bride, were flower girls in white nylon embroidered dresses with scalloped edges and orchid taffeta sashes. They carried white baskets of yellow and orchid flowers.

John Frederick Hull of Saugerties was his brother's best man. Serving as ushers were Edward Teitter, brother-in-law of the bride, and Floyd Burgher of Mt. Marion.

For their wedding journey to Niagara Falls and Canada, the bride was attired in a green sheath dress with white accessories and wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Hull is a graduate of St. Mary's School and Saugerties High School and is presently employed by the C and S Shoe Company. She is a member of the Saugerties Council Columbiettes and St. John's Altar Society.

Mr. Hull also is a graduate of St. Mary's and Saugerties High Schools, and is a member of the Knights of Columbus and St. Mary's Holy Name Society. He is employed at the Marquette Cement Company, Alsen.

Mr. and Mrs. Hull will reside in Malden-on-the-Hudson upon their return.

Setting Befits a Queen

Maria Schell Likes Living in Germany

By BOB THOMAS
A PMovie-TV Writer

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—You drive to Maria Schell's home through 60 miles of Bavarian countryside, past the green, round hills and stacks of drying hay.

You turn up a country lane, wind among farm houses and come to a walled estate. Once you are announced the gate swings open and you descent a steep driveway to the Schell Chateau.

Maria Schell, tanned from a cruise among the Greek Isles, stood at the front of the house when I arrived for a visit. She showed me about the house, which was gleaming with marble and filled with paintings and art objects she has collected during her travels about the world.

Why does she choose to live in Germany?

"That is strange," she said with the familiar Schell smile. "All the German stars are living in Switzerland now, and I, a Swiss, am living in Germany. I like the life better here. There is more stimulation, more intellectual activity."

Although she kept her German residence, she found that going to Hollywood hurt her following in Germany.

"Many people resented it at first," she remarked. "They think that if an actress goes to Hollywood it's because she is attracted by the glamor.

"But I went to Hollywood merely so I could work with fine talent. That was the only reason."

She attended Colby for four years and plans to enter New Paltz State University College of Education in the fall.

Grand Jurors Seek Stiffer Penalties On School Bus Law

More stringent penalties for violators of the school bus law and a workable set of safety rules for students and school buses operators is being sought by Ulster County Association of Grand Jurors, in letters recently forwarded to the two legislators representing the county in Albany.

Action was motivated by a series of recent incidents in which school children were injured when struck by a motorist passing a stopped school bus.

Letters outlining the association's position were sent to Assembly Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock, and Senator E. Ogden Bush of Walton, Delaware County by Thomas J. Murphy, president.

The letter follows:

"Our organization has become greatly concerned over a number of accidents resulting in serious personal injury to children as a result of their being struck by motor vehicles illegally passing stopped school buses.

"In this regard we feel that the law should be amended as quickly as possible, first to provide more severe maximum penalties to be imposed upon a violator who passes a school bus stopped to discharge passengers, by way of a larger fine and greater possible jail sentence; and secondly, to provide a greater margin of safety, by adoption of rules that might help to prevent such occurrences.

"We thought, on the preventive side of the question, that perhaps if school students were always discharged only on the side of the road on which they live, this would be one means of reducing the chances of children being struck. We realize however that this is merely one suggestion. Perhaps the state legislators might have other, better or more practical solutions to this really serious problem." The letter was signed by President Murphy.

Asking 100 Cities To Buy Proper Testing Devices

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A state official says he is asking more than 100 cities and counties to provide adequate equipment to test scales, pumps and other weighing and measuring devices.

John F. Madden, director of the State Bureau of Weights and Measures, said Thursday reports from local sealers of weights and measures showed that more than 100 municipal governments lacked adequate testing equipment.

Madden said he was making the requests because corrective action could not be compelled by state law.

A complete list of the cities and counties was not available.

But Madden said the cities of Albany, Gloversville and Johnstown and the counties of Albany and Fulton were the only ones on his list that lacked equipment or access to it for testing meters on fuel-oil trucks.

Madden previously accused Albany of poor enforcement of weights and measures laws.

A law requiring that public schools be established in every town of 50 families or more was passed in 1647 in the Massachusetts Bay Colony.

Teenage Swimming, Dancing Added to Recreation Slate

The Woodstock Recreation Committee has made available to the teenagers of Woodstock township a dancing and swimming program on Thursday afternoons and Saturday evenings, John Majoros, chairman, has announced.

Swimming will be available at Camp Mountain Pals on Thursday afternoons in the large supervised pool where the teenagers may congregate and enjoy wholesome fun one afternoon each week. Saturday evenings will be Dance Night at the camp. A jukebox will furnish the music for "dancing under the stars" each week.

Any teenager interested in taking part in these activities may pick up an application blank at the town hall or register by calling John Majoros or Andy Shekitka. In order to cover the cost for the nine weeks of swimming and dancing, a charge of $10 is necessary.

Camp Mountain Pals is located in Wittenberg and is operated by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Shekitka. The swimming-dancing program will be restricted to teenagers 13 years and over and the activities will be supervised at all times by Shekitka and his staff.

Registration for activities at the Andy Lee Memorial Field will take place on Saturday, July 1, and Monday, July 3, during which time there will be free swimming.

Variety of Features

Allan Byrne, summer playground director, has planned an interesting summer for the youngsters. In addition to arts and crafts and swimming, there will be many other activities such as golf, field newspaper, square dancing, archery, baseball, field trips and field games.

Many special events have been planned for the summer. These include a dog show, doll show, swimming meet, Achievement Night, father-and-son baseball, archery tournament, carnival, a water show and the Summer Olympics.

The Recreation Committee has assembled a top rate staff for the summer program. Heading the staff is Allan Byrne, director; and Robert Keough, assistant director. Margaret Wetterau will conduct the arts and crafts, assisted by Susan Bromberg and Pamela Rowe.

A new addition to the staff, Beverly Lewis, has served as lifeguard at the Mother Cabrini School and as assistant instructor and lifeguard for the Kingston YMCA. Miss Lewis has just completed an intensive instructors' training program at an acquatic school in Pennsylvania.

A summer calendar listing all the times and dates of all the activities at the field is now at the printers and will be distributed to the parents and youngsters on July 5.

BYRDCLIFFE SOLOIST — Matthew Raimondi, violinist, will appear in a concert of temporary music Saturday night, July 1, at 8:30 p. m. at the Byrdcliffe Theatre in Woodstock. Appearing on the program with Raimondi will be several other local musicians, including Sterling Hunkins, cello; Paul Price, percussionist; and Yehudi Wyner, pianist.

The governor, who has closely followed the activities of the Woodstock Rotary club lauded Doremus for a job well done and complimented the members on the club's fine fellowship.

The district governor was accompanied by Douglas Carmen of Warrington, England, a "Rotary Foundation Fellow," who was the guest speaker. Carmen is one of 130 Rotary Scholarship winners and has been studying in Toronto, Canada, since last September.

In a lucid and comprehensive talk, he compared the educational systems of Canada and the United States with that of England. It was very interesting to note, he said, that both Canada and the United States are similar in their systems and different from that of England.

Pleased With Trip

In England, a student after the age of 16 chooses three subjects which are of most interest to him, Carmen said. He pursues these subjects until the age of 18 and by that time there is usually one subject that he prefers. If the student should then enter the university, he will concentrate on this subject for three years, at the end of which he can truly be acknowledged as a specialist in that particular field. The speaker also pointed out that although much time is spent on one subject, the student still has opportunities to broaden his cultural background.

Carmen thanked Rotary for making his trip possible and sincerely appreciated the hospitality extended to him by both Canadians and Americans. When he returns to England he will be most happy, he said, to relate the wonderful, courteous manner in which he was received in the North American countries.

Mrs. A. Hansen Resigns Post At Local School

The Onteora Board of Education has accepted the resignation of Mrs. Arthur Hansen, a teacher in the second grade at the Woodstock elementary school.

Mrs. Hansen, who has taught second grade at Woodstock for the past four years, was one of three teachers whose resignations were submitted and accepted at the June meeting of the Onteora board.

After acknowledging receipt of the letters of resignation in the open meeting, the board went into executive session to discuss them and later came back into regular session for the formal motion to accept the resignations.

Reasons for the resignations were not made known.

"I am very sorry to lose her," he said. "She is probably one of the most dedicated teachers I have ever seen."

The Woodstock principal added that he had tried unsuccessfully several times to have Mrs. Hansen reconsider her resignation. He said that members of the Onteora administration had also tried to have Mrs. Hansen reconsider.

Mrs. Hansen declined to comment beyond stating that her decision to resign was irrevocable.

Hold Graduation Exercises for WoodstockSchool

Members of the sixth grade at Woodstock Elementary School were guests at graduation exercises held in the school auditorium. Afterwards the pupils were entertained at a luncheon sponsored by the P-TA at the Woodstock Country Club. Woodstock and West Hurley children later enjoyed a swimming party.

Mrs. Robert Greene, a member of the Onteora Board of Education, addressed the graduates. Diplomas were presented by Walter S. Van Wagenen, principal of the Woodstock and West Hurley schools.

The program included the pledge to the flag and singing of the national anthem by the audience. The school chorus, directed by Mrs. Katy Stowe, sang a selection "Peace."

Corrected Version of Schimmerling Tome

In a recent article on vacations by Prof. H. A. Schimmerling of Woodstock lines were omitted which gave a completely different meaing to a point made by the author.

One part of the article read: "The Czechs found their own Slavic root 'prazd'. But since prazdny means empty, the word prazdniny (vacation) also means emptiness. It has the meaning of "days of quietness." . . . "restful days."

The portion should have read: "The Czechs found their own Slavic root "prazd". But since prazdny means empty, the word prazdniy (vacation) also means emptiness. The Germans have a slightly different approach. Their word for vacation is ferien. Though also Latin (feriae), it does not mean emptiness. It has the meaning of "days of quietness", "restful days" . . . .

matter of FACT

In the days of the old Spanish Main, privateering was a halfway respectable business. A privateer carried a government commission to attack enemy ships. Some privateers were patriotic; other were thinly-disguised pirates. One self-styled privateer bought a commission and plundered the Spanish Main. The paper, written in Danish, proved when translated to be a permit for hunting goats and wild pigs—nothing more.

Fences Off Traffic

BATH, N.Y. (AP)—Part of a fence was erected Thursday in the mainstream of traffic by a resident of this Steuben County village as evidence of his opposition to what he feels is an infringement on his property.

William C. Pietch claims the village of Bath cut off several feet of his lawn by laying part of the pavement of a local road in a broad, sweeping arc. He feels it should have been shaped in a right angle.

"I'm just protecting my lawn," Pietch said.

The village board still hasn't decided what to do about the fence.

The battlefield at Gettysburg was dedicated as a national cemetery on Nov. 19, 1863, only 4½ months after the battle was fought.

Process May Rid Milk Of Strontium 90

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is testing a pilot plant which it hopes will prove effective in removing strontium 90—present in radioactive fallout — from milk.

The process would be invaluable in case of nuclear attack.

The plant is being tested at the Agriculture Department's research center at nearby Beltsville, Md. The Atomic Energy Commission and the department of health, education and welfare are cooperating.

Scientists describe the process as similar to the action of water softeners on hard water.

Officials said that strontium 90 fallout from past nuclear tests is not of sufficient importance to require decontamination of present milk supplies. The strontium 90 gets into milk through plants eaten by dairy cows.

Aborigines Topic For Kiwanis Club

The "Kangaroo Increase Ceremony" as performed by the Aborigines of Australia was explained to the Kingston Kiwanis Club Thursday by the Rev. George P. Werner, district superintendent of the Methodist Churches of the New York area.

The speaker visited Australia for a period in excess of two months, collecting data and pictures concerning the Aborigines and their methods of existence.

Explaining that rainfall in the Aborigines section of Australia is extremely scarce and that water and kangaroo meat are the sources of existence of the natives, the Rev. Mr. Werner described in detail the kangaroo ceremony which he witnessed.

Employing about 60 men, the ceremony was a solemn affair which at times featured frenzied actions and considerable bloodletting. Included in the rites were three fires, the hot coals being scattered at the appropriate times for the purpose of increasing the kangaroo herds and bringing the much needed water.

The speaker said that during the ceremony he witnessed, the first rain descended in 13 months, and when the storm ceased, a record total of five to six inches of rain had fallen and collected in large puddles upon the dried and wasted soil.

"New life came out of the desert from this rainfall," the Methodist minister said, who inferred that the Aborigines thus recorded their ceremony as a decided success.

Finesse Offers Best Chance

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When you hold 10 cards of a suit, missing the king, the finesse is preferable to the drop play because the drop play gains a trick for you against only one combination of cards—singleton king in back of the ace while the finesse gains a trick for you against three combinations: a void in back of the ace, or either small singleton in back of the ace.

South looks over dummy happily. He is in an unbeatable six no-trump contract. The way the cards lie, South should make seven, but if he is a trifle careless he will make only six.

The careless play is to lead a small club and finesse will work, but East will show out and West will make a club trick.

The careful play is to lead the jack. If West covers you have a proven finesse against his ten spot. If West ducks you just finesse.

Since North and South hold ten clubs between them this is a 100 per cent play. There is no way to lose two club tricks and it gives declarer the best chance to lose no club tricks.

Special Parking Rules Are Listed For July 4 Events

Parking regulations on streets which will be affected by the July 4 parade in Saugerties on Tuesday at 10 a. m. were announced today by Saugerties Police Chief Arthur W. Richter.

Special parking regulations will go into effect at 9 a. m. Tuesday and continue until the parade has disbanded.

No parking will be permitted on the following thoroughfares:

West side of Partition Street from Russell to Main Streets.

East side of Market from Main to Finger Streets.

Special regulations will also be in effect starting at 9:30 p. m. and until the fireworks display crowd has disbanded on the following streets:

No parking will be permitted on either side of Washington Avenue from 6 p. m. until after the fireworks from Robinson Street to the tennis courts at Cantine Memorial Field.

School Bus Costs, Bidding Methods Outlined by B of E

Saugerties Citizens Advisory Committee, of which Miss Grace Anderson and Norman Nitschke are co-chairmen, has suggested to the Board of Education that they correct public misunderstanding by issuing a public statement covering Bus Transportation.

The method of bidding for the business of furnishing transportation to Saugerties Central Schools is the same as for all other bidding. An advertisement is placed in the local press. Any concern interested in submitting a bid is encouraged to do so. The busines goes to the lowest bidder. It is the established policy of the board that those wishing to bid for a contract of transporting pupils must bid on the entire transportation program except for the feeder routes which may be bid individually. The reason for this policy is that the board believes that it thereby secures a more efficient service both as regards quality and as regards price. In the opinion of the board, their experience with this plan since 1957 demonstrates that it is the best policy for them to follow.

Now, as to the so-called "apparent high cost." Members of the Advisory Committee who drew the conclusion that bus transportation costs in Saugerties are high probably did so on the basis of comparing local costs with "Expenditures Per Pupil in Average Daily Attendance" as published by The State Education Department.

The fact of the matter is that local costs are not comparable with these published state figures because not all the same costs are included in the published figures as are included in the local transportation figures. This is borne out by the facts as presented in a letter from M. G. Osborne, director of the division of school business management, submitted to Superintendent Grant D. Morse on June 6.

The letter follows:

"This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of June 1 regarding transportation costs.

"Undoubtedly, the reasonable cost sheets which we prepare and mail out present a more realistic cost figure for transportation than the per pupil cost figures. The per pupil figure would have all costs except debt service, capital outlay, insurance, administration costs, and cost of maintaining district-owned garages.

"I am enclosing a copy of our 1960-61 reasonable cost sheet. The 1961-62 sheet will be available in a few weeks.

"May I say that the per pupil cost of transportation is obtained by dividing the total cost of transportation by the total A. D. A. (average daily attendance) of those districts that had expenditures for transportation. Therefore, the per pupil cost is not the cost of transporting a child, but is the per pupil cost of transportation using the total A. D. A. of children in the districts whether or not they were transported.

The per pupil costs published by State Education Department were arrived at by dividing the total average enrollment by the transportation cost in the school studied regardless of whether all pupils in a district were transported or not. In some of the schools included, the percentage of pupils transported was high; in others it was not so high. The per pupil figures as published by the State Education Department did not, as Osborne pointed out, include the costs for debt service, capital outlay, insurance, and garages. And since schools which own their own buses were included in the State Department study as well as schools which contract for transportation, the state published average is, as we have said above, not comparable with local costs charged by bus operators who must buy their buses and pay for them, insure them, and house them in privately owned garages.

At no time have the costs of transportation as bid by local contractors been seriously questioned by state department auditors and inspectors who annually go over the proposals for all school districts in the state and approve or reject each bid.

The fact that the state bears a large percentage of the cost of transportation has nothing to do, of course, with the question of whether local costs are high or low except that local taxpayers are thereby the better assured that state officials are not going to approve unreasonable bids. It is a matter of interest, however, to know what percentage of transportation costs are paid for by the state rather than out of local budgets. Following are the percentages of local transportation:

In 1956-57 budget the district paid $1,218.49 on a bus transportation bill of $73,427.50. The state paid 98.3 per cent of the cost. In 1957-58 bus transportation cost the district $13,314.33 on a $121,093.62 transportation bill. The state paid 89 per cent.

In 1958-59 total cost of bus transportation was $119,362.90. The state paid 93.7 per cent and the total cost to the district was $7,414.27.

In 1959-60 the total cost of transporting children to and from school was $134,983.26 with the state paying 93 per cent of the total and the cost to the district was only $9,028.

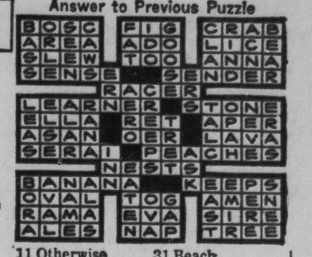

For the 1960-61 budget the total cost of bus transportation was $144,712 for which the state paid 97 per cent, leaving only $3,757 as the total cost to the central school district.

Sale Is Approved Of Cairo Grounds

Stockholders of the Greene County Riding and Driving Club, Inc., have approved the sale of the former Greene County Fairgrounds at Cairo for the sum of $16,000. Prospective buyer Leonard Fancher, Hensonville garage operator, and his associates I. and O. Slutsky of Hunter and New York Attorney Albert Ubert are reportedly interested in the 17-acre tract for quarter horse racing.

William Lake of Acra, president of the Club reported the sale had been approved at a stockholders meeting in Masonic Hall, Cairo, where 505 votes, mostly through proxies, were cast in favor. Holders of 45 other shares did not vote. Lake said present plans call for dissolution of the corporation.

Located between Routes 32 and 145 in Cairo, the property has not been used for a county fair in 20 years. There is a half mile track, old stable, building and an old grandstand. Lake said the new owners would probably erect new stables.

Diary Discloses Loot

MEMPHIS (AP) — The diary of a 16-year-old girl gave police a big assist when she was arrested on a shoplifting charge recently. Police said it contained an itemized list of hundreds of objects stolen from stores in a 9-month period.

They'll Do It Every Time — By Jimmy Hatlo

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I bought two books called "Ulster County, N. Y., Wills," from T. Emmett Henderson, antiquarian book seller of Middletown. There were only 500 of these books printed by Gustave Anjou in 1906. They cover wills, letters of administration and other items from 1665. Many are translations from Dutch and French. Alphonso Trumpbour Clearwater, LLD, famous historian wrote at the time in the introduction that these books would be invaluable to historians, antiquarians and genealogists of all time, and also to every person descended from those "who gave to Ulster a unique distinction among the counties of America."

There is a great deal of information in this set of books, and I understand that such a set is in our Kingston City Library, and perhaps some of our other public buildings. The inventories in the wills give one an idea upon the home life, the habits and possessions of the early inhabitants of this country, wrote the author, Gustave Anjou in 1906.

He wrote that spinning wheels, were found in every family. The necessity for protection against the Indians, and the hunt, made "guns" of all descriptions necessary. Rent was paid in "marketable winter or summer wheat." Pewter, or "puter," was the most common metal used, but silver spoons and forks were not uncommon. Knee breeches and knee-buckles, waistcoats, and shoe buckles for the men, petticoats, short gowns, check aprons, white linen stockings, and black hoods for the women, were the garments most frequently mentioned in the inventories.

These wills and their inventories are today important as historical information. They also used the old English custom of giving the eldest son some small personal property, as "his right for being my first born." The author, Gustave Anjou, who went through so many of these old wills, found that the people of those days, had a "generous sense of justice" and seldom cut off a member of the family with the proverbial shilling.

The following is taken in part from a letter, written by Lord Cornbury to Secretary Hodges, "The trade of the province, in 1705, consists chiefly of flower and biskets, which is sent to the islands in the West Indies, in return they bring, rum, sugar, molasses, and sometimes pieces of eight, and cocoa, and logwood; to Europe, our people send skins of all sort, whale oyle and bone."

They also mention in items from Governor Moore's official letter to the Lords of Trade, written in 1767, stating that "every family makes a coarse cloth called lindsey-woolsey, the warp being of linen and the woof of wool. Every family is furnished with a loom, and the wandering weavers who travel about the country, put a finishing-hand to the work."

June being the wedding month, back in those days, no doubt many such items made good wedding presents. They also mention izer, or wafer-irons, which were considered good wedding presents, and often they had them decorated with the coat-of-arms of the groom, together with his initials and those of his bride, and the date of their marriage.

For How Many Retirement Plans Are You Eligible?

By FAYE HENLE

Has it ever occurred to you that you may be eligible for several retirement plans? Figure carefully and you may well be able to spend those "twilight" years in style!

Take the policeman on the beat. After 20 years of service, he can retire and draw a city pension. Since he may still be young, he'll seek another job. Now he comes under social security unless he lived in a city where he had the option to elect social security while he was a city employe. Here he'll be building toward the second retirement pay check.

Perhaps, he'll learn a skill and join a union. Here he may get a third retirement check. Or he might go to work for a company with a fine retirement plan for employes. Perhaps he is a thrifty soul and buys an insurance annuity; this too will spell added after-65 income.

Social Security: A qualified man with a 65-year-old wife receives $180 a month if he retires now. After 1963, the benefit will rise to $190.50.

Civil Service: These benefits go to city, state and federal employes with at least five years service. The amount available depends upon a number of factors, including years of service and highest pay in a five-year period. Some under civil service may qualify for social security or private company retirement.

Members of many unions can look forward to good retirement pay in addition to social security benefits.

Company pension and profit sharing plans are becoming increasingly liberal. It is not unusual for larger companies to pay their workers half their monthly salary after retirement. If you change jobs and the company allows you to take with you that portion of your retirement pay which you have contributed, you may benefit from two company retirement plans.

"Moonlighters," those who work at a second job, may put in enough hours to qualify for that second plan.

Insurance companies sell individuals retirement annuity policies. In addition to, or instead of, an annuity, if you have built cash Values into a regular life insurance policy, you can draw upon this when you retire.

Sharpen your pencil and start figuring!

Cancer Search Goes On

WASHINGTON (AP) — The search for more effective medicines for use in treating cancer is a massive one. There are now about 20 compounds used in the fight against cancer, according to the Phamaceutical Manufacturers Assn. But in the last three years, says the association, tens of thousands of chemicals, compounds or other substances have been tested in laboratories. In 1958, only 60 of 28,000 substances studied proved worthy of clinical investigation on humans. In 1959, out of 36,000, there were 49 given further study. Figures are not in for 1960.

Townsend Plan Has Changed But It's Still Alive

By GABE KAIMOWITZ
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA) — Remember that fateful day in '33 when Dr. Francis E. Townsend revealed in a "letter to the editor" of a newspaper his plan to rebuild the economy by restoring the dignity and spending power of the nation's elders.

Well, the Townsend Plan still is with us. In fact, July 3 to July 6, its supporters will be meeting in Grand Rapids, Mich., at their 21st national convention. They aren't any older because they skipped the war years.

Things aren't quite the same as they were in '35 when the Townsend Plan really rolled. Fo rone thing, Dr. Townsend died last Sept. 1 at the age of 93. Now his son, Robert C., has come to the fore.

The Plan has changed a little, too, like most everything else. It has to keep up with the times, says the Plan's economic consultant John D. Elliot.

For example, there was a day when economists were saying the Plan wouldn't work because of this, that and the other thing while Dr. Townsend was saying: "God deliver us from further guidance by professional economists."

Townsend had his own economic theory; everybody would retire at age 60 and get $150 or $200 a month, provided the money was spent within 30 days. To pay for the Plan, the government was to collect a national sales tax or a tax on every conceivable transaction. By now, we're pretty much doing that anyway.

The Plan today, as outlined by Elliot, is a little more complicated. The person over 60 would automatically get a minimum of $75 a month whether or not he was retired. The working person could, however, taper off his employment. For every two dollars of income he gave up, the Plan would give him a dollar. Maximum payment to an individual in any one month would be $150.

Elliott figures that a two per cent gross receipts tax would just about pay the way now. Some 20 to 22 million persons would share the $3.5 billion which would be coming in monthly. As much comes in, goes out.

But that isn't the only difference between yesterday, today and tomorrow. The Townsend Plan seemed to its followers like a good deal in the depression. But we don't have a depression any more. And it seemed even better when there was no Social Security Act. But we have one now, thanks in part to the Townsendites even though that wasn't exactly what they wanted.

Maybe good times is why the organization which once had 2½ million signatures on petitions in support of the Plan, has been ailing of late. They still have something like 3,000 clubs, Elliot says, but the circulation of the Plan's weekly newspaper isn't even 10,000 any more.

But everything doesn't change. Club members still get together in Glens Falls, N. Y., or Ludington, Mich., or Medford, Ohio, for piano recitals, readings, potlucks, covered dish suppers, card parties, door prizes, rummage sales, game nights and ladies' drill teams.

And in their newspaper, they still can read poems like "The Portrait of My Mother," stories on "Food Poisoning and How to Prevent It," and advertisements like for Dr. Ann's "Manna," the food that kept the Israelites in perfect health in the wilderness for 40 years—you know the kind of things that have been with us for hundreds of years and will be for hundreds more.

GOP to Capture N. Y. and Buffalo Morhouse Claims

SENECA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—L. Judson Morhouse, Republican state chairman, says the GOP will win the mayoral elections in New York City and Buffalo this November.

"We registered significant gains in the 1959 municipal elections, electing Republican mayors in 10 cities that had chosen Democrats in 1957," he told a meeting of the Seneca County Republican Committee Thursday night.

He also cited Republican gains in 1960 village elections as part of what he described as a Republican pattern.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"What did people do before they had television?" asked playwright and producer Dore Schary. "Well, we probably read more books. We probably went out to the movies more often. We played cards more. And, one thing I'm sure we all did: We talked more."

Television, Schary believes, can be as habit-forming as a drug.

"It's so comfortable to sit there in an easy chair," he continued. "It's easier to watch something you're only mildly interested in than it is to move."

"She watched everything," Schary said, "and she found that she became extremely interested in programs she had never bothered to watch before."

Schary, former production head of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, successful film writer and author of two Broadway hits, will produce the first of a series of 18 specials on three networks next season which will be sponsored by an electrical company. The program is called "The Sound of the Sixties."

The time of the year has come when this column—and this columnist—takes a vacation.

And how will this columnist spend the days when there are no stories to be written, no publicity releases to be read, no stars to interview?

No, I do not plan to unplug the television set. Rather, I expect to watch television a lot, but only the programs that sound promising and new to me. And, for one glorious month, I can exercise a privilege most other viewers use all the time: I can stop looking at a program the minute it bores or offends.

There are books to be read, too —Gladys Schmidt's "Rembrandt," Shirer's "Rise and Fall of the Third Reich" (both saved for the purpose), also Stan Opotowsky's "TV, The Big Picture," which I skimmed and found full of interesting behind-the-scenes TV information.

There is a garden to be weeded, golf to be played. There may be Sundays when I miss Ed Sullivan and "Meet the Press." But, early or late, one telecast I'll be watching will be the second Project Mercury shoot.

Recommended tonight: " 'Way Out," CBS, 9:30 (Eastern Daylight Time)—"Side Show," about a man in love with a headless woman; "Person to Person," CBS, 10:30-11—a visit with comedienne Carol Burnett.

Probe of Religious Issue Is Rejected By Education Head

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The state education commissioner says a state investigation, requested by New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner, of alleged anti-Catholic bias in faculty assignments at Queens College is unnecessary and inadvisable.

Commissioner James E. Allen rejected the request in a letter to Wagner Thursday. Allen pointed out that any Roman Catholic faculty member of the City-operated college could appeal to him directly for a hearing if the teacher felt he had been treated unjustly.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Today we are trillionaires. The new status works both ways.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon says America's total debt at all levels tops a trillion dollars for the first time.

But look at the balance sheet of Americans as individuals. Their current assets are put at $959 billion. Add their fixed assets of $607 billion, and U.S. citizens can claim to be worth $1,566,000,000,000.

Debt Also High

Of course, Secretary Dillon points out at the same time that individual debt totals $296 billion and continues to rise.

And as citizens we have a responsibility for the $290 billion federal debt and the $69 billion state and local debts. As stockholders they have an interest in corporate debt of $358 billion. (Corporate assets are much higher than this, and governments have financial and tangible assets, 500.)

Can you as American citizens afford to carry all this debt? a lot of people say no. But look at the brighter side of the financial balance sheet.

Savings on Upswing

At the 1961 halfway point personal income is running at $414 billion a year. And personal savings have been climbing in the first half of 1961. Then there are those financial assets of $959 billion.

That figure is garnered from reports of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Reserve Board, and the Department of Commerce.

The financial assets include $343 billions in preferred and common stocks, $102 billion in government securities, $26 billion in other securities such as corporate bonds and notes, nearly $67 billion in savings and loan associations and credit unions, more than $181 billion in currency and bank deposits. To that are added more than $149 billion in private insurance and pension reserves and $70 billion in various government insurance and pension reserves.

Subject to Debate

The fixed assets are figured this way: $404 billion equity in home ownership and $203 billion in current value of durable goods owned. The durable-goods equity is figured by totalling consumer purchases in the last 10 years, depreciated at 10 per cent annually.

The figuring to reach the total assets of one and a half trillion is subject to debate among accountants, as all such overall estimates are.

And the question of whether individuals' assets justify the steadily climbing personal debt — or whether the national economy, growing jerkily but steadily, justifies the rising total of government and private debt—is up for sharp debate in and out of Congress.

In New York financial circles the majority opinion is that both private and public debt is still on a sound basis. That is, the national and personal assets and the current national and personal incomes can carry the debt load without undue strain.

Italian Student Says Her Nation's Schools Superior

Leila Caruso found many other differences between her school in Rome and suburban Bethlehem High School, where she just completed her senior year.

Writing in the current Journal of The New York State School Boards Association, she said she considered an Italian high-school education better preparation for life for those who did not go on to college, and an Italian high-school diploma more difficult to obtain.

"One reason we accomplish more than the American students when we are in high school," she said, "is that we do not have so many distractions and extra-curricular activities."

EDITORS NOTE — With Independence Day almost here, George W. Cornell sums up a collection of views as Americans look into the past and toward the future in reviewing the nation's heritage.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the season for examining the American heritage. And all sorts of people are doing it.

As the nation prepares to celebrate its Independence day next Tuesday churchmen, scholars, pundits and politicians are pondering how it all began. And where it is going.

"If the American dream is for Americans only, it will remain our dream and never be our destiny," says Dr. Rene de Visme Williamson, chairman of Louisiana State University's department of government.

Searching Discussions

But what is the dream? What is the objective? Recent months have seen searching discussions about "national purpose."

"Clearly, the religious view and its moral implications were at the root of the founding father's innermost convictions," says Dr. Emile Cailliet, professor of philosophy emeritus of Princeton Theological Seminary.

"Whatever political principles they laid down were directly derived from the religious view and its moral implications—in that order."

As the Declaration of Independence put the matter, it was self-evident that "All men are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights" to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

That was the foundation of it: That each man bears a stamp of worth and dignity, endowed by a power beyond any man-made law or government.

Either God or Tyrants

"If we will not be governed by God," said American revolutionary leader William Penn, "then we will be governed by tyrants."

But it is questioned today whether the basic idea still thrives. Says Dr. Albert Hyma, University of Michigan professor of history:

"The United States in the past 50 years has been dominated to a large extent by persons who do not understand the spiritual heritage bequeathed by their ancestors.

"Unless a marked change takes place in the United States of America, it is doomed, just as surely as was ancient Babylonia."

His comments, along with those of other historians and scholars, were supplied for a fourm on the subject in "Christianity Today," a national nondenominational weekly.

Another Is Hopeful

America's image has been "badly defaced" by the caricatures of Communist deceit, said Dr. V. Raymond Edman, president of Wheaton, Ill., College, but it "must be restored. And it can be."

Dr. Robert M. Sutton, history professor at the University of Illinois, said: "Only if we see the American dream clearly in the light of God's love, his power and his judgment do we have a right to hope, with Lincoln, that this nation under God may yet experience a new birth of freedom."

Graduation Held At Laboratory

Graduation exercises of the Medical Technology Class of 1961 were held in the library of the City of Kingston Laboratory Thursday afternoon.

Honored for the completion of a year's study in laboratory science and technique were Barbara Carr, Wallkill; Lucille M. Clark, Kingston; Cathleen E. O'Leary, Rosendale and Gail L. Pfleghaar, Saugerties. Certificates were presented to the class by James A. Dwyer of the board of managers of the laboratory.

The program consisted of a welcoming address by Walter J. Lyons, director of Student Training and Biochemist of the Laboratory, and an inspiring message to the students by Dr. Joseph Bellamy of the Columbia Memorial Hospital. Dr. Bellamy was introduced by Dr. Herbert Derman, who like the principal speaker is a teacher, a director of a laboratory and a clinical pathologist.

Dr. Bellamy stressed the value of the medical technologist in modern medical practice. In particular, it was pointed out how important the hospital laboratory technician is to the care and welfare of the hospital patient. Dr. Bellamy urged that all laboratory analyses be carefully performed and honestly reported, and that any unusual or uncertain result be doubly checked and brought to the attention of the laboratory supervisor.

Attending the exercises were representatives of the Kingston Hospital, Benedictine Hospital, County Health Department, the Board of Supervisors, and the Board of Managers of the City of Kingston Laboratory.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Daniel J. Shea, PRVF, St. Mary's Church, offered the invocation, and the concluding benediction was given by the Rev. George P. Werner, Supt. of the Methodist District, Kingston.

The graduates have accepted employment as technicians in local clinical laboratories.

Teeners Risk Health

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Numbers of teen-agers here are risking their health by inhaling the vapor of model airplane cement for the drunken feeling it provides, police say.

No arrests have been made but several youths have been treated for the effects of the vapor. Authorities said one youth was unconscious for 15 minutes.

Beside a narcotic danger, doctors say the vapor can seriously injure the kidneys and liver and cuts the red cell count in the blood to dangerously low levels.

Suit Is Settled For Negligence And Malpractice

With the settlement Thursday of an action for negligence and malpractice brought in Supreme Court by Michael Burke, formerly of High Falls, the June term of Supreme Court was adjourned to chambers of Justice William Deckelman and all jurors were excused.

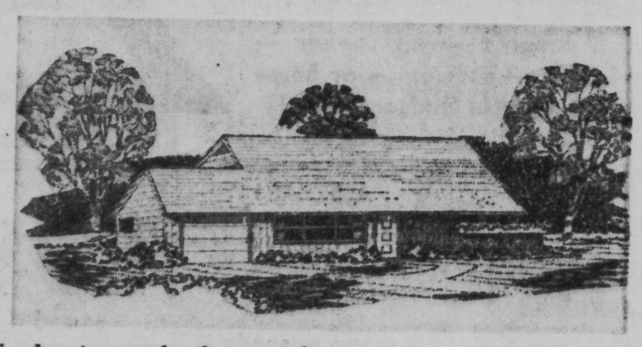

Burke brought an action against the Kingston Hospital, Dr. David S. Gerbarg, Dr. Glenn Van Gaasbeek and Mrs. Elizabeth O'Leary, nurse, for alleged damages which he said were caused by an infection he contracted while a patient at the hospital. Entering the hospital for treatment for peptic ulcer, Burke alleged an infection of his arm developed. It was treated and he left the hospital but later was required to return to the hospital and undergo an operation on the arm. He alleged negligence in sterilization of hospital equipment used in treatment. Alfred Julian and Philip Korn of Kerhonkson appeared for plaintiff. Joseph Balsamo appeared for Dr. Gerbarg, Donald H. McCann for the hospital, Donald Fager for Dr. Van Gaasbeek and Howard C. St. John for Mrs. O'Leary.

No announcement was made as to the terms of settlement.

Moose Club, Vets, K of C Score Close Wins in Babe Ruth Loop

One-run games were featured in the Kingston Babe Ruth league action last night. Moose nipped Kiwanis, 8-7; VFW beat Rotary, 4-3; and K of C went eight innings to stop the Legion, 3-2.

Jim Williams delivered a two-run single in the seventh inning to give the Moose its triumph. The winners were set back when Kiwanis tallied six times in the first inning. Brian Bach was the winner with some nifty relief work.

Mike Burns led the Kiwanis entry with a double and triple and he also scored twice.

The winners tied the score in the sixth and then won it in the seventh frame.

Pete Roberts slugged a leadoff homer in the bottom of the eighth to give the K of C club its decision over the Legion. Ron Schabot had homered earlier for the losers.

Grand Jury Move Hints College Grid Inquiry

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Extension of the grand jury term to Dec. 29 increased speculation today that Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan's investigation of fixes in college basketball would move on to college football.

Hogan's office would make no co. ment or expand on the announcement of the third extension of the grand jury's term, which came in the wake of the indictment of New York lawyer Charles Tucker as a ninth alleged fixer in the three-month old basketball mess.

Reports, however, have been circulating that football would—or has—come under scrutiny ever since the arrest of convicted football fixer Aaron Wagman of New York as a basketball manipulator back on March 17.

Wagman, since indicted on 37 counts of bribery and attempted bribery in the basketball scandal, was free on bail when Hogan first moved. The 28-year-old New Yorker was preparing an appeal from his conviction in Jacksonville, Fla., on charges of trying to bribe a Florida football player for a game with Florida State last September.

Dave Budin, another alleged basketball fixer and former Brooklyn College player, last fall was arrested in Michigan after a University of Oregon halfback reported a bribe attempt concerning Oregon's football game with the University of Michigan. Bribery charges against Budin eventually were dismissed but he was convicted on a charge of registering under a false name at a motel.

37 Now Involved

Thursday's basketball disclosures, which brought the current scandal to a count of 37 players from 22 colleges involving 48 games, named Tucker on three counts of bribery and one of conspiracy involving players from Connecticut, Detroit, Columbia and New York University. Indictment of Tucker also described an alleged attempt to reach players at the University of Oregon.

Named were Charlie North and John Morgan, the No.'s 2 and 3 scorers last season for the University of Detroit; and James Granata, 21, of New York, a substitute for Oregon in 1959 and 1960.

Hogan said Lou Barshak, Michael Siegel and Budin—all of the New York area — conspired to bribe North and Morgan for $1,000 a game for four games, including one with top-ranked Ohio State. The players, Hogan said, got only $50 each for "spending money".

Granata, Hogan said was approached by Tucker last fall and asked to sound out Oregon players. Granata was agreeable. Hogan said, but "there is no evidence he did anything about it." Granata left school. North and Morgan were dismissed by Detroit earlier this month.

In Tucker's dealings, Hogan said, he made offers to Pete Kelly of Connecticut, Ray Paprocky of NYU, and Fred Portnoy of Columbia—all of whom have been mentioned previously in the scandal.

Barshak, who has been arrested in the concurrent investigation conducted by North Carolina authorities, and Siegel were roommates at Los Angeles City Junior College.

Perlman-Thayer High in Bridge

An exceptionally high 68 per cent game gave Dr. Paul Perlman of Woodstock and Harry Thayer of Kingston first place on the East-West side of the Glenerie Bridge Club's monthly Master point match.

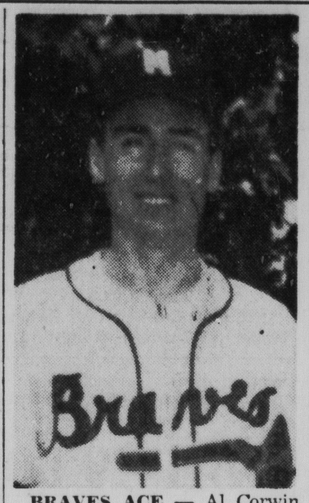

Leaders on the North-South side were Miss Marie Degenhardt of Poughkeepsie and Mrs. I. H. Wheatcroft of Kingston, with 62 per cent. Twenty-four boards were in play in a 12-table Mitchell movement.

Other leaders on the North-South side included: Mr. and Mrs. H. Ettlinger, Poughkeepsie, 61 per cent; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brooks, Hyde Park, 58 per cent; Dr. and Mrs. Harry McNamara, Hurley, 56 per cent.

Herbert Gertner and Joseph Pechloff, Kingston, posted 56½ per cent on the East-West side. Tied with 56 percent were the teams of Richard Swindells and Lawrence Fishbach of Kingston; and Robert Smith and Emil Jensen of Poughkeepsie.

Mulkey Favored To Win Decathlon

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Phil Mulkey of Memphis has been installed as the favorite to win the National AAU Decathlon tonight and Saturday.

Tonight the contestants will compete in the 100-meter dash, broad jump, shot put, high jump and the 400-meter dash. Saturday they take on the 110-meter hurdles, discus, pole vault, javelin and 1,500-meter run.

Mulkey, a 26-year-old school teacher, has unofficially bettered the official world decathlon record of Rafer Johnson. Johnson's record is 8,683 points.

Mulkey scored 8,709 points in the Southeastern AAU at Memphis two weeks ago, but his performance was not on an AAU approved field.

Willie Wrecks Phillies

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie Mays' hot bat carried San Francisco in a twi-night doubleheader sweep at Philadelphia Thursday night as the Giants returned to second place in the National League race by winning 8-7 in 10 innings, and 4-1.

Willie hit three homers in the opener, putting it away with the 299th of his career, and added a triple and a double in the nightcap.

That put the Giants in second place by .002 percentage points over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who lost 4-2 at Pittsburgh. It also put the Giants within 2½ games of first place Cincinnati, after the Reds dropped their third in a row, 15-8, to the Chicago Cubs in the only other NL game scheduled.

Mays upped his batting average 13 points to .331 in the sweep and drove in five runs with his three homers in the opener. His first two, both two-run shots, were off reliever Dallas Green and gave the Giants a 4-4 tie after three innings. He won it with his 20th home run of the season, off Frank Sullivan (3-8).

In the second game, Mays tripled home the Giants' first run as they scored three in the fourth inning off loser Art Mahaffey (7-8). Billy Loes (5-5), knocked out as a reliever in the opener, took the nightcap with a five-hitter.

Lehman Starts

In the first game, southpaw Ken Lehman started for the Phils, gave up a single and a walk—and left. Billy O'Dell started for the Giants, faced one man (who singled)—and gave way to Sam Jones in a four-run first. Juan Marichal (6-4), working in relief for the first time, was the winner.

The seventh place Cubs, who lost only the opener of the four-game series, kissed the Reds goodbye with 17 hits, four of them homers, and beat Jim Maloney (4-4). Don Cardwell (7-5) was the winner. Cardwell slugged one of the Cubs' homers along with Billy Williams, Al Heist and George Altman—who now leads the NL with a .352 average.

Earl Francis (1-2) and reliever Elroy Face checked the Dodgers on three hits while the Pirates, blanked on four hits for seven innings, came from behind and beat Sandy Koufax (10-4) with four runs in the eighth.

All three Dodger hits were off Francis, who struck out 10 in his eight innings and gave up both runs on three walks and a single by Tommy Davis in the first inning.

Saugerties Fish and Game Club Opposes Reconstruction of Noted Trout Streams

The Saugerties Fish and Game Club has gone on record as opposing the present state engineers plan for reconstruction of Route 17 in the Beaverkill and Willowemoc Valleys.

A resolution to that effect was passed at the June meeting of the club and the organization's feelings will be made known to Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson and State Senator E. Ogden Bush.

The present plan, if carried through, would mean the virtual destruction of these world famous trout streams as they have been known for many years, the resolution said.

The resolution further pointed out that the building of many bridges, the relocation of the whole stream bed in many places, plus extensive gravel fill operations in others, would change these beautiful trout streams to barren stretches of washed out waterbeds. The noise of many automobiles whizzing by would take the place of the songs of the blackbirds and the numerous other birds which now inhabit the trees and brush bordering the stream.

All this destruction is not necessary, the club contends. Alternate routes are available, but the highway engineers seem intent on disregarding the alternatives.

The resolution posed the following questions: Could it be they (the engineers) are looking for a challenge in the difficulties of building a road up and over the streams? Why do they disregard the fact that thousands of our people enjoy many hours of fun, fishing and swimming in these streams? Does civilization need to progress to the point where we have nothing left to give out but a few moments of pleasure and relaxation?

The Saugerties resolution was triggered by a discussion of an article by Harry Darbie in the June-July issue of "Conservation Council Comments," which pertained to the fight to protect the famous Beaverkill stream against the ravages of the state public works department.

The officers and members of the Saugerties club are also requesting every person with the slightest interest in this matter to make their protests known to Senator Bush and Assemblyman Wilson.

The club warns persons in and outside of sportsmen's organizations: "Remember, these streams may be a little far away for you to fish often, but the day may come when your favorite stream may be threatened by the bulldozer, the drag line bucket—and the state highway department engineers."

Club members are also invited to meet on Saturday, July 8, at 2 p. m. at the Saugerties Sales and Service garage for the purpose of looking over two parcels of land which are available to the club for purchase for use as a building site.

Johnson Is 9-5 To Beat Machen

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Heavyweight contender Eddie Machen gets a chance to redeem himself Saturday night when he takes on NBA light heavyweight champion Harold Johnson in a television non-title 10-rounder at Convention Hall.

Although he is the No. 2 contender and has lost only three pro fights, the 28-year-old boxer-puncher from Portland, Ore., is a 9-5 underdog to the co-holder of the 175-pound crown.

One reason is Johnson's winning streak of 14 over a 4½-year span. Another is Machen's failure to win his key fights.

The trim 6-footer had an unbeaten record of 24 victories and one draw when he was blitzed in one round by Ingemar Johansson in Sweden, Sept. 14, 1958. This was the springboard victory that led the Swede to the world heavyweight title.

In his two major fights last year, Machen was outpointed by his two rivals for high-ranking honors, Zora Folley and Sonny Liston.

Since the loss to Liston, now the No. 1 contender, Machen has won three straight. He outpointed Wayne Bethea last year and this year knocked out Garvin Sawyer in five and outpointed Mike DeJohn in ten.

This made his record 37-3-1 including 21 knockouts.

Johnson, 32, has two ambitions. One is a return bout with Archie Moore, who still is recognized as light heavyweight champion in New York, Massachusetts and Europe. The other is a shot at Patterson. At the moment he's a long way from both.

The Philadelphian finally obtained a title, when he gained NBA recognition by flattening Jesse Bowdry in the ninth round last February. The NBA had designated this fight to determine the successor to Moore. It had stripped ole. Archie of his crown for failure to defend within reasonable time.

Johnson has knocked out five of his last six opponents. His record is 65-8 including 31 knockouts. He has been stopped four times.

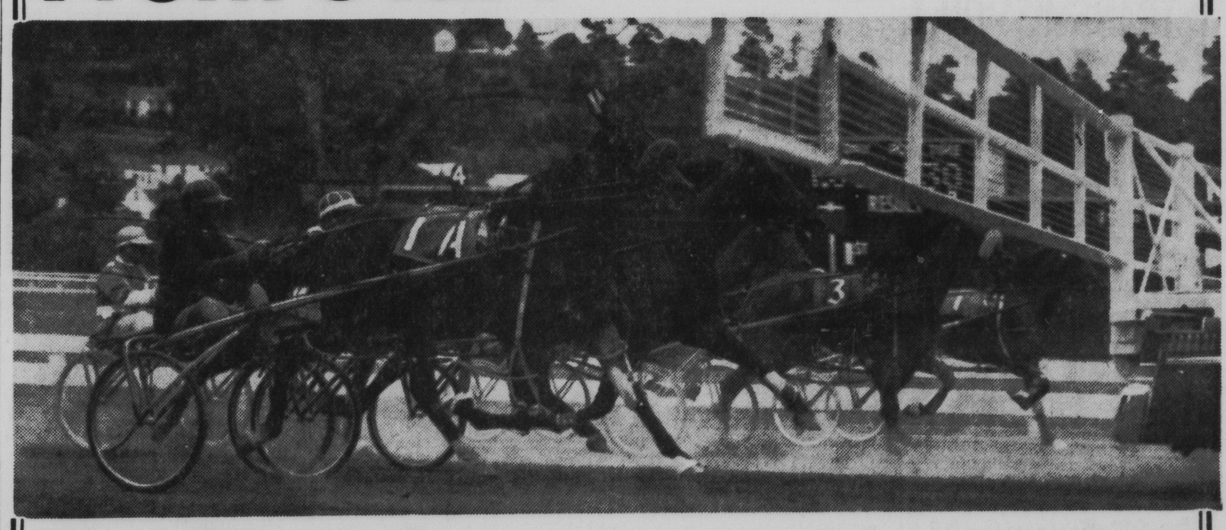

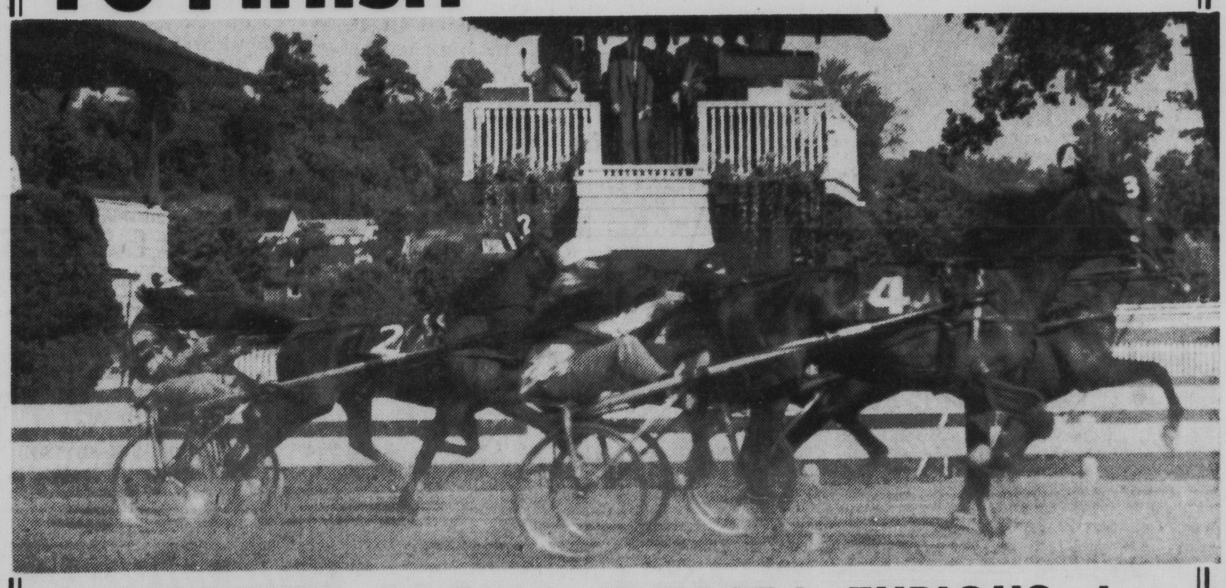

The bout will be telecast nationally by ABC-TV.

Invitational Pace Slated Saturday at Monticello

MONTICELLO — Monticello Raceway has planned a classy Invitational Pace for Saturday night to help highlight a big four-night Fourth of July holiday racing program.

The Mighty M has drawn from the New York racing circuit for at least two starters and possibly four for Saturday's feature.

Free-legged veteran Kenny J., and consistent Clever Yankee will make their first starts of the season at Monticello.

Racing secretary Jim Dunnigan announced that Pat Iovine's raising star Mo Jo and hard-hitting Spangler Goose are other potential out- of-town starters.

However, it won't be known until sometime today when the entires are dropped in the box if Mo Jo and Spangler Goose will start.

Youthful Lucien Fontaine is expected to drive Clever Yankee who is in the Billy Haughton stable.

Matched against the invaders probably will be Winbee, Red Dominion, Explorer, and Donna Goose.

Winbee won last Saturday's $2000 Invitational in 2:04.1. Red Dominion was two lengths back in second.

Winbee is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clukey of Harrington, Del., and trained and driven by the Clukeys son-in-law, Ned Galentine.

Chuck McKinley Main U. S. Hope At Wimbledon

By JOHN GALE

WIMBLEDON (AP)—America's main hope in the 75th Wimbledon tennis championships is husky Chuck McKinley, who says he's sworn off throwing tennis rackets and plans to win titles from now on.

McKinley, 20, from St. Louis, was suspended for six months after a racket throwing episode in the Davis Cup interzone finals in Australia last year. But looking every inch the serene young gent, he has progressed to the last 16 of this name pulling tournament showing virtually no temperament at all.

McKinley Thursday reached the last 16 with a 6-3, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2 triumph over Poland's Vladimir Gasiorek.

First 50-Lap Race

Rebel Harris Gunning For Fifth Feature Win

This time, the inaugural 50-lap event of the season is expected to attract the strongest field of the season, including Johnny Flach, the South Westerlo veteran who has been missing the past few weeks.

Sunday's 50-lapper will set the Onteora Speedway racing buffs in a receptive mood for the gala 4th of July big car, Indianapolis-type, racing program by the Sam Nunis circuit out of Trenton.

Stretch Van Steenburgh, the Saugerties whiz, chased Harris across the line Wednesday night at Lebanon Valley and may catch him this time. If he doesn't, Harris can look for plenty of trouble from Walt Schubert, Ernie Beesmer, Don Avery, the points leader and others.

Fights Last Night

San Francisco — Alejandro Lavorante, 203½, Argentina, outpointed Monroe Ratliff, 189, Los Angeles, 10.

Rex Cawley Top Track Star in '61

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Rex Cawley, University of Southern California sophomore, topped National Collegiate individual track and field statistics for 1961, the NCAA's final report for the spring campaign showed today.

Cawley had the best time in the 220-yard low hurdles, a :22.5 clocking, to edge Ray Cunningham of Texas and Ron Ablowich of Georgia Tech by one-tenth of a second. His :49.9 was fastest for the 400-meter hurdles.

The Southern California flash shared the 440-yard dash time of :46.2 with Earl Young of Abilene-Christian and Adolph Plummer, New Mexico's NCAA champion. Cawley also anchored USC's mile relay team to an intercollegiate record of 3:07.6, matched later by Abilene Christian.

Orbiter Sets Two Marks In Runnymede

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Orbiter won both divisions of the $10,000 Runnymede Trot, a Grand Circuit event at Saratoga Raceway, and set two records in doing so.

Orbiter won the first dash last night in 2:02 3-5, the best time in the nation this year for three-year-old trotters. He established a track record for three-year-old trotters, erasing the previous Runnymede mark of 2:03 set by Hickory Smoke in 1957.

Driven by Ralph Baldwin, Orbiter paid $6.60. Caleb was a length behind and Duke Rodney, previous holder of the season mark for three-year-old trotters (2:02 4-5; finished third.

Orbiter's time for the second dash was 2:03 3-5. Spectator was second and Frostbite third. Orbiter and Spectator, an entry as in the first dash, paid $3.70. Both horses now are eligible for the Hambletonian, classic for three-year-old trotters.

A national season record for two-year-old pacers on a half-mile track was set at Buffalo Raceway by Mighty Tarheel with a 2:04 4-5 mile.

Reynolds Memorial

Mighty Tarheel won the final $8,377 pace of the W. N. Reynolds Memorial Stakes and returned $5.30. Play Bill was second and Knight Latch was third. Mighty Tarheel, Play Bill and Miracle Knight also won elimination dashes in the windup of the Reynolds events, which had a total purse of $20,943 last night.

At other New York tracks it was a night for stretch racers:

Roosevelt Raceway — Merrie Adios rocketed from last to first place in the stretch to net the $4,500 Class A-1 Pace event. The winner, clocked at 2:01 4-5, paid $7.20. Flying Time was second and Champ Volo finished third. John Patterson drove Merrie Adios.

Vernon Downs—Sal's Gal put on a burst of speed after dropping back from third to sixth to take the $1,200 Class B-3 Trot in 2:05 4-5. Driven by Angus Allen, Sal's Gal paid $12.70. Meadow Gaines crossed the wire next, followed by Mighty Freight.

In the co-feature, My Darlyn stepped a 2:04 1-5 mile to return $4.90. The winner was driven by Bob Walker. Essie Gallon was second and Dennis third.

Speedy Raceaway Is Entered in Goshen Cup Race

GOSHEN — Raceway has two things going for him. He's fast and he has Joe O'Brien training and driving him. Raceway is a two-year-old pacer in the S. A. Camp Farm and he'll show his speed in the $13,000 Goshen Cup at Historic Track next Thursday.

The pacing colt already holds a season mark of 2:04 on a mile track and was the first two-year-old of 1961 to duck under 2:05. O'Brien will have to watch for another pacing whiz — Miracle Knight, winner two times on the Maryland Circuit this spring.

Grand Circuit week at Historic starts July 3 and winds up July 7—and what a wind-up! Two stake races, one for the folks who like the trotters, another for the pacing fans. The pace brings in the three-year-olds for the $6,000 Orange County Cup. Hogan Hanover looks good, having won the Governor's Cup at Roosevelt Raceway on June 17 in 2:04.1. Knight Champ has been coming home first many times in '61, too. Sweet Miriam paced away with the Reading Futurity, while Poplar Harry and Sandra Dares were picking up trophies elsewhere. Take your choice.

Historic Track's final day of harness racing brings out the old pros for the $14,500 Titan Free-for-All. These are the trotters that have piled up $50,000 or more in winnings and entered are three who have season records. They're Arden Homestead Stable's Family Man, 2:01; Hickory Pride, 2:02; and Su Mac Lad, 2:01. The Titan is bound to be a thriller with other great trotters such as Elaine Rodney, Great Lullwater, Steamin' Demon, Tie Silk and Darn Safe in there, also. Darn Safe won it last year and again in 1958. If he takes it next Friday, Darn Safe will be the first triple-time winner of the famous stake.

Name Griffith Boxer of Month

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—The National Boxing Association has named welterweight champion Emile Griffith of New York its boxer-of-the-month for June.

Tony Petronella, NBA ratings committee chairman, announced Thursday Griffith won the honor on the strength of his successful defense against Gaspar Ortega of Mexico.

In its monthly ratings the NBA did not rank unbeaten Tom McNeeley, Arlington, Mass., heavyweight who is virtually assured of a title shot against champion Floyd Patterson in Boston in the fall.

The NBA named the following for honorable mention in June: middleweights Obdullo Nunes of Puerto Rico and Yama Bahama of Bimini, lightweight Eddie Perkins of Chicago, bantamweight Johnny Caldwell of Ireland, welterweight Ralph Dupas of New Orleans and featherweight-newcomer Jose Luis Cruz of Mexico.

The Nimrod's Corner

By Old Doc

In the early days of our country, the land truly did teem with wildlife. To us today, the numbers reported seemed fantastic. Great flights of passenger pigeons in migration darkened the skies. Their numbers were estimated by naturalists even into the billions. The supply seemed inexhaustible. They were slaughtered for the market by any and every means possible—gun, net and club. Today the passenger pigeon can be found only as a stuffed specimen in a case in a museum. He has joined the ranks of the extinct species.

In the early days, buffalo herds ranged the great plains by the many millions. Man deliberately sought to exterminate them. The animals were decimated by commercial hunters as transportation lines moved westward. Buffalo exist today on refuges and protected ranges only in the limited numbers permitted by the existing forage. They were in great numbers only when they had the vast prairies for their homes and could range widely at will and get the food they needed. Men changed that with the plow, wire fence and economic enterprises.

MISUSE MUST STOP

All of this means just one thing. No matter how great a wildlife resource may be, it can be lost if man continues to misuse and sweep bare the countryside of required food and cover.

Today we face a challenge to preserve another and a most important segment of habitat needed by wildlife—our wetlands. Please still remember—the past is prologue—relate to me your history and I will foretell to you your future.

Wetlands, meaning lands covered with shallow water for all or part of the year, are the richest of all our wildlife habitats. The dependence of migratory waterfowl, from the Canada goose to the green-winged teal, on wetlands is so well known as to need little discussion. Our marshes, swamps, bogs, estuaries, shallow streams and lake margins are also essential to other wildlife and form an incidental but valuable part of the habitat of many more.

The wetland inventory published by the Fish and Wildlife Service recently lists 38 game and furbearing species reported by the various states as making use of one or more of the 20 types of wetlands. The importance of wetlands to these speciies varied from the casual use by squarrels in the north to the utter dependence of the alligator in the south.

While much of our big game and our puland game does not require water itself except for drinking, and makes little use of aquatic vegetation, wetlands in many areas provide much of the available dense vegetation, valuable as food and cover. This food and cover, not necessarily aquatic in nature, is the main reason for the high value of wetlands to bear, squirrel, rabbits and grouse.

DRAMA OF THE WETLANDS

Those who would watch the dignified heron stalk his dinner, glimpse the stately egret or listen to the excited marsh wren must go to the wetland areas. The song of the spring peeper is not heard elsewhere, nor is the croak of a bullfrog on a sunny afternoon.

There are at present, about four and one-half million acres of necessary wetands which we must obtain if we are to keep our migratory waterfowl at an even keel—much less build the flocks.

It is estimated it will take $150,000,000 to do the job. Using duck stamp money on a pay as you go basis, it will take from 38 to 40 years to complete this job. Thus time becomes our enemy. We cannot wait that long—the entire resource will be depleted. So Congress is being asked to "loan" $150,000,000 now—payable to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service in $50,000,000 chunks, so that it can accelerate and complete that program.

Baltusrol Par Foils Women's Field in Open

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — It was a battle of survival today as the 82 pros and amateurs competing in the 16th annual Women's National Open Golf Tournament went into the second round.

The field is due to be cut to the low 40 and ties for the final two rounds Saturday.

Based on the opening round scores Thursday it appeared a 36-hole total of 164 might make it, so rugged is the 6,372-yard, par 36-36—72 yard Baltusral lower course.

Only two players were able to match par in the first round and only 17 of the 82 starters could break 80. The 80 or over performers included such tournament-seasoned pro s and Mrs. Marlene Bauer Hagge, Betty Jameson, Patty Berg and Beverl yHanson.

Mickey Wright and JoAnn Prentice were the par shooters. Mickey, second to Louise Suggs as top money winner this year, had 37-35—72, and JoAnn, a sharpshooter who has yet to win a tournament in five years as a pro, carded a like score.

Campbell Leads With 4-Under 68 In Flint Open

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Joe Campbell was a tricky long-distance shooter on the basketball court and now he's doing it from far out as a pro golfer.

Campbell-never a major winner on the golf course but a big earner last year when he sank a hole in one for a $50,000 bonus-made good on another faraway shot Thursday.

It gave him a one-stroke first round lead in the $53,000 Flint Open.

The former Purdue basketball jump shot artist finished with a four-under-par 35-33—68. He leads Dan Sikes by one stroke entering today's second round.

The more experienced pros found elongated Warwick Hills a treacherour enemy. Only 17 players in the 159-man field bettered par-72 on the 7,280-yard layout, longest on the tour.

Sikes, another relative unknown from Jacksonville, Fla., also topped all the big names with his 35-34—69. This was his best showing since he started touring this year.

But the experienced golfers follow within easy striking distance of Campbell. Lionel Hebert, Jerry Magee, and defending champion Mike Souchak had 70s. Cary Middlecoff and Al Balding were among those with 71. Doug Ford, Dow Finsterwald, former Flint champions Art Wall and Bill Casper, and Sam Snead were listed among the 72s.

Commander Lists Rules of Safety For Boat Owners

Boating can be dangerous unless the boat owner is aware of its hazards, said Donald F. Clark, Commander of the Mid-Hudson Power Squad, in a pre-4th of July interview today.

Noting that the week of July 2-8 has been designated National Safe Boating Week by proclamation of President Kennedy, Commander Clark said that, despite the tremendous increase in boat owners, there has not been a proportionate rise in accidents.

Every boat owner should consider every week and every day the time for safety, said Clark. He listed the following rules as his Ten Commandments for boating safety:

1. Before starting out, be sure there is a U. S. Coast Guard approved life jacket aboard and readily accessible for every individual on the boat; (2) Be certain that there are the required number of filled fire extinguishers handy; (3) before gassing up, kill all the lighted cigarets, cigars or pipes and any open flames. Close all windows, doors and hatches; (4) keep the nozzle of the gas hose in firm contact with the filler pipe;

Also, after refueling, air the boat and bilge thoroughly before starting engine; (6) know and follow the Rules of the Road; (7) check to see that you have the correct charts of the waters you'll navigate and use them intelligently; (8) know your Aids to Navigation; (9) don't take chances; (10) do take advantage of the courses offered gratis by the United States Power Squadron in your area.

Columbus Loses Ace Relief Pitcher

The props supporting Columbus' first place lead in the International League may be just a little weaker today now that Al McBean has gone up to the parent Pittsburgh Pirates.

McBean, a mainstay in Columbus' bullpen all season, may have proven that Thursday night when he saved the Jets 4-3 victory over Toronto and picked up his fourth triumph in seven decisions. The victory, coupled with second-place Charleston's 7-6 loss to Syracuse, increased Columbus' lead to four games.

In other IL action, Buffalo defeated Richmond 6-3 and the Rochester Red Wings won over Jersey City 4-3.

Orioles Win 5th Straight

The Baltimore Orioles won their fifth in a row by beating Kansas City 6-2 behind the two-hit pitching of Dick Hall Thursday night. It was the eighth victory in nine games for the fourth place Birds, who open a three-game set against the American League leading Detroit Tigers tonight.

Detroit handed the Chicago White Sox a second straight loss, 5-2, for a two-game bulge over the idle New York Yankees. Third place Cleveland dropped six games behind with a 3-1 loss to Washington, the Indians' 10th defeat in 12 games. Boston beat Minnesota 9-5.

The Orioles came from behind against Lew Krausse (1-2), the $125,000 right-hander who gave up eight hits and five earned runs in 5 1-3 innings. A single by Jim Gentile and an error tied it 2-all in the fifth inning, and Baltimore then broke it up with a four-run sixth triggered by Russ Snyder's two-run triple.

Frank Lary won his 11th for the Tigers, out-dueling Cal McClish (4-7) in 93-degree heat at Detroit. A two-run triple by rookie Dick McAuliffe, off reliever Turk Lown, broke a 2-2 tie when Detroit scored three in the seventh. Billy Bruton, who hit a two-run homer in the third, brought in the final run with a sacrifice fly. Floyd Robinson homered for the Sox.

Washington clipped Cleveland on home runs by Billy Klaus and Marty Keough behind the six-hit pitching of winner Johnny Gabler (3-2) and reliever Dave Sisler. Wynn Hawkins (5-7) was the loser for the Indians, who scored in the seventh inning on two errors.

Frank Malzone hit a pair of home runs for the Red Sox, one a three-run shot that clinched it as they came from behind with six runs in the fifth inning off Bert Cueto (0-3). Arnie Early, recalled the day before from Seattle, was the winner in relief.

Mays Boosts His Average to .331 After Great Day

"I just like to go out and play," he explained Thursday night after a tremendous display of hitting and fielding which hoisted the San Francisco Giants to an 8-7, 4-1 doubleheader sweep of Philadelphia.

Mays belted three homers—all in the 10-inning opener—a triple, double and single, batted in seven runs and scored four.

He said he connected on sliders on the first two homers off Dallas Green but caught a fast ball on the payoff shot which won the opener in the 10th with Frank Sullivan pitching.

The fleet-footed centerfielder hiked his homer total to 20 to tie for the leadership in the National League with teammate Orlando Cepeda. He boosted his batting average 13 points to .331 to move into fourth place among the leaders in this department and upped his RBI total to 55, third best in the league.

"I just hope I can keep it up," he said, while shrugging off praise. "We still have the last half (of the season) to go."

Mays, 30, said he thought Thursday night's spree was one of the best of his 10-year major league career.

3 Million More May Be Eligible

Provisions Spelled Out Of New Housing Bill

EDITOR'S NOTE—What does the housing bill which President Kennedy may sign today mean to the home buyer? What are its other effects? Joe Hall, veteran AP Senate newsman who covered the bill on its congressional journey, spells out its provisions in the following story.

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials estimated today that the new housing bill could make 3 million moderate income families eligible to buy their own homes.

Other millions may find better housing in moderate rental apartments under the bill's new programs.

Tentative Estimates

These tentative estimates came as the housing and home finance agency took a close look at the $5,646,000,000 measure sent to President Kennedy Wednesday.

In his March housing message to Congress, Kennedy said, in effect, that the housing needs of upper bracket families had been met in the post World War II boom—mostly in new suburban developments.

Government housing officials have emphasized the legislation will be administered with this in mind.

The chief provision which will make more families eligible to buy homes is the extension of the mortgage term from 30 years to a maximum of 40 years under the moderate income family section.

FHA figures this will cut the monthly payment on a $15,000 house—the most expensive the agency will insure under the new program—from $82.95 to $74.85. The stretch-out also would increase the total interest the home buyer would pay.

It is this reduction in monthly payments which brought the rough estimates of eligibility under FHA income rules for 3 million more families.

The bill would give the moderate income family a 35-year mortgage as a matter of right. The term could be lengthened to 40 years if the FHA commissioner felt the buyer's income was inadequate to make the payments under a 35-year loan.

The down payment on a $15,000 house would be $450. Closing costs could be included in the loan.

The sponsors think several million more families may be able to afford apartments that could be built with a subsidized 3½ per cent interest rate and government money under the moderate income program.

The individual home buyer above the $6,000 level also will get easier terms on FHA loans under the general insurance program.

He could obtain a 35-year mortgage, as compared with the present 30-year ceiling, and get an insured loan on a $25,000 home as against the present $22,500 top.

He also is given a somewhat smaller down payment schedule. This works out, for example, to $1,575 on a $22,500 house as compared with $2,205 under present law.

Senate Approves Plan to Revamp FTC, Air Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over solid Republican opposition, the Senate has approved President Kennedy's plan to reorganize the Federal Trade Commission and the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Both plans previously had been upheld in the House. Thus Kennedy has a tally of two victories and two defeats in his efforts to, as he put it, streamline various regulatory agencies.

The House previously rejected a reorganization plan for the Federal Communications Commission and only last week the Senate turned down one for the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Still awaiting action are Kennedy's plans to reorganize the National Labor Relations Board, the Maritime Board, and the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

Westchester Girl Still Critical, Injured Monday

Still critical today at Kingston Hospital is Lucy M. Finlayson, 18, of Rye, Westchester County, who was severely injured in a mishap Monday night on Route 28 at Allaben.

A companion, Anne G. Moffat, 18, of Bedford Hills, was killed in the mishap.

The car bounced off a large tree and was in collision with a 1957 convertible operated by Eric Berglund, 36, of Malden-on-Hudson. In the Berglund car were Mrs. Katherine Sue Lewis, 21, of Cementon, Greene County and her three children. Mrs. Lewis was admitted to Kingston Hospital with lacerations and possible chest injuries. Her condition today is reported as fair.

Miss Finlayson and Miss Moffat had been staying at the home of Miss Finlayson's grandmother, Mrs. Lucy M. MacBride of Shandaken.

Chrysler, UAW Talk

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp., the only one of the big three automakers in the red this year, sits down today with the United Auto Workers to begin bargaining on new wage contracts which the union says must break new ground and develop new concepts.

The UAW already has put Chrysler on notice it will not listen to a plea of poverty and will expect Chrysler to meet terms of contracts it is negotiating simultaneously with General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co., others of the big three.

Bare Soviet Blast

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials say a blast that could have been caused by a small atomic device or chemical explosives occurred last Jan. 31 in the Soviet Union, east of the Finnish border.

The size of the explosion was estimated as equivalent to between 50 and 100 tons of TNT. The first U.S. atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima had a blast equivalent of 20,000 tons of TNT.

Kuwait Moving Help to Border

KUWAIT (AP)—Armored reinforcements moved up to Kuwait's ill-defined northern border with Iraq today to face Iraqi armor reported here at two brigades.

The border so far has been reported quiet, but officials said Iraqi forces had been strengthened along the frontier since Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem last week laid claim to the oil-rich sheikdom on the Persian Gulf after Britain gave it independence.

FBI Is Probing Pentagon Leaks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI is investigating the leaking of secrets at the Pentagon, the White House says.

News Secretary Pierre Salinger announced the investigation on Thursday night but declined to discuss its nature or what set it off. He said only: "There is an FBI investigation today of leaking of secrets at the Pentagon."

But the Chicago Sun-Times in a dispatch from Washington said President Kennedy ordered the FBI and military intelligence agencies to find out how a national publication got secret information on military plans for Berlin.

The Sun-Times story by Thomas B. Ross said: "Mr. Kennedy was appalled at reading about the Joint Chiefs of Staff's contingency plan for the Berlin crisis in a national publication before it reached him in the White House.

"He immediately directed the FBI and the military intelligence agencies to find out how the highly classified information had leaked to the press."

From High Official

The Sun-Times added: "The published report on the joint chiefs' contingency plan contained enough accuracy to persuade Mr. Kennedy that it was wilfully disclosed by a high official in the Pentagon."

The Sun-Times dispatch did not identify the national publication but it apparently was a reference to a Newsweek magazine edition which went on sale Monday.

Newsweek said the Joint Chiefs of Staff would present to Kennedy this week a plan for action in the Berlin situation, calling for a "show of strength" in an attempt to convince the Soviet Union that the United Sates does not intend to retreat from Berlin.

Newsweek reported the United States is prepared to back its commitments to West Berlin "even at the risk of nuclear war."

Many Sign At KHS for Courses

Registration for Kingston Summer High School was reported "very heavy" this morning by Assistant Superintendent of Schools Franklin Hazard who also announced that there will definitely be a summer school on the elementary level.

There had been some question about the elementary level because of an apparent lack of interest. However, 84 pre-registrations have been received, with others anticipated, Hazard pointed out.

Registrations to date will support four classes—a fourth grade section, a combined section of grades five and six, and two primary sections. Hazard said there is staff enough to handle any number of pupils.

To Sign Up Wednesday

Any questions about elementray summer school may be directed to Principal Ambrose J. Boyd of the Washington School.

Hazard said students were still registering late this morning for the summer high school and that officials anticipated a final registration of at least 800.

Come From Area

River Excursion To Reenact Trip Of Mary Powell

Reenactment of the Mary Powell's first trip on the Hudson Tuesday, July 18 will mark the 100th anniversary of her launching at Jersey City, N. J., and the sesquicentennial of the founding of the Town of Esopus.

The Town of Esopus will conduct the steamboat excursion from Kingston Point to New York and return on the Peter Stuyvesant of the Hudson River Day Line.

The vessel will leave Newcombe's dock at 8 a. m. and is scheduled to arrive in New York City at about 1 p. m. on the Day Line pier, foot of West 41st Street. On the return trip the steamer will leave New York City at 5 p. m. and is scheduled to reach Kingston Point at about 9:30 p. m. There will be an orchestra aboard for dancing and cafeteria service will be available.

For over 50 years the Mary Powell, the Queen of the Hudson was one of the most famous river steamboats. During the summer months she made daily trips from Rondout to New York City and return.

The excursion this year has particular significance as the year 1961 marks the 100th anniversary of the "Mary Powell's" launching.

The Queen of the Hudson has several close connections with the Town of Esopus. For a number of years after her launching the vessel wintered at Port Ewen, and in later years her lay up berth was the Sunflower Dock, east of Sleightsburgh.

Captain Absalom L. Anderson, the man who had the Mary Powell built and was her commander for many years, also maintained a residence in the Town of Esopus just south of Port Ewen. During this period, the "Powell" would blow a salute on her whistle every evening when passing the Anderson homestead.

Launching Marred

The launching of the Mary Powell was originally scheduled for the afternoon of July 29, 1861, at the yard of her builder Michael S. Allison of Jersey City. However, to the consternation of those present she stuck on the ways and the actual launching did not take place until August 1.

Such an event in maritime circles is usually considered an omen of ill luck. The delay, however, had no effect on the Mary Powell for she went on to become not only one of the best known river steamers in Am-

Historian To Talk at Centennial

Principal speaker Saturday at the Civil War Centennial observance in the Senate House Museum will be Dr. Albert B. Corey of Albany, state historian for the State University of New York.

The program will start at 2 p. m.

Dr. Corey holds Master's, Ph.D. and Doctor of Literature degrees.

The ceremonies will mark the opening of the Civil War Room at the museum in which will be displayed replica colors of the three famed Civil War regiments from Ulster County—the 20th, 120th and 156th.

A feature of the exhibit will be a Civil War operation map made by Pfc. John J. Natoli, a member of Battery A, First Howitzer Battalion, 156th Artillery.

Natoli, who is employed by IBM, is a resident of Woodstock. He is a commercial artist.

An artillery salute of three rounds, one for each of the Civil War regiments from this County, will be fired by the 156th Artillery.

There will also be three color guards, all of the 156th which will present the regimental colors to the museum.

Honor guards will be furnished for the ceremonies by the 120th Volunteers North-South Skirmish Association, Saugerties. The association will also have a Civil War tent camp scene on display.

Moscow Unveils Powerful Bomber

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union's giant new jet bomber is more than 40 feet longer — and may be considerably more powerful—than anything in the U.S. long range nuclear bomber fleet.

The new Soviet bomber, a four-jet delta wing craft, was unveiled in Moscow two days ago during practice flights for an air show there July 9.

It came as no surprise to U.S. officials here. They said the plane — designated by U.S. military authorities with the code name "Bounder"—has been under development for a number of years.

This suggested the Soviets may have the plane in quantity, although firm information was not available.

Public disclosure of the Bounder could be intended by the Soviets as a way of pointing up Soviet airpower at this time of deepening crisis over Berlin.

Newburgh-State Welfare Clash Hotter

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Officials in Newburgh prepared today to challenge in court the validity of a state subpoena summoning them to a hearing in Albany to unravel a tangled welfare situation.

As the Newburgh-state clash over welfare rules adopted by Newburgh became more intense, welfare officials across the state reviewed a new instrument that will give them power, beginning tomorrow, to require new-comers to New York to prove they did not come solely to get on relief rolls.

Supporters of the controversial law that goes into effect Saturday say it will curb welfare abuses. Others say the law will do nothing. It was passed by the 1961 Legislature and represented a compromise between Gov. Rockefeller and Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney, both Republicans.

In the Newburgh situation, the State Board of Social Welfare and the State Welfare Department resorted to a subpoena Thursday to call eight city officials to the hearing July 7.

Newburgh officials contend welfare costs have been rising rapidly and sharp tax increases may result if the rules are not implemented.

The new state welfare measure —Mahoney describes it as a residency law, while Rockefeller says it is not—provides that welfare officials may investigate if they have reason to believe a newcomer to the state who applies for relief has no intention of finding a job.

An applicant may establish that he did not come to the state solely for relief through one or more steps specified in the law.

Other laws passed by the 1961 Legislature that go into effect tomorrow include statues that:

Reduce from 45 to 40 the minimum age of persons covered by a state law probhiting job discrimination because of age.

Repeal a 15 per cent state tax on cigars, pipe tobacco and some other tobacco products. Cigarette taxes are not affected.

Warning Blasts At Crossings To Be Discussed

Complaints against warning blasts from Diesel engines at downtown crossings is to aired locally as advised by the Public Service Commission, it was revealed today.

Samuel R. Madison, PSC secretary, in response to an inquiry by Supervisor Joseph J. Turck (D) Fourth Ward, noted that operating procedures "calls for the sounding of a whistle at grade crossings whether or not protected by automatic signals," but he also reported a possible exception.

Advised to See Officials

"In some instances," he wrote, 'pursuant to special arrangement with city officials, the railroad has relaxed this rule. Accordingly, it is suggested that you take the matter up with the municipal authorities for direct discussion with the company."

Madison also advised that 'in our 1960 annual report to the governor and legislature, we noted that 45 per cent of the collisions reported in the last 10 years were at potected crossings. Automatic flashing lights are, therefore, additional protection, and this commission has at no time directed the elimination of the whistle signal at protected crossings."

Turck, who last year had requested PSC action to gain automatic signals at the crossings, said he will take the matter up with city officials and the New York Central. The railroad, after hearing last September,

Democratic Albany Is Under Probe on Taxes

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Republican heat was turned on high in the Democratic stronghold of Albany today, with Gov. Rockefeller leading the attack on what he called shocking inequities in tax policies and "possible conflicts of interest on the part of city and county officials."

The Republican governor continued on the offensive Thursday by asking State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, a Democrat, to examine tax records and other fiscal matters of the city and county of Albany.

The order followed other recent state actions against and criticisms of Albany, raising local Republicans' hopes in their uphill battle against Democrats who, under the leadership of Daniel O'Connell, have been in the driver's seat for nearly 40 years.

The latest move was the broadest inquiry ever sought by a governor, a spokesman for Levitt said.

Rockefeller asked Levitt to report by Sept. 15. The local election campaign will be in high gear at that time, observers pointed out.

Noting that Albany's tax policies had been criticized in 1959 by Levitt and more recently by the State Investigation Commission, Rockefeller asked Levitt to determine "whether the various, apparently illegal, practices ... have continued."

Rockefeller also asked Levitt to determine whether county officials or employes had any personal financial interest in transactions involving county property or tax sales.

The chance of overturning Democratic rule here in the near future is considered remote. Rather, Rockefeller's immediate aim reportedly is cutting down the Democratic vote in the city and county, both of which he lost in the gubernatorial election of 1958.

Recent moves by the state in the capital city have included:

The formation, over Democratic opposition, of a state commission that will study rehabilitation.

Criticism by a state official of poor enforcement of weights and measures laws.

The retirement today of Lt. Col. Stephen J. Keating, (U.S.A. retired,) as trainmaster of the River Division, New York Central System (West Shore Railroad,) marks the close of a railroading career of 45 years of a man born in Kingston and retiring in the city of his birth.

Steve Keating was born in Kingston, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Keating, and was educated in the local school system.

November 30, 1916 marked the beginning of Keating's career as a railroader, when he entered the employ of the New York Central System as a telegraph operator and agent on the St. Lawrence Division. He served at various stations along the division, and on June 17, 1920 he was promoted to the position of train dispatcher on the River Division, working out of Weehawken, N. J.

"In those days there was plenty of action on this West Shore Railroad," said the trainmaster.

Steve Keating was promoted to trainmaster of the River Division in October of 1939, returning to Kingston to become a permanent resident here. "I was sure happy to get back to Kingston to live," said Keating. This move made Kingston the division headquarters for the West Shore Railroad.

The railroad career of the local man was interrupted by two periods of service in the armed forces of the United States. In World War I, Keating served for two years with the Navy in the North Atlantic Submarine Patrol.

World War II brought three additional years of service, including foreign duty at Tunisia, Naples-Foggia, Apennines, Rome-Arno, and the Rhineland. Numerous ribbons and citations and six battle stars attest to his service to his country. He was a captain in the Engineers when

City May Get $75,000 Reduction From Town

A tentative agreement for a $75,000 reduction in the assessment of City of Kingston water works pipe lines and appurtenances in the Town of Ulster has been reached in conferences between Town of Ulster officials and representatives of the Kingston Water Board.

The tentative reduction in assessment is the result of an investigation instituted several months ago by former Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwenk, who charged as a result of high assessment of water works property, school taxes in the Town of Ulster are less than they are in the City of Kingston.

Schwenk alleged that an improperly computed equalization rate for the Town of Ulster resulted in inequitable distribution of school taxes between the taxpayers of the City of Kingston and those of the Town of Ulster.

Officials Hold Meeting

Following receipt of re-appraisal of the water works property in the Town of Ulster by the State Board of Equalization and Associations, meetings were held between the town assessors and the city water board representatives.

As a result of those meetings a tentative offer to reduce the assessment by $75,000 over a three year period has been made, Donald R. Hyatt, president of the Kingston Water Board, stated today. This offer has been referred to Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly for study, he said.

Challenges Figures

In challenging the assessment on Kingston water works property in the Town of Ulster, Schwenk alleged that the State Board of Equalization and Assessments appraised the water works property in the Town of Ulster at $230,300 and since the property was assessed at $199,060, the State was saying that it was property assessed at 47.36 per cent of its 1957 market value.

The Board of Assessors of the Town of Ulster, Schwenk alleged, appraised the property at $947,000 and since it was assessed at $199,060, they said it was being assessed at approximately 21 per cent.

He also alleged that a list of city water works property used by the State Board in determining its appraisal value of the actual amount of city water works property in the town. This resulted in an inequality which he sought to have corrected.

Following a conference in Albany last December the state agreed to conduct a re-survey. That was completed and a report submitted early in June. The new re-appraisal figure was not made public by the State Board and LeRoy Crosby, chairman of the board of assessors of the Town of Ulster refused to make the figure public.

U.S. May Strengthen NATO Force to Meet Red Moves on Berlin

No Word Given on Decisions

Miscalculation Is Thing to Avoid, Rusk Says in Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States may increase its military forces in Europe to strengthen NATO defenses in preparation for a possible showdown with the Soviet Union later this year over Red threats to West Berlin.

Such a move is understood to be one of the measures being studied by Kennedy administration policy makers for dealing with the Berlin crisis.

Meet Almost Three Hours

President Kennedy met with the National Security Council for two hours and 40 minutes late Thursday to discuss steps that may be taken.

The White House kept the discussions secret, and, the news secretary, Pierre Salinger, declined even to say which officials attended.

It was not disclosed when final decisions may be made and action initiated. It is known, however, that top officials believe some redeployment of U.S. forces may be necessary because of the threat posed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev to the position of the Western powers in West Berlin.

Steps to Be Taken

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, speaking in a television interview Thursday night, said one thing which is necessary in the developing crisis is to try to avoid any "miscalculation"—by the Soviet Union—of what the Western Allies will do if and when their vital interests are threatened.

Rusk predicted that a number of steps will be taken "aimed at the avoidance of this kind of mis-

Eichmann Says He Shipped Jews, Did Nothing Else

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — Adolf Eichmann said today he was the man called in when the Nazis needed transportation to ship Jews out of Holland and Denmark to the death camps. But the former SS officer refused once more to accept any further responsibility for the mass slaughter.

Defense counsel Robert Servatius explored the Dutch and Danish ordeal under Nazi occupation with Eichmann on the stand for the ninth straight day and elicited a flood of explanations adding up to only one thing: Eichmann never conceived an order but only carried out his superiors' bidding.

Illustrative of this was Eichmann's repudiation of a document naming him as the man who "ordered" evacuation of a mental hospital in Holland so it could be turned over to SS military units.

"This could not be accurate at all," said the defendant, claiming that Arthur Seyss-Inquart, the Nazi governor of Holland, had full "legislative authority" and did not need to come to Eichmann's bureau in Berlin for such action.

"It was quite obvious they only needed a train," said Eichmann. "And that is how it was referred to my section."

He said there was a tendency to term any unit connected with affairs — a "sonderkomman— — his department IV-B4—Jewish affairs — a "sonderkommando."

Sonderkommando, or special unit, was the name given by the Nazis to the battalions sent to the East in 1941 and 1942 to liquidate two million Jews by gunfire and in mobile gas vans.

The Danish venture failed to materialize, mostly because the Danes by an almost unanimous resistance made Denmark the one giant failure of the Third Reich's effort to liquidate the Jews.

Eichmann admitted he went to Copenhagen on orders of his immediate superior, Gen. Heinrich Mueller, but contended the plan already had been "implemented" by an SS colonel on the scene by the time he got there.

Purse Contains Candy 'Lures'

WomanSuspectQuizzed In Death of Youngster

Police said she fitted a slightly revised description pieced together from questioning 14 persons who said they had seen the slender, dark-haired woman who lured Andy to Delaware Park a week ago today and previously bound and gagged two other young children.

Description Revised

Many women of similar description had been questioned and released, but the woman held today was the first under the revised description compiled at a meeting of the 14 persons. The revised description made the woman younger than the mid-30s previously assumed but still with a smooth skin and high cheekbones.

Police withheld the name of the woman picked up today but said she lived in Silver Lake, east of here, and was found hitchhiking in the Buffalo suburb of Amherst. She was drunk, police said.

Visited in Area

They said the attractive woman had relatives in the Parkside section of Buffalo, where Andy lived, and visited them Thursday night after a fight with a boy friend in a tavern.

Her purse contained several pieces of hard candy—one of the lures used by the killer. She said she carried the candy because she was a diabetic.

The body of blond, blue-eyed Andy was found last Sunday in Delaware Park Lake, with his hands and feet tied with a woman's stocking and a towel around his neck. He had been drowned.

Two five-year-olds previously bound and gagged by a woman and left beside a railroad track were among witnesses who helped to provide a description. Those two were not harmed.

U. S. May

calculation." He did not make any reference to military measures but said there would be "points of clarification, of purpose and procedure and issue."

The range of possible steps under consideration by the President and his chief advisers, including Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, is known to include military measures.

Cheered by DeGaulle Move

The United States is understood to have been urging its NATO allies to increase their own military strength in Europe so that if a showdown with the Soviet Union develops and a conflict threatens it may be dealt with, at least at the very outset, by nonnuclear means. Kennedy administration officials were cheered by the recent decision of French President Charles de Gaulle to shift a division of French troops from Algeria back to France.

The United States itself has five divisions in Europe out of its total of 14 now in active service. Altogether, U.S. troop strength in Europe totals 250,000 men, but this includes a large number of service and supply troops.

Rusk stressed in his discussion of the Berlin situation Thursday night that the United States intends "to explore every possibility of working out a tolerable peace that is consistent with the vital interests of our country." He said it is important to avoid running into a "dead end" in dealing with the Soviet Union on the Berlin dispute.

There is no doubt, Rusk said, that there will be discussions between the Western powers and the Soviet Union about Berlin, though he would not predict what form negotiations for a settlement might take. That will be determined in the course of discussion, he indicated.

Khrushchev has proposed to make West Berlin what he calls a "free city" with the withdrawal of U.S., British and French forces and the establishment of some kind of international guarantee. The Western powers have rejected this proposal repeatedly on the ground it would lead to domination of West Berlin by Communist East Germany.

In recent weeks Khrushchev has threatened to sign a peace treaty with East Germany by the end of this year. He claims this would wipe out the rights of the Western powers with respect to Berlin, including access to the city across East German territory.

Notes Obligations

"We have obligations to ourselves and to the people of West Berlin," Rusk said in a transcribed discussion (CBS—At The Source), "and we do not accept the notion that those rights can be terminated, or that the security of the people of that city can be endangered by the unilateral action taken by someone else."

As to how the crisis will develop, Rusk thought that Khrushchev might try to whittle down the rights of the Western powers in slow stages instead of presenting them with an open challenge as dramatic as a forcible interruption of their land or air traffic between West Germany and Berlin.

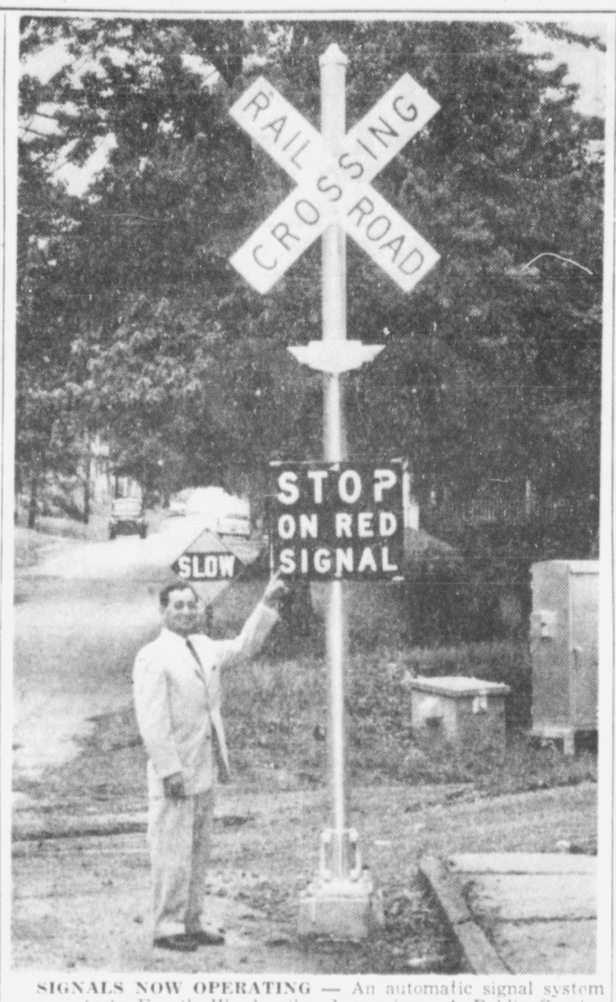

Consultations are now going on intensively between the United States, Britain, France and West Germany and between them and the other members of the 15-nation North Atlantic alliance on preparatory measures which should be taken in the next few months.

The East Germans issued a decree Wednesday that after Aug. 1 airplanes flying across its territory must register with East German authorities. The decree did not specifically mention planes using the air corridors to Berlin, but U.S. officials thought the Reds might later seek to interpret it to apply to corridor flights.

The State Department bluntly denied the right of the East German regime to impose any regulations on allied air traffic using the corridors.

Railroad Retirement

A representative of the Railroad Retirement Board will be at the Main Post Office, 496 Broadway, Room 3 on Wednesday, July 12 for interviews from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. At that time he will assist the railroad workers, his wife, widow or survivors in retirement and survivors problems and will answer any inquiries in connection with railroad retirement and Unemployment Insurance Acts.

Commissioner Estimates 30 To Lose Lives

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) —Thirty motorists will die on New York highways over the four-day, Fourth of July holiday beginning tonight, the state motor vehicle commissioner believes.

Commissioner William S. Hults said yesterday he based the estimate on the holiday toll of previous years.

Figures tabulated by The Associated Press also foreshadow that drownings and boating accidents may claim as many lives as traffic accidents.

An Associated Press check in the state from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Tuesday two weeks ago showed that 11 persons died on highways, 6 were drowned, 1 was killed in a boating accident and 10 perished in other types of accidents.

Japan Digs Out

TOKYO (AP)—The sun shone today for the first time in nearly a week over central Japan as rescue workers dug feverishly to clear flooded areas of mud and debris from wrecked homes.

River Excursion

erica, but a vessel whose career was singularly free of mishaps of consequence.

Her first trip to Rondout was made on October 12, 1861. Her last trip was made on September 5, 1917. For over 50 years the Mary Powell plied the waters of the Hudson River and, because of her Rondout to New York route, was regarded with great affection by the residents of Kingston and vicinity.

Tickets Available

Tickets for the July 18th excursion are now on sale. They may be obtained from Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce office in the Governor Clinton Hotel; Potter Brothers, 294 Fair Street; Epstein's News Store, Broadway, Rondout; Esopus Town Hall; Charlie's Texaco Station and Town and Country, Port Ewen; Withall's Store, Rifton; Beaver's Filling Station, Esopus, Ricketson's News Store, Saugerties, and at the News Shop in Woodstock.

Warning Blasts

Against Night Blasts

In his recent letter to the PSC Turck reported complaints from residents of the ward against the warning blasts especially at night.

Madison, in his reply, cited a provision of the penal law, which could result in a misdemeanor charge against an engineer for not sounding a whistle or horn or causing one to be sounded.

Pleads to Lesser Charge, Pays $25

David MacFarland, 43, of Esopus, who was arrested June 5 on a charge of driving while intoxicated, today pleaded guilty to the lesser charge of reckless driving and was fined $25 by City Judge Aaron E. Klein.

The arrest followed an accident at TenBroeck and Albany Avenues. Attorney Richard W. Griggs appeared for MacFarland, and Francis J. Vogt for the district attorney's office.

Four men, booked on vagrancy charges, were released and told to get out of the city. Three of them, Roman Andino, 21, Reyes Cotto, 27, and Angel Perez Rivera, 18, said they had no homes. A police report at 1:55 a. m., said they had arrived here by bus from Lancaster, Pa., and were picked up by Officer Thomas Kearney at Broadway and Cedar Street. The other, Lucien Tardiff, of Albany, who was said to have been loitering near the Clark Lumber Company, 480 Washington Avenue, was arrested by Officer Robert Bonesteel.

President Signs Benefits Bill, May Quit at 62

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today signed "with great pleasure" legislation increasing Social Security benefits for about 4.42 million Americans and permitting them to draw their benefits at the age of 62.

In signing the bill, Kennedy said the new amendments will make the Social Security System "a more effective instrument for the well-being of our people."

Only seven members of Congress, members of the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee, showed up for the ceremony.

"You must be the only members of Congress left in Washington," Kennedy remarked, alluding to the Fourth of July holiday that has all but shut the Capitol down.

The bill cleared both the House and Senate Thursday with little debate after Senate-House conferees had resolved differences in the various bills passed earlier by both chambers.

Beginning Jan. 1, 4.42 million Americans would draw larger Social Security benefits. Men would be permitted to draw them at 62, instead of waiting until they reach 65. Women already may do so.

If a man chooses to retire at 62 he'll receive for the rest of his life 80 per cent of the benefits he would get if he waited until 65. If he retires sometime between 62 and 65 he will receive a pension proportionately larger than 80 per cent.

The new program is expected to cost $825 million in its first year. This is to be met by an increase in the payroll tax. Both employer and employe will have to pay one-eighth of 1 per cent more on the first $4,800 of the employe's annual income. The self-employed will have to increase their Social Security tax by one-fifth of 1 per cent.

Pagens Are Cited For Child Rescue

John Pagen, 28, and his brother, Jerry, 19, who now live in Wappingers Falls, were in Poughkeepsie June 7 looking for the home of a friend, when they saw Pamela Summers hanging by her neck from a clothesline at 18 Allen Place.

They cut her down, applied artificial respiration, and comforted her until she was taken to Vassar Hospital by her father, Julian Summers.

At a meeting this week, the Poughkeepsie Legion post presented the Pagens with medals and scrolls for rescuing the child. They are brothers of William Pagen of 60 Gilead Street, this city.

At it moved, however, he saw it was a black bear, and it was headed in the direction of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital.

Officers George Barringer and Frank Monte were dispatched to the area, but bruin had apparently headed for the woods.

Fulbright Cautions Against Unilateral Armed Intervention

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., has cautioned the United States against the "dangerous doctrine" of unilateral military intervention anywhere to prevent the spread of communism.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is an important Senate voice on foreign affairs. His address to the Senate Thursday was considered a major foreign policy speech.

"Nothing would please Communist leaders more," Fulbright said, "than to draw the United States into costly commitments of its resources to peripheral struggles in which the principal Communist powers are not themselves directly involved."

Fulbright concentrated mostly on Cuba. He studiously avoided discussion of the Berlin crisis after remarking that it is "at this moment under the most serious study by this government and our European allies." He evidently put Berlin in a different category.

For the United States to try to overthrow the pro-Communist Castro regime in Cuba by use of its own forces, Fulbright said, might alienate "most of Latin America, Asia and Africa."

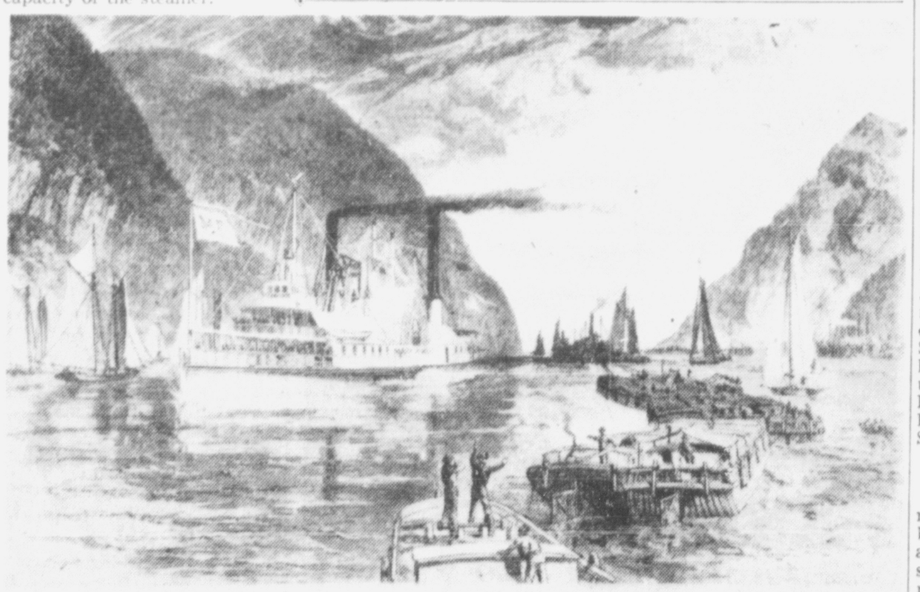

He referred specifically, too, to the Southeast Asian kingdom of Laos in striking at suggestions that the United States "should not hesitate to commite its strength to the active defense of its policies" anywhere outside the Communist empire.

The United States, Fulbright said, "cannot guarantee the border of a neutral country against infiltration, or its villages from subversion."

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Business was prosperous during the Civil War due largely to inflation, and started to boom directly afterward. The shooting of President Lincoln, however, caused stocks to tumble and a year of depressed business followed.

Unexpected Events

Again business began to boom with further inflation until the famous "Black Friday" in 1869, followed by another year of depressed business. Stocks quickly rebounded, and again investors were looking forward to several years of prosperity when, in late 1871, the Chicago Fire occurred. This was followed by the great Boston Fire in 1872.

The market had just about again recovered when the failure of the great banking house of Jay Cooke and Company was suddenly announced. For the first time, the leading Stock Exchanges closed for several weeks. There followed the great depression beginning in 1873; then higher stock prices finally returned as a result of another dose of inflation.

Important Banking Failures

Suddenly, on July 2, 1881, President Garfield was shot. A chain reaction of selling followed. During this period, the banking house of Grant and Ward, and the two leading "bulls", Henry Villard and James R. Keene, announced their failures. Depression followed.

1892 was a year of great prosperity; but suddenly the failure of the National Cordage Company was announced in May 1893. This was then one of the ten biggest "blue chip" corporations.

The following year the Pullman Strike — first serious labor strike — occurred and cast fear and gloom over the stock market. This was accompanied by a series of crop failures and mortgage foreclosures.

Again in 1897 business steadily improved and permanent prosperity was prophesied, accompanied by stock splits, mergers, and large security offerings. Suddenly, in 1903, there came rumors of great quantities of "undigested" securities . . . accompanied by the investigation of large life insurance and traction companies. The crash came just following the San Francisco Earthquake.

Up to this time the Supreme Court had decided questions only between the States. Suddenly, in the early 1900's, it issued its "Northern Securities" decision. This took the zip out of the stock market until the first World War began. After the closing of the New York Stock Exchange for several months, there followed some years of prosperity.

Then came the sinking of the S. S. Lusitania and our entrance into World War I. All went well with the economy until after the war when soaring interest rates and commodity prices brought on another collapse. This was quickly corrected and the stock market continued to advance until it reached an all-time high in 1929.

Speculation and the Crash of 1929

Then came the business collapse in Europe with the continued withdrawal of gold, climaxed by the very sudden failure of the Austrian Credit-Anstalt. This caused startling repercussions throughout the world. There followed several years of real depression.

Beginning in 1938 there was another recovery in business lasting throughout World War II, but this did not help the stock market much until 1942. With the exception of several relatively brief adjustment periods, our country has enjoyed good business for about 23 years.

The preceding one hundred years teach two lessons:

(1) That there has always been an economic race between inflation and production. These inflations were of different kinds—stock market, commodity, political; but they always gave business a "shot in the arm." Fortunately, increased production absorbed this . . . the great era of railroad building, opening of the South and West to farming; and finally increased commodity production due to inventions and advertising, accompanied by the electrical, chemical, and automobile eras.

(2) That when each prosperity period came to an end, it was from an unexpected event—a great fire, an earthquake, or the failure of some banking house or large corporation. In wartime, inflation always has been resorted to. We expect it will occur again to provide funds for the "cold war." This should mean higher prices for stocks, commodities, and real estate. Yet the period of inflation we are now entering may be absorbed by the "space era," which is an unexpected event on the optimistic side.

Marbletown Group Offers 6 Awards for July 4 Floats

Independence Day events with a parade and six awards for the best floats and marching units are planned for Tuesday's observance sponsored by Marbletown Community Project in Stone Ridge.

The parade will assemble at Factory Street and Route 209 at Stone Ridge 12:30 p. m. Starting time is 1 p. m.

Parade awards will be judged on the following basis:

Most patriotic; most original; largest marching unit; best appearing fire equipment and men; two awards for two best appearing antique autos and occupants, and best and second best groomed horse and rider.

Edward T. Green, supervising principal of Rondout Valley School District will be the principal speaker at the Independence Day ceremonies.

The parade will proceed from Factory Street and Route 209, Stone Ridge to the town plaza and return to the bank building. Chairman Kenneth E. Osterhoudt announced that to date 30 organizations have made known their intentions to parade, and two musical marching units have been signed to lead the marchers. Others are expected to be signed.

Chairman Osterhoudt is deeply concerned about the finances for the observance. To date only 85 of the 1,250 letters of solicitations seeking funds for the event, have been returned. He said the committee must meet expenses and he hopes the public will respond generously in the final days before July 4.

NEW YORK (AP) — There comes a season in the television year—and this is it, viewers—when the best program you can see is usually one you have seen before. But there is also some fresh material available, if you look hard.

"Person to Person," on CBS tonight (10:30-11 EDT), is new. Host Charles Collingwood will go a-calling on comedienne Carol Burnett and her teen-age sister.

Highlight of Saturday has to be ABC's "Fight of the Week"—just about everything else on the schedule is a repeat. National Boxing Association light heavyweight champion Harold Johnson will move into the heavyweight division for a 10-round bout with Eddie Machen in Atlantic City.

Gen. Thomas D. White, retiring Air Force chief of staff, will be the guest of "Meet the Press" on Sunday (NBC, 6-6:30). Ed Sullivan's guests (CBS, 8-9) include Louis Armstrong, Teresa Brewer and comics Rowan and Martin. "Mystery Theatre" — repeat of programs which first ran in the same spot last summer—will move into NBC's 9-10 p.m. spot.

Re-runs of "The Ann Sothern Show" on CBS Monday 9:30-10 p.m.). On Tuesday (9:30-11 p.m.) CBS begins a weekly series of repeats of "Playhouse 90" dramas.

Wednesday night's "Mystery Theatre" on NBC will be "Breakout," an English-made whodunit with Lee ("Surfside Six") Patterson and Hazel Court.

TV's only new, live dramatic show will premiere Thursday: CBS's "Great Ghost Tales" (9:30-10 p.m.), with an adaptation of an Edgar Allen Poe story. It will be followed by a repeat of the Yul Brynner Special, "Rescue" (10-11).

IF YOU WOULD DRIVE CAREFULLY

Demand for stricter enforcement of speed limits is a natural reaction to the threat of highway insanity that we face during the coming holiday weekend, but it is in no sense the full solution to the problem of death by automobile. In fact, it is only a small part of the answer.

The appalling number of highway accidents continue to mount with each holiday. During the recent Memorial Day holidays, 483 persons died. Estimates that as many as 583 will die — all needlessly — have been made for the July Fourth holiday period.

The snap reaction to such facts and forecasts is to lament the ill luck of innocent vacationers and assign blame to habitually irresponsible motorists. Liberty Mutual Insurance, which has studied the vagaries of highway safety, has isolated two sets of figures that discredit these beliefs. One is that eight out of ten traffic accidents occur within 25 miles of the drivers' homes. The second is that eight out of every ten drivers involved in accidents are normally "good" drivers.

It would seem from these statistics that the main problem is you.

Your acceptance of familiar streets and highways as safe; your view that social drinking is acceptable prior to driving; your feeling that your superior skill justifies an occasional calculated risk, your belief that accidents will happen only to the other driver.

These are the friendly, comforting bromides that sooner or later will betray you.

OUNCE OF PREVENTION

The old aphorism about an ounce of prevention being equivalent to a pound of cure tolds true in medical care. This has been underscored again by a report, in Science Service, on the toll of failure to consult a doctor soon enough.

It is estimated that 40,000 Americans die annually from preventable cancer, 20,000 from preventable rehumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease. The report goes on to other fields; a million and a half cases of eye trouble that could lead to blindness, 60,000 cases of tuberculosis, and so on.

The point is not obscure, not difficult to understand. Medical science has made enormous progress in the early disagnosis and control of disease during the past couple of decades, but none of this knowledge can be brought to bear until the patient appears. He has to take the first step toward that ounce of preventive care.

THE ULTIMATE WEAPON

The United States is progressing in the development of camera satellites that will make all existing surveillance techniques obsolete. Meanwhile the Reds are reportedly experimenting with a "death ray" weapon which could overshadow even the hydrogen bomb as a killer.

Other strange and wonderful advances in military technology are probably going on behind the scenes. We seem to be approaching some sort of a limit. Soon the only thing left to discover will be something to eradicate man's ambition to destroy himself. That would really bring the millenium.

RESERVE STRENGTH

The stock market must soon absorb about 300 million dollars worth of Ford Motor Co. and Gulf Oil Corp. stock which will be offered to investors by the Ford Foundation and the Mellon interests. Happily for the managers of these operations, the market at present has a good measure of reserve strength.

This strength arises from indications that stock prices, though presently at record levels, will go even highe before the end of summer. Industrial production made a sharp advance in May and, with a little more effort, could reach the levels prevailing before the start of our late unlamented recession.

Other factors undergirding market optimism include a renaissance in heavy construction and the fact that purchasing agents report encouraging developments in various fields. The only real blot is the continuing high rate of unemployment. This incongruity presents a problem which will tax our best minds before it is solved.

NEW YORK POLITICS

New York City politics often affects the fortunes of the parties nationally. The present tumult in the Democratic Party is aimed at destroying the prospects of Governor Nelson Rockefeller as a candidate for the Presidency. It is a political battle waged by amateurs who do not grasp the peculiar composition of New York's population.

The basic fault in New York City politics is that a large part of the population has very little interest in what happens here. Thus, the Democrats have generally been elected to municipal office. If one excludes Fiorello La Guardia who was a man of many parties as he was a man of many languages and many personalities, no Republican has been elected Mayor since 1914 and before that none since 1902. The Democrats must be in very bad shape; their conduct must be so outrageous as to evoke great civic anger before they are defeated.

Men are not elected to the office of Mayor because they are able, They are usually elected because of personal popularity, or because they have made a combination of groups, or because they belong to an important ethnological element. The parties portion out offices on strictly ethnological lines: each ticket must have an Irish Catholic, a Jew, an Italian and a Negro. Otherwise the party is regarded as discriminating and will be opposed by those who get excited about discrimination. This is the way things stand and nobody can make a change.

Mayor Robert Wagner, the incumbent, who has served two terms and who has generally been regarded as an unbeatable candidate, has managed to get himself into a quarrel with the powerful Democratic leaders who are minded to repudiate him now that he has rejected them. This is partly due to the political activities of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and former Senator Herbert Lehman and possibly the Kennedys who want to control New York City so that they might more successfully defeat Governor Nelson Rockefeller in 1962.

A peculiarity in this situation is the Liberal Party. This Party is made up of labor union personalities and certain intellectuals. It broke off from the American Labor Party which President Roosevelt had organized to make it possible for Fiorello La Guardia to pass from the Republican Party to the New Deal. The Liberal Party is Fabian Socialistic, anti-Communist but also not in favor of the social or economic status quo. It polls between 300,000 and 400,000 votes and therefore cannot be ignored in a mayoralty election. Congressman Charles Buckley, the Democratic leader of the Bronx, and a powerful figure in Democratic politics, was the first leader to object to the Liberal Party. Bronx candidates are supposed not to accept Liberal Party endorsements.

Whereas Carmine de Sapio, the Democratic National Committeeman was very slow in coming to the support of John Kennedy at the Democratic Convention, his choice being Senator Stuart Symington which turned out to be an error of judgement. Charles Buckley was the first supporter of Kennedy in the New York area and therefore has expected that he would be consulted by the Kennedy Administration concerning New York affairs.

Whether the Democrats can survive this schism is indeed doubtful. The Republicans have nominated Attorney-General Louis J. Lefkowitz as Mayor. Lefkowitz is a popular personality and has the warm support of Governor Nelson Rockefeller which could mean that the usually poverty-stricken Republican Party might have a sizeable campaign fund.

A week or so ago, one felt that the Democrats would forget their quarrel and would kiss and make up. At this moment it looks as though powerful forces in the Democratic Party in New York City are ready to throw the election. They could do this by running a third party, anti-Wagner, anti-Reform and put it all together, anti-Kennedy.

If Lefkowitz should be elected Mayor, the Democratic organization would be left entirely without patronage, getting none from Washington or Albany or City Hall. The Democratic Party in New York City lives on patronage. It has done very well over the past 30 years. The Republicans, on the other hand, have enjoyed little patronage and are accustomed to political poverty. Should the Democrats be defeated in New York City in 1961, they could easily lose New York in 1962 and thus Nelson Rockefeller would be the Republican candidate for President in 1964.

Massage Will Not Help Shrink Prostate Gland

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—You recently wrote that prostate massage will not cause an enlarged gland to shrink in size. For the past six months, I have been having massage to prevent prostate enlargement. Will this be effective? And, if not, what can I do to prevent later enlargement? I am 70 years old and I fear operation.

A—Prostatic massage will neither prevent prostatic enlargement nor cause the enlarged gland to shrink. In fact, I know of no useful purpose that's accomplished by prostatic massage. None of us would serious consider an attempt to prevent or correct enlargement of the nose or ears by a course of rubbings, however vigorously administered.

Unfortunately, too, there is no available treatment measures that will effectively and consistently influence the size of the prostate.

When bladder emptying becomes impaired by prostatic enlargement, there is no alternative to surgery. Carried out by a skilled surgeon under proper auspices, operative risks and discomforts have been greatly reduced despite the advanced age of most patients.

Q—Some time ago you wrote about a summer camp for children with epilepsy. Is this camp still running and how do I find out about it?

A—The annual summer camp opens July 1 at the National Children's Rehabilitation Center near Leesburg, Va. For detailed information write the director, Dr. Charles Kram, at the center. Children between the ages of 7 and 15 are eligible for admission without regard to religion, race, color or creed.

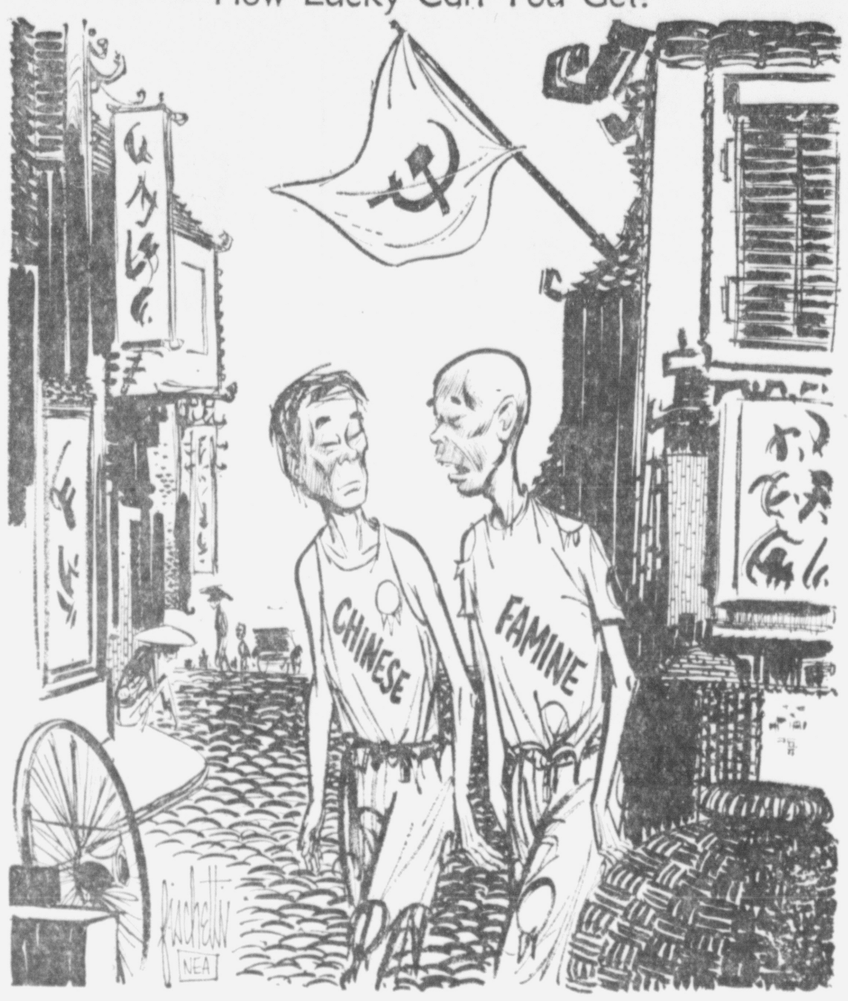

Q—Is it true that most childhood deaths between the ages of 1 and 4 are the results of accidents?

A—Not exactly. But the largest single cause for death at these tender ages is the accident. And a splendid community effort to prevent these fatal accidents would include a showing of a color motion film called "Safe at Home." It is available to community organizations without charge. It can be obtained through the American Academy of Pediatrics at Evanston, Ill.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—The 15-member presidential commission to study the long-standing railroad management and the five operating brotherhoods—engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen and switchmen—has now shifted to hearing labor's side of the case after four months of hearing employers.

It will take till mid-October for the rail unions to present their own case and rebut management arguments. It will take until the end of the year for the study group to make its report.

FORMER SECRETARY OF labor James P. Mitchell started out as chairman of the commission. When he resigned in March to run for governor in New Jersey, President Kennedy named former Federal Judge Simon H. Rifkind as chairman. If he can persuade—browbeat, cajole, kid or horsewhip the other 14 members into any kind of agreement—it will be a major miracle.

The five management members will probably vote one way. The five labor members will vote the other. The five public members—two professional labor arbitrators, two college professors and Judge Rifkind — are likely to split.

Whatever report the commission files after its year's work will then be submitted to rail management and labor for collective bargaining. If that means the dispute goes on as it has for the last 50 years, that's the way free collective bargaining works in a democracy.

THE ORIGINAL IDEA was that the Presidential Study Commission would be just that. It would study facts which have long been known and try to bring in an independent solution.

But when the railroads brought in their heavy legal counsel for extended hearings and the brotherhoods felt obligated to reply in kind, study was doomed.

MANAGEMENT, in the hearings so far, has proposed six major changes in work rules:

Permit longer runs on faster trains for one day's pay.

Eliminate rules which require crew changes at existing crew change points.

Let management decide when to eliminate firemen on diesel locomotives.

Allow management to determine the number of crew members required.

End rules requiring idle standby operating employes.

SPOKESMEN for the operating brotherhoods make five counter-proposals for modernizing railway labor conditions:

Pay night crews more than day crews.

Provide for paid holidays.

Pay overtime for crewmen who work a seven-day week.

And they oppose paying the average $20 a day for 100-mile runs if runs are extended to 150 or 160 miles on faster trains.

Rail management accuses its labor of hanging on to "featherbed" practices. Rail labor replies that its productivity has increased more and that the labor costs on railroads have increased less than in other U. S. industries. Labor charges that half its 200,000 layoffs are due to rail automation.

Listen to New York Central President Alfred E. Perlman and he will tell you that private ownership of railroads is in jeopardy unless the companies get freedom to merge their lines and offer integrated services of all kinds, giving the shippers the kinds of transportation best suiting their needs.

This is the carriers' "Magna Carta" program to liberalize U. S. transportation policy. Legislation to make it possible is now pending before Congress.

Listen to Eli Oliver, economist for the unions, and he will tell you that the healthy, growing railroad industry is not sick, but is giving the impression its financial position is desperate so it can get more government aid. Oliver maintains the companies' publicity is giving many people the impression that the eventual outcome will be government ownership.

BOTH RAIL MANAGEMENT AND RAIL LABOR say they are opposed to government ownership, but this is about the only thing they do agree on. Oh, yes. They both oppose Jimmy Hoffa and his Teamsters' union efforts to block "piggyback" hauling of truck trailers by rail.

Will JFK Continue to Delay While Soviets Test Away?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, June 29—It is amazing how confusing and inadequate some of the information can be that is given out in a Presidential press conference. All that the newspaper dispatches thus far have really told the American people is that President Kennedy has asked a special panel of scientists to find out for him whether the Russians can carry on underground testing of nuclear weapons without our knowledge.

But the truth is that the President's announcement is just a maneuver designed to allay for a while the clamor for a resumption of testing. Indeed, the United States government knows, and has known for more than two years, that tests can be conducted underground without detection. Even aboveground tests are never announced by the Soviets unless they have been detected by other countries.

The real question today is what the President is going to do about it, and whether he will authorize a resumption at least of underground tests, as has been demanded in recent months by public opinion and reflected by speeches by the members of both parties in Congress.

Mr. Kennedy's action, however, means more delay and more procrastination. He is unwittingly giving an advantage to the Soviets, who want more talk and more time consumed while they keep the United States from doing any testing as they continue to carry on their clandestine experiments.

Silent About A. E. C.

Another factor causing a raising of eyebrows is that the Atomic Energy Commission, which is supposed to be the center of the whole nuclear-research problem, isn't mentioned by the President as having any voice in the decisions he is about to make. He has called in outside scientists—including presumably some of the men who mistakenly place faith in Soviet assurances that they will refrain from testing.

The record of what happened under the Eisenhower Administration and the conditions under which it agreed to a voluntary suspension of testing of all kinds — above and below the ground—has perhaps not been studied carefully by President Kennedy. For there seems no other way to explain his latest statement announcing the plan to set up a special panel of scientists to take a look "at the serious questions" involved. Here are the "questions in particular" which Mr. Kennedy is asking the panel to answer:

"First, what is the extent of our information on whether the Soviet Union has been or could be engaged in secret testing of nuclear weapons?

"Second, to the extent that certain types of tests can be concealed by the Soviet Union, what technical progress in weapons could be under way in that area without our knowledge?"

Answer to a Question

The President says the answers will be reviewed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the National Security Council, but significantly he omits reference to advice from the Atomic Energy Commission.

Mr. Kennedy, in answering a reporter's question, conceded that the United States has no information on the subject of whether the Soviets have been testing and says what he really wants to know is "if it is possible that they could be testing without our knowing and what the chances are that that might be true."

But the answer to that question already has been furnished to Congress. A Senate document of hearings on April 16 and 17 1958, at which scientists testified, tells us that there had been one underground shot by the United States and that it occurred in Nevada. A seismic station in Alaska, which had been notified in advance of the exact time to expect it, picked up the signal of the blast.

The tape recording of that explosion shows that the "wiggles" were smaller than for some earthquakes and other disturbances, and that it would be impossible to differentiate as between underground-nuclear-test marks shown on the recording and those made by an earthquake or other disturbance, such as the winds against the cliffs in the Aleutian Islands. There is an average of 200 earthquakes a year in the Soviet Union which make the same marking on a seismic tape as do large-scale explosions.

As a matter of fact, six months after the negotiations on the test ban began at Geneva, American experts had to admit to the Soviets that we had been wrong in our previous assumption that underground tests are detectable and could not be concealed.

Already One Mistake

Will some of these same experts now be asked to decide the all-important question involving judgment rather than technical matters?

The United States already has made one mistake in voluntarily agreeing to a suspension of testing on the assumption that the Soviets would do likewise and that they could be checked upon to determine if there was any cheating. In fact, the current negotiations were started entirely in that belief. Now the United States knows that underground tests can be concealed by any nation intent on doing so. But the President still is reluctant to resume testing. This is exactly what the Soviets want America to do—to maintain the test ban indefinitely while they go ahead to perfect weapons of greater and greater power such as the so-called neutron bomb.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

NEW YORK—On my travels in the South of late I read in some of the northern papers that the Ku Klux Klan was batting people around in riots fomented by interlopers from New York and Chicago. One picture showed a white man with a nosebleed and a dramatic smear of gore on his wrist, his collar and the front of his white shirt. This is a common picket line sight of course. But it was a terrible slaughter, a massacre, almost a pogrom in these surroundings and there was circumstantial text to the effect that fiends in human form had used ball bats and iron pipes on cut-rate Gandhis, most of them white men. I will bet you that if a .220 hitter in the Little League should clip any normal man with an official junior bat that man wouldn't even twich, still less get up, but let us proceed...

In the 'twenties when Charlie Sweeney, an Irish Catholic reporter for the World under the great Herbie Swope, exposed the Klan in Atlanta, Macon and Augusta, and little Sidney Whipple was yapping defiance in the Denver Express, I barnstormed the country all I could and often denounced the Klan fearlessly. Herbie Swope got practically all the credit for all that, but his role reminded me of a story of Charles H. Chapin, the tyrant city editor of the old Evening World Somewhat before Herbie Swope's time, who was said to have bellowed to a reporter on the phone, "Threw you downstairs, did he? Well, you go back and tell that swine he can't intimidate the New York Evening World."

I never was much afraid of the KKK even in Kissimmee, which in those days was one of the toughest dirt road towns in the country but without the renown of Cripple Creek or Cicero. In Kissimmee, whiskery specimens of swamp life would crawl out of the primeval clime at dusk and quietly yank some neighbor out of his home and paddle back into the Everglades and either string him up for buzzard bait or weight him down with old iron to nourish the alligators and a special brand of snapping turtles which can snap a crowbar in half with one clamp.

I always heard that this was the doing of the KKK although there never were any convictions and it may have been a case of false witness. It is very dangerous to hazard a doubt of the perfidious nature of the Klan even though indictments were rare and convictions more so. Years later, in France, the Communists would knife a German soldier on a quiet street in the dead of night and ten members of the resistance would be picked up at random in a process like the fearsome military punishment called decimation and put to death by German firing squads to throw the fear of God into the population. Then the Communists would kill another German soldier and so forth and so forth.

Now in these recent fracases down south there was no evidence, to say nothing of proof, that the KKK let any blood or even made a typical CIO phone call in the dead of night to terrorize any innocent victim. Nevertheless, the Ku Klux Klan was presumed to have resorted to awful wickedness and so I began to study the cards in my hand.

And now I would ask our Attorney General, "Bobby Kennedy, how come you so angrily deplore brutality, bloodshed and denial of civil rights by a suspect vaguely called the KKK but never have raised your voice against the mobs of the United Auto Workers, the several sailors' unions, the steel workers and a hundred other terroristic bunds of your own personal political constituency and your august brother Jack's? Bobby, what has the KKK done, even assuming that it did paste a few people in the snoot who went down south, looking for trouble, that these unions of your political adherence have not done to the nth power?"

I think that puts the questions neatly but I would like also to lay it down that as far as the evidence goes, the KKK is innocent in all this noisy mischief down south whereas many of the unions of the Democratic political organization are actually organized gangs of thugs fairly comparable to Hitler's brown shirts. None of these thugs has the slightest respect for the constitutional rights and "civil liberties" which the administration pretends to cherish when "freedom" rioters are slapped around, and the very spirit of all this is a denial of the right to vote in union matters, the right to fair and speedy trials on fake charges before kangaroo courts, the right to work at lawful toil and the right to receive, in full, pay which they have earned.

I have never heard a charge against the KKK in all the years from the 20's which has not been generally made against the AFL-CIO and their components. And all such crimes are justified on the ground that these monsters with blood on their hands, in claiming to act for workers with no power to repudiate them, had thus ennobled their crimes.

Blames Producers

NEW YORK (AP)—The main problem in the theater today is producers, says Producer Carmen Capalbo. The "weakness and complacency of most of them," he feels, is responsible for lack of imaginative and experimental entertainment. Show business is so complex now, Capalbo concedes, that producers "have to be responsible to a lot of other interests besides the public and critics." But it is timidity that gets him. "Producers in general create an image of a mass of jelly with a cigar stuck in the middle," he asserts.

Secretary Cool But Vague

Rusk Brandishes Words, Not Sabres Over Berlin

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Those in search of peace of mind but disturbed by the Russian ruckus on Berlin should try to stay calm in the next few months unless there is an actual crisis.

This seemed to be the message from Secretary of State Dean Rusk Thursday night.

In a TV interview he discussed dealing with the Russians now when they have tizzied the West with their renewed demands—about 2½ years old—that Berlin be turned into a "free city" and that the Allies get their troops out of it.

Firm on Determination

Ever since taking office Rusk has run his job like a man who had an understanding with President Kennedy that the secretary would play it cool and quiet while the President made the big pronouncements and furnished any fire needed.

Rusk was cool Thursday night, speaking very firmly on the Allies' determination not to be pushed out of Berlin. But he spoke very vaguely on just how the Allies were going to avoid being pushed.

Kennedy was just as vague on this point at his news conference Wednesday. In fairness to both men they may feel it much too soon to get down to specifics for fear of sounding belligerent.

But Rusk did reveal the kind of thinking which has become an international way of life in situations which may be extremely serious but are not in actual crisis.

It's this: Let's talk. This explains the fantastic number of international conferences by foreign ministers and representatives since World War II on subjects ranging from Berlin to nuclear tests and disarmament.

Just Like 1959

Rusk suggested that the Allies would discuss the Berlin problem among themselves—just as they did in 1959, after Premier Khrushchev first raised it—and then would discuss it with the Russians, just as they did in 1959.

Berlin was a long drawn-out business before and promises to be again unless this time the Russians are determined on less talk and more action.

Since it's been 2½ years that Khrushchev first upset the Western calm on Berlin, Rusk was asked if in the intervening time where to draw the line on the American planners had figured where to draw the line on the Russians.

Rusk wouldn't even go into that. He said Kennedy had dwelt on that Wednesday. But Kennedy gave the impression that this country's ideas are still far from fully formed on what action or actions it should take.

In the days and weeks ahead, Kennedy said, he will be considering a "whole variety of measures which might be taken."

But Thursday an Associated Press reporter at the Pentagon wrote that—so far as the Defense Department is concerned—there ar several plans, constantly being updated, for dealing with any Berlin showdown.

Prefers Confabs

But now, as in 1959 under President Eisenhower's administration, Kennedy and Rusk are avoiding sabre-rattling, preferring to get together with the Russians for a confab.

In 1959 the storm Khrushchev raised over Berlin—setting then as now a six-month deadline for a settlement—didn't get any closer to a crisis than a conference between the Russian and Western foreign ministers.

And six days before that one petered out—it ended July 13—Khrushchev prosposed a meeting with Eisenhower. Then he forgot about his own deadline and met with Eisenhower, a meeting which didn't solve Berlin at all.

Khrushchev talked tough in 1959, just as he's talking tough now. But what makes dealing with the unpredictable Khrushchev painful to the Allies is not knowing from one time to the next whether he means it.

But before Krushchev this time reaches the point of blowing up or calming down there will probably be, as Rusk indicated, no end of jawing back and forth between East and West.

Gen. Le May Is Taking Command Of U. S. Air Force

The Air Force arranged a formal farewell for White, veteran of 40 years service, in a ceremony at Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland.

LeMay, 54, is a pilot credited with building the powerful U.S. nuclear bomber force. In the late 1940s, as head of the U.S. Air Forces in Europe, he organized operations for the famed Berlin airlift.

He was picked by Kennedy to succeed White, 60, last May 22.

Million Acres Are Infested

Grasshoppers Adding To Threat on Plains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Massive grasshopper invasions today posed an added threat to the northern Great Plains, already in the grip of a devastating drought which has brought scores of counties under federal disaster programs.

The new menace came as temperatures again in the 90s continued to sear vast acreages in five states and three Canadian provinces.

Heavy Smoke Calls

Unseasonable summer fires on the usually verdant prairie and in wooded country at its northern fringes still were casting heavy smoke palls.

From Helena, Mont., came federal and state reports that grasshoppers have infested an estimated million acres in Montana, plus other large Wyoming areas.

Firemen from five towns, aided by 1,000 volunteer farmers and oil workers kept the fire from invading inhabited territory.

The blaze raged as the final two of North Dakota's 53 counties were declared disaster country. "This is very serious because it's the Great Plains breadbasket that's going," said Norris Ellertson, regional director for Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation.

May Add 30 Counties

After a personal survey and reports from field men, Ellertson said Thursday night at Bismarck, N. D., that he was recommending addition of 30 more counties in Montana, Wyoming and South Dakota to the disaster category.

These included Montana's 20 easternmost counties, 12 in western South Dakota and 6 in northeast Wyoming. If approved in Washington, these would bring to 111 the counties eligible for emergency aid in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Montana and Wyoming.

In Ottawa, the Canadian government mapped emergency measures to save dairy and breeding stock in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, where up to 75 per cent of grain land was reported in jeopardy.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market slipped even further into indifference early this afternoon as the Independence Day weekend approached. Prices were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down .20 to 242.40 with the industrials down .60, rails down .10 and utilities up .10.

Most prices showed fractional changes as trading became progressively duller. The stock exchanges will be open on Monday but many Wall Streeters were obviously preparing to make this a four-day weekend.

A few stocks responded to special news or developments but the trend was mixed among motors, oils, chemicals, rails, utilities and aircrafts. Tobaccos leaned to the upside and steels showed a slightly lower tendency.

Blaze Destroys Plattekill Home

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a one-story frame summer bungalow on Unionville Road, Plattekill, late Thursday afternoon.

The bungalow, occupied at the time by a summer tenant identified as a Mrs. Colon, consisted of four rooms, a bath and kitchen. It was a total loss.

It apparently started in the kitchen end of the structure.

Firemen were called about 4:30 p. m. and remained at the scene for two hours.

Chief Upright called for assistance through mutual aid which dispatched the Modena Fire Company with 12 men and a tank truck. The Plattekill company had about 20 volunteers at the scene.

Upright said the bungalow was one of a group of six or seven such cottages and structures located on about an acre and a half of land.

Carefree Capital

Leopoldville Celebrates 1st Freedom

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—With flags flying, a big parade and a beauty contest, Leopoldville turned carefree today in celebrating the first anniversary of Congo independence.

Clouds of political uncertainty blew in from the problem province of Katanga, but Congolese in this white-washed capital seemed determined not to let these mar the fun.

Four days of celebration in the troubled infant nation got under way Thursday with a football game. Other highlights are a competition to select Miss Leopoldville of 1961 and a round of diplomatic receptions.

Moise Tshombe, Katanga President, at odds politically with the Leopoldville regime but of late an avowed admirer of Mobutu, sent a contingent of 75 gendarmes to take part in the parade.

called to duty in the last World War, was given a field promotion to major in the Transportation Corps in Tunisia, and was later commissioned a lieutenant-colonel.

During the campaign in North Africa, Keating was selected in a small group of officers and men to accompany General Carl R. Gray Jr. in a harrassment action against the famed German General Erwin Rommel. "We had some tough going that trip," commented Keating.

Lieutenant Colonel Keating returned to Kingston in 1945 to his wife and family, and to resume his railroading career. He is married to the former Olive C. Le Brun, and has three sons and a daughter: Stephen J. Keating Jr., a graduate engineer with Pratt and Whitney Corporation; John D. Keating, lieutenant senior grade in the U. S. Navy as a fighter pilot; Anne Berenice, a graduate of Marquette University and currently a teacher at St. Ursula Academy in Kingston; and Thomas L. Keating, in the U. S. Navy at the Great Lakes Training Station.

Currently residing at 136 Lucas Avenue, Trainmaster Keating said that he has no immediate plans for his retirement. "I'm going to visit some relatives in various places, and take it easy for awhile. Maybe I'll find something interesting in the near future, but now I'm going to rest a bit," said the trainmaster.

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I'm interested in a security which is yielding 6 per cent right now. I'm sold on it except for one thing—when I asked for financial reports and a balance sheet, I was informed that no such statements were being issued. A while ago my broker sent me a booklet which said not to invest in anything unless detailed information was available. What should I do?" M.F.

A) I would forget about the 6 per cent and do as your broker's booklet suggests.

While not everyone can interpret a balance sheet and earnings statement, it is very important that these be made available. Most publicly owned corporations make a true effort to furnish adequate information on their activities.

Shares of companies where little financial data is published are not necessarily bad risks, but they're certainly harder to evaluate and more difficult to follow once you've bought into them. The more detailed information you can get on a company before investing, the less are the chances that you'll acquire a real lemon.

Under present market conditions, I would want to know a great deal about any stock yielding 6 per cent, which is more than the going rate. The return offered may be higher because of a relatively poor outlook which has held down the price of the stock in question.

Since you seem to want income, I suggest that you take a look at Melville Shoe (NYSE), a relatively safe stock which offers a 4.7 per cent return and an opportunity for moderate growth.

Q) "Should I sell my American Viscose shares, bought at 44?" M. O.

A) Publicity given to your company's development of a new edible cellulose has pushed the stock up sharply in recent weeks. The product is said to contain no nutrition of calories and thus could be used for dietary purposes. I believe you should hold your shares for the present.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Marilyn Monroe Has Gall Bladder Out on Thursday

Early today, the blonde beauty, 34, was reported in good condition.

Seven doctors were in attendance during surgery, including Marilyn's personal physician who had flown in from California.

Under sedation, the movie queen was wheeled into her private room where her ex-husband, former baseball great Joe DiMaggio waited.

A hospital spokesman said the normal convalescence period from gall bladder surgery is 10 to 12 days.

DiMaggio, who had been standing by at the hospital ever since Marilyn was admitted, has been seen with her a great deal ever since her divorce last winter from playwright Arthur Miller, her third husband.

Last February, Miss Monroe signed herself into the Payne Whitney Clinic of New York Hospital, a psychiatric institution. Later she transferred to Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center for treatment of what was described as "emotional and physical exhaustion."

NEW YORK (AP)—Movie star Marilyn Monroe spent a comfortable night and was in satisfactory condition today after having her gall bladder removed Thursday night, Polyclinic Hospital reported.

The blonde beauty, 34, was in the operating room for 2½ hours.

Resigned Chairman May Lose County Job

GENESEO, N.Y. (AP) — J. Donald Root, forced to resign as Livingston County Republican chairman only last month, now stands to lose his job as county welfare commissioner in November.

The county committee Thursday night bypassed the incumbent Root and chose Robert Fox, a Nunda supervisor, to run for the office in November. Root has held the welfare post since 1955.

Root's support of State Sen. Austin Erwin's son for one of three new State Supreme Court judgeships in the Seventh Judicial District recently cost him his post as county chairman.

Jesse Crispell Sentenced as First Offender

A criminal matter dating back to 1935 came up before Supreme Court Justice William Deckelman Thursday when Jesse Crispell, now confined to a penal institution from another county, came up for re-sentence before Justice Deckelman under an Ulster County conviction had in 1935. At that time Justice Russell sentenced Crispell to a term of five years in prison as a second offender.

Since then the prior conviction, which had made Crispell a second offender in 1935, has been set aside by the Appellate Division.

Justice Deckelman set aside the previous conviction in 1935 and then sentenced Crispell as a first offender to a term of from 1½ to 3 years in prison, giving credit for the time which Crispell has already served. However this placed Crispell in the position of being a first offender at the time he was sentenced in 1935 and may have the effect of lessening subsequent sentences, including the one he is now serving.

SLIPPING INTO THEIR NATIVE TONGUE

Q: My husband's family are foreign born. However, they have been living in this country many years and speak English fairly well. Every once in a while, when I am visiting them, they will suddenly say something to each other in their native tongue. I have no understanding of this language and feel very uncomfortable when they do this. I always feel that they are talking about me or saying something they don't want me to hear. Don't you think that this is very rude on their part? I think that when I am present they should speak nothing but English. What is your opinion on this?

A: They most certainly should not speak in a language you do not understand when you are present, but before letting this offend you, remember that it is a natural thing for them to make an occasional remark to each other in the language they have always used together.

Shower for Absent Mother-to-Be

Q: A very close friend of mine recently moved to another city. She is expecting her first baby soon and I would like to give a shower for her. As she is unable to travel at the present time it will be impossible for her to be present at the shower. Would it be proper to give it anyway? Several friends of mine said that a shower without the guest of honor would be improper. What do you have to say about this?

A: It will be entirely proper to give this shower inviting only her very closest friends. After the presents are opened, they can be put into one large box and sent to the mother-to-be.

Thanking Celebrity for Autograph

Q: My hobby is collecting autographs of well-known people. I would like to know if it is necessary, after receiving their autographs, to write and say thank you?

A: Saying "thank you in advance for your kindness" when requesting the autograph is sufficient and saves a very busy person from opening and reading another letter.

Miss Julia Kinzelman of Saugerties Is Wed To Malden Man Before Nuptial Mass June 24

Miss Julia Marie Kinzelmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kinzelmann Sr. of Route 2, Saugerties, was wed Saturday, June 24, to Martin Daniel Hull, son of Mrs. Frances Hull of Malden-on-the-Hudson, and the late William Hull, before an 11 a. m. high nuptial Mass at St. John's of the Clove Church, Veteran. The Rev. Daniel Daley officiated at the double ring ceremony, while the Rev. Joseph Hamilton of St. Mary's Church in Saugerties and the Rev. Walter T. Kearns, assistant pastor of St. John's were seated in the sanctuary.

Mass was sung by the Assumptionists Fathers of Barclay Heights. The organist played On This Day as the bride dedicated a white bouquet of carnations, touched with blue, to the Blessed Mother before the ceremony.

The church was decorated for the occasion with arrangements of white delphiniums, gladioli and pompons, and satin bows marked the pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza and Chantilly lace over bridal satin fashioned with a Sabrina neckline trimmed with pearls and sequins. The gown featured long tapered sleeves, and the full skirt of lace panels over the silk organza swept back into a train. A crown of pearls secured the triple French silk illusion veil. The bride carried a prayer book with a white orchid surrounded by lilies and stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Bertha Heiden of Duluth, Minn. served as matron of honor in a gown of white nylon over yellow taffeta, with a yellow cummerbund. She wore a braided crown trimmed with crystals which held a circle veil to match the gown. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow and orchid pompons with a yellow ribbon.

Another sister, Mrs. Eleanor Teitter of High Woods was her other attendant and was attired in an orchid gown identical in styling to the matron of honor's. Her veil and flowers matched her gown.

Kathleen and Karen Kinzelmann, nieces of the bride, were flower girls in white nylon embroidered dresses with scalloped edges and orchid taffeta sashes. They carried white baskets of yellow and orchid flowers.

John Frederick Hull of Saugerties was his brother's best man. Serving as ushers were Edward Teitter, brother-in-law of the bride, and Floyd Burgher of Mt. Marion.

For their wedding journey to Niagara Falls and Canada, the bride was attired in a green sheath dress with white accessories and wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Hull is a graduate of St. Mary's School and Saugerties High School and is presently employed by the C and S Shoe Company. She is a member of the Saugerties Council Columbiettes and St. John's Altar Society.

Mr. Hull also is a graduate of St. Mary's and Saugerties High Schools, and is a member of the Knights of Columbus and St. Mary's Holy Name Society. He is employed at the Marquette Cement Company, Alsen.

Mr. and Mrs. Hull will reside in Malden-on-the-Hudson upon their return.

Setting Befits a Queen

Maria Schell Likes Living in Germany

By BOB THOMAS
A PMovie-TV Writer

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—You drive to Maria Schell's home through 60 miles of Bavarian countryside, past the green, round hills and stacks of drying hay.

You turn up a country lane, wind among farm houses and come to a walled estate. Once you are announced the gate swings open and you descent a steep driveway to the Schell Chateau.

The setting befits a queen, and Miss Scheel is one of the rulers of the European cinema. The Inn River flows suddenly at the foot of the cliff. You can view miles of wooded slopes in all directions. The house is of native stone and blends into the picture. A Roman pool is on a terrace below.

Maria Schell, tanned from a cruise among the Greek Isles, stood at the front of the house when I arrived for a visit. She showed me about the house, which was gleaming with marble and filled with paintings and art objects she has collected during her travels about the world.

Why does she choose to live in Germany?

"That is strange," she said with the familiar Schell smile. "All the German stars are living in Switzerland now, and I, a Swiss, am living in Germany. I like the life better here. There is more stimulation, more intellectual activity."

Although she kept her German residence, she found that going to Hollywood hurt her following in Germany.

"Many people resented it at first," she remarked. "They think that if an actress goes to Hollywood it's because she is attracted by the glamor.

"But I went to Hollywood merely so I could work with fine talent. That was the only reason."

Colby Valedictorian

KATHLEEN MASON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mason of Ruby, gave the valedictory address at the Colby Academy graduation at Bossert Hotel, Brooklyn. At the commencement, Miss Mason received an English award, an honor pin, and a Phi Alpha Kappa award. She attended Colby for four years and plans to enter New Paltz State University College of Education in the fall.

Grand Jurors Seek Stiffer Penalties On School Bus Law

More stringent penalties for violators of the school bus law and a workable set of safety rules for students and school buses operators is being sought by Ulster County Association of Grand Jurors, in letters recently forwarded to the two legislators representing the county in Albany.

Action was motivated by a series of recent incidents in which school children were injured when struck by a motorist passing a stopped school bus.

Letters outlining the association's position were sent to Assembly Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock, and Senator E. Ogden Bush of Walton, Delaware County by Thomas J. Murphy, president.

The letter follows:

"Our organization has become greatly concerned over a number of accidents resulting in serious personal injury to children as a result of their being struck by motor vehicles illegally passing stopped school buses.

"In this regard we feel that the law should be amended as quickly as possible, first to provide more severe maximum penalties to be imposed upon a violator who passes a school bus stopped to discharge passengers, by way of a larger fine and greater possible jail sentence; and secondly, to provide a greater margin of safety, by adoption of rules that might help to prevent such occurrences.

"We thought, on the preventive side of the question, that perhaps if school students were always discharged only on the side of the road on which they live, this would be one means of reducing the chances of children being struck. We realize however that this is merely one suggestion. Perhaps the state legislators might have other, better or more practical solutions to this really serious problem." The letter was signed by President Murphy.

Asking 100 Cities To Buy Proper Testing Devices

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A state official says he is asking more than 100 cities and counties to provide adequate equipment to test scales, pumps and other weighing and measuring devices.

John F. Madden, director of the State Bureau of Weights and Measures, said Thursday reports from local sealers of weights and measures showed that more than 100 municipal governments lacked adequate testing equipment.

Madden said he was making the requests because corrective action could not be compelled by state law.

A complete list of the cities and counties was not available.

But Madden said the cities of Albany, Gloversville and Johnstown and the counties of Albany and Fulton were the only ones on his list that lacked equipment or access to it for testing meters on fuel-oil trucks.

Madden previously accused Albany of poor enforcement of weights and measures laws.

A law requiring that public schools be established in every town of 50 families or more was passed in 1647 in the Massachusetts Bay Colony.

Teenage Swimming, Dancing Added to Recreation Slate

The Woodstock Recreation Committee has made available to the teenagers of Woodstock township a dancing and swimming program on Thursday afternoons and Saturday evenings, John Majoros, chairman, has announced.

Swimming will be available at Camp Mountain Pals on Thursday afternoons in the large supervised pool where the teenagers may congregate and enjoy wholesome fun one afternoon each week. Saturday evenings will be Dance Night at the camp. A jukebox will furnish the music for "dancing under the stars" each week.

Any teenager interested in taking part in these activities may pick up an application blank at the town hall or register by calling John Majoros or Andy Shekitka. In order to cover the cost for the nine weeks of swimming and dancing, a charge of $10 is necessary.

Camp Mountain Pals is located in Wittenberg and is operated by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Shekitka. The swimming-dancing program will be restricted to teenagers 13 years and over and the activities will be supervised at all times by Shekitka and his staff.

Registration for activities at the Andy Lee Memorial Field will take place on Saturday, July 1, and Monday, July 3, during which time there will be free swimming.

Variety of Features

Allan Byrne, summer playground director, has planned an interesting summer for the youngsters. In addition to arts and crafts and swimming, there will be many other activities such as golf, field newspaper, square dancing, archery, baseball, field trips and field games.

Many special events have been planned for the summer. These include a dog show, doll show, swimming meet, Achievement Night, father-and-son baseball, archery tournament, carnival, a water show and the Summer Olympics.

The Recreation Committee has assembled a top rate staff for the summer program. Heading the staff is Allan Byrne, director; and Robert Keough, assistant director. Margaret Wetterau will conduct the arts and crafts, assisted by Susan Bromberg and Pamela Rowe.

A new addition to the staff, Beverly Lewis, has served as lifeguard at the Mother Cabrini School and as assistant instructor and lifeguard for the Kingston YMCA. Miss Lewis has just completed an intensive instructors' training program at an aquatic school in Pennsylvania.

A summer calendar listing all the times and dates of all the activities at the field is now at the printers and will be distributed to the parents and youngsters on July 5.

President's Pin Is Awarded to Mervin Doremus

Mervin J. Doremus, president of Woodstock Rotary Club, was presented with his President's Pin this week by District Governor Weishaar in a ceremony at the local meeting.

The governor, who has closely followed the activities of the Woodstock Rotary club lauded Doremus for a job well done and complimented the members on the club's fine fellowship.

The district governor was accompanied by Douglas Carmen of Warrington, England, a "Rotary Foundation Fellow," who was the guest speaker. Carmen is one of 130 Rotary Scholarship winners and has been studying in Toronto, Canada, since last September.

In a lucid and comprehensive talk, he compared the educational systems of Canada and the United States with that of England. It was very interesting to note, he said, that both Canada and the United States are similar in their systems and different from that of England.

Pleased With Trip

In England, a student after the age of 16 chooses three subjects which are of most interest to him, Carmen said. He pursues these subjects until the age of 18 and by that time there is usually one subject that he prefers. If the student should then enter the university, he will concentrate on this subject for three years, at the end of which he can truly be acknowledged as a specialist in that particular field. The speaker also pointed out that although much time is spent on one subject, the student still has opportunities to broaden his cultural background.

Carmen thanked Rotary for making his trip possible and sincerely appreciated the hospitality extended to him by both Canadians and Americans. When he returns to England he will be most happy, he said, to relate the wonderful, courteous manner in which he was received in the North American countries.

Mrs. A. Hansen Resigns Post At Local School

The Onteora Board of Education has accepted the resignation of Mrs. Arthur Hansen, a teacher in the second grade at the Woodstock elementary school.

Mrs. Hansen, who has taught second grade at Woodstock for the past four years, was one of three teachers whose resignations were submitted and accepted at the June meeting of the Onteora board.

After acknowledging receipt of the letters of resignation in the open meeting, the board went into executive session to discuss them and later came back into regular session for the formal motion to accept the resignations.

Reasons for the resignations were not made known.

"I am very sorry to lose her," he said. "She is probably one of the most dedicated teachers I have ever seen."

The Woodstock principal added that he had tried unsuccessfully several times to have Mrs. Hansen reconsider her resignation. He said that members of the Onteora administration had also tried to have Mrs. Hansen reconsider.

Mrs. Hansen declined to comment beyond stating that her decision to resign was irrevocable.

OUR ANCESTORS by Quincy

"Furthermore, m'lud, defendant had a most unhappy childhood—a maladjusted personality who became a pirate merely to dramatize his resentment against society!"

BYRDCLIFFE SOLOIST — Matthew Raimondi, violinist, will appear in a concert of temporary music Saturday night, July 1, at 8:30 p. m. at the Byrdcliffe Theatre in Woodstock. Appearing on the program with Raimondi will be several other local musicians, including Sterling Hunkins, cello; Paul Price, percussionist; and Yehudi Wyner, pianist.

Hold Graduation Exercises for WoodstockSchool

Members of the sixth grade at Woodstock Elementary School were guests at graduation exercises held in the school auditorium. Afterwards the pupils were entertained at a luncheon sponsored by the P-TA at the Woodstock Country Club. Woodstock and West Hurley children later enjoyed a swimming party.

Mrs. Robert Greene, a member of the Onteora Board of Education, addressed the graduates. Diplomas were presented by Walter S. Van Wagenen, principal of the Woodstock and West Hurley schools.

The program included the pledge to the flag and singing of the national anthem by the audience. The school chorus, directed by Mrs. Katy Stowe, sang a selection "Peace."

"Road of Temptation" Sunday Sermon Topic In Shady Methodist

Communion Sunday will be observed at the Methodist Church of Shady on July 2, with the Rev. H. Chase Page preaching on the subject: "Road of Temptation." The service of worship begins at 7:30 p. m., with all welcome.

A coffee and fellowship hour will follow the church service in the church hall, with the public invited to participate in this event.

Sunday school is held every Sunday morning at 10:30 a. m. in the church, with Arthur MacDaniel, superintendent, in charge. Classes are available for all ages and visitors are always welcome. Choir rehearsal is held directly following the church school.

Corrected Version of Schimmerling Tome

In a recent article on vacations by Prof. H. A. Schimmerling of Woodstock lines were omitted which gave a completely different meaning to a point made by the author.

One part of the article read: "The Czechs found their own Slavic root 'prazd'. But since prazdny means empty, the word prazdniny (vacation) also means emptiness. It has the meaning of "days of quietness." . . . "restful days."

The portion should have read: "The Czechs found their own Slavic root "prazd". But since prazdny means empty, the word prazdniy (vacation) also means emptiness. The Germans have a slightly different approach. Their word for vacation is ferien. Though also Latin (feriae), it does not mean emptiness. It has the meaning of "days of quietness", "restful days" . . . .

5 Sets of Twins Finish

ROME, N.Y. (AP) — The graduating class at Rome Free Academy included five sets of twins. About 400 seniors were graduated.

matter of FACT

In the days of the old Spanish Main, privateering was a halfway respectable business. A privateer carried a government commission to attack enemy ships. Some privateers were patriotic; other were thinly-disguised pirates. One self-styled privateer bought a commission and plundered the Spanish Main. The paper, written in Danish, proved when translated to be a permit for hunting goats and wild pigs—nothing more.

Fences Off Traffic

BATH, N.Y. (AP)—Part of a fence was erected Thursday in the mainstream of traffic by a resident of this Steuben County village as evidence of his opposition to what he feels is an infringement on his property.

William C. Pietch claims the village of Bath cut off several feet of his lawn by laying part of the pavement of a local road in a broad, sweeping arc. He feels it should have been shaped in a right angle.

"I'm just protecting my lawn," Pietch said.

The village board still hasn't decided what to do about the fence.

The battlefield at Gettysburg was dedicated as a national cemetery on Nov. 19, 1863, only 4½ months after the battle was fought.

Process May Rid Milk Of Strontium 90

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is testing a pilot plant which it hopes will prove effective in removing strontium 90—present in radioactive fallout — from milk.

The process would be invaluable in case of nuclear attack.

The plant is being tested at the Agriculture Department's research center at nearby Beltsville, Md. The Atomic Energy Commission and the department of health, education and welfare are cooperating.

Scientists describe the process as similar to the action of water softeners on hard water.

Officials said that strontium 90 fallout from past nuclear tests is not of sufficient importance to require decontamination of present milk supplies. The strontium 90 gets into milk through plants eaten by dairy cows.

Aborigines Topic For Kiwanis Club

The "Kangaroo Increase Ceremony" as performed by the Aborigines of Australia was explained to the Kingston Kiwanis Club Thursday by the Rev. George P. Werner, district superintendent of the Methodist Churches of the New York area.

The speaker visited Australia for a period in excess of two months, collecting data and pictures concerning the Aborigines and their methods of existence.

Explaining that rainfall in the Aborigines section of Australia is extremely scarce and that water and kangaroo meat are the sources of existence of the natives, the Rev. Mr. Werner described in detail the kangaroo ceremony which he witnessed.

Employing about 60 men, the ceremony was a solemn affair which at times featured frenzied actions and considerable bloodletting. Included in the rites were three fires, the hot coals being scattered at the appropriate times for the purpose of increasing the kangaroo herds and bringing the much needed water.

The speaker said that during the ceremony he witnessed, the first rain descended in 13 months, and when the storm ceased, a record total of five to six inches of rain had fallen and collected in large puddles upon the dried and wasted soil.

"New life came out of the desert from this rainfall," the Methodist minister said, who inferred that the Aborigines thus recorded their ceremony as a decided success.

Finesse Offers Best Chance

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When you hold 10 cards of a suit, missing the king, the finesse is preferable to the drop play because the drop play gains a trick for you against only one combination of cards—singleton king in back of the ace while the finesse gains a trick for you against three combinations: a void in back of the ace, or either small singleton in back of the ace.

South looks over dummy happily. He is in an unbeatable six no-trump contract. The way the cards lie, South should make seven, but if he is a trifle careless he will make only six.

The careless play is to lead a small club and finesse will work, but East will show out and West will make a club trick.

The careful play is to lead the jack. If West covers you have a proven finesse against his ten spot. If West ducks you just finesse.

Since North and South hold ten clubs between them this is a 100 per cent play. There is no way to lose two club tricks and it gives declarer the best chance to lose no club tricks.

Special Parking Rules Are Listed For July 4 Events

Parking regulations on streets which will be affected by the July 4 parade in Saugerties on Tuesday at 10 a. m. were announced today by Saugerties Police Chief Arthur W. Richter.

Special parking regulations will go into effect at 9 a. m. Tuesday and continue until the parade has disbanded.

No parking will be permitted on the following thoroughfares:

West side of Partition Street from Russell to Main Streets.

East side of Market from Main to Finger Streets.

Special regulations will also be in effect starting at 9:30 p. m. and until the fireworks display crowd has disbanded on the following streets:

No parking will be permitted on either side of Washington Avenue from 6 p. m. until after the fireworks from Robinson Street to the tennis courts at Cantine Memorial Field.

Saugerties Citizens Advisory Committee, of which Miss Grace Anderson and Norman Nitschke are co-chairmen, has suggested to the Board of Education that they correct public misunderstanding by issuing a public statement covering Bus Transportation.

The method of bidding for the business of furnishing transportation to Saugerties Central Schools is the same as for all other bidding. An advertisement is placed in the local press. Any concern interested in submitting a bid is encouraged to do so. The busines goes to the lowest bidder. It is the established policy of the board that those wishing to bid for a contract of transporting pupils must bid on the entire transportation program except for the feeder routes which may be bid individually. The reason for this policy is that the board believes that it thereby secures a more efficient service both as regards quality and as regards price. In the opinion of the board, their experience with this plan since 1957 demonstrates that it is the best policy for them to follow.

Now, as to the so-called "apparent high cost." Members of the Advisory Committee who drew the conclusion that bus transportation costs in Saugerties are high probably did so on the basis of comparing local costs with "Expenditures Per Pupil in Average Daily Attendance" as published by The State Education Department.

The fact of the matter is that local costs are not comparable with these published state figures because not all the same costs are included in the published figures as are included in the local transportation figures. This is borne out by the facts as presented in a letter from M. G. Osborne, director of the division of school business management, submitted to Superintendent Grant D. Morse on June 6.

"This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of June 1 regarding transportation costs.

"Undoubtedly, the reasonable cost sheets which we prepare and mail out present a more realistic cost figure for transportation than the per pupil cost figures. The per pupil figure would have all costs except debt service, capital outlay, insurance, administration costs, and cost of maintaining district-owned garages.

"I am enclosing a copy of our 1960-61 reasonable cost sheet. The 1961-62 sheet will be available in a few weeks.

"May I say that the per pupil cost of transportation is obtained by dividing the total cost of transportation by the total A. D. A. (average daily attendance) of those districts that had expenditures for transportation. Therefore, the per pupil cost is not the cost of transporting a child, but is the per pupil cost of transportation using the total A. D. A. of children in the districts whether or not they were transported.

The per pupil costs published by State Education Department were arrived at by dividing the total average enrollment by the transportation cost in the school studied regardless of whether all pupils in a district were transported or not. In some of the schools included, the percentage of pupils transported was high; in others it was not so high. The per pupil figures as published by the State Education Department did not, as Osborne pointed out, include the costs for debt service, capital outlay, insurance, and garages. And since schools which own their own buses were included in the State Department study as well as schools which contract for transportation, the state published average is, as we have said above, not comparable with local costs charged by bus operators who must buy their buses and pay for them, insure them, and house them in privately owned garages.

At no time have the costs of transportation as bid by local contractors been seriously questioned by state department auditors and inspectors who annually go over the proposals for all school districts in the state and approve or reject each bid.

The fact that the state bears a large percentage of the cost of transportation has nothing to do, of course, with the question of whether local costs are high or low except that local taxpayers are thereby the better assured that state officials are not going to approve unreasonable bids. It is a matter of interest, however, to know what percentage of transportation costs are paid for by the state rather than out of local budgets. Following are the percentages of local transportation:

In 1956-57 budget the district paid $1,218.49 on a bus transportation bill of $73,427.50. The state paid 98.3 per cent of the cost. In 1957-58 bus transportation cost the district $13,314.23 on a $121,093.62 transportation bill. The state paid 89 per cent.

In 1958-59 total cost of bus transportation was $119,362.90. The state paid 93.7 per cent and the total cost to the district was $7,414.27.

In 1959-60 the total cost of transporting children to and from school was $134,983.26 with the state paying 93 per cent of the total and the cost to the district was only $9,028.

For the 1960-61 budget the total cost of bus transportation was $144,712 for which the state paid 97 per cent, leaving only $3,757 as the total cost to the central school district.

Sale Is Approved Of Cairo Grounds

Stockholders of the Greene County Riding and Driving Club, Inc., have approved the sale of the former Greene County Fairgrounds at Cairo for the sum of $16,000. Prospective buyer Leonard Fancher, Hensonville garage operator, and his associates I. and O. Slutsky of Hunter and New York Attorney Albert Ubert are reportedly interested in the 17-acre tract for quarter horse racing.

William Lake of Acra, president of the Club reported the sale had been approved at a stockholders meeting in Masonic Hall, Cairo, where 505 votes, mostly through proxies, were cast in favor. Holders of 45 other shares did not vote. Lake said present plans call for dissolution of the corporation.

Located between Routes 32 and 145 in Cairo, the property has not been used for a county fair in 20 years. There is a half mile track, old stable, building and an old grandstand. Lake said the new owners would probably erect new stables.

They'll Do It Every Time — Registered U. S. Patent Office — By Jimmy Hatlo

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I bought two books called "Ulster County, N. Y., Wills," from T. Emmett Henderson, antiquarian book seller of Middletown. There were only 500 of these books printed by Gustave Anjou in 1906. They cover wills, letters of administration and other items from 1665. Many are translations from Dutch and French. Alphonso Trumpbour Clearwater,' LLD, famous historian wrote at the time in the introduction that these books would be invaluable to historians, antiquarians and genealogists of all time, and also to every person descended from those "who gave to Ulster a unique distinction among the counties of America."

There is a great deal of information in this set of books, and I understand that such a set is in our Kingston City Library, and perhaps some of our other public buildings. The inventories in the wills give one an idea upon the home life, the habits and possessions of the early inhabitants of this country, wrote the author, Gustave Anjou in 1906.

He wrote that spinning wheels, were found in every family. The necessity for protection against the Indians, and the hunt, made "guns" of all descriptions necessary. Rent was paid in "marketable winter or summer wheat." Pewter, or "puter," was the most common metal used, but silver spoons and forks were not uncommon. Knee breeches and knee-buckles, waistcoats, and shoe buckles for the men, petticoats, short gowns, check aprons, white linen stockings, and black hoods for the women, were the garments most frequently mentioned in the inventories.

These wills and their inventories are today important as historical information. They also used the old English custom of giving the eldest son some small personal property, as "his right for being my first born." The author, Gustave Anjou, who went through so many of these old wills, found that the people of those days, had a "generous sense of justice" and seldom cut off a member of the family with the proverbial shilling.

The following is taken in part from a letter, written by Lord Cornbury to Secretary Hodges, "The trade of the province, in 1705, consists chiefly of flower and bisketts, which is sent to the islands in the West Indies, in return they bring, rum, sugar, molasses, and sometimes pieces of eight, and cocoa, and logwood; to Europe, our people send skins of all sort, whale oyle and bone."

They also mention in items from Governor Moore's official letter to the Lords of Trade, written in 1767, stating that "every family makes a coarse cloth called lindsey-woolsey, the warp being of linen and the woof of wool. Every family is furnished with a loom, and the wandering weavers who travel about the country, put a finishing-hand to the work."

June being the wedding month, back in those days, no doubt many such items made good wedding presents. They also mention izer, or wafer-irons, which were considered good wedding presents, and often they had them decorated with the coat-of-arms of the groom, together with his initials and those of his bride, and the date of their marriage.

For How Many Retirement Plans Are You Eligible?

By FAYE HENLE

Has it ever occurred to you that you may be eligible for several retirement plans? Figure carefully and you may well be able to spend those "twilight" years in style!

Take the policeman on the beat. After 20 years of service, he can retire and draw a city pension. Since he may still be young, he'll seek another job. Now he comes under social security unless he lived in a city where he had the option to elect social security while he was a city employe. Here he'll be building toward the second retirement pay check.

Perhaps, he'll learn a skill and join a union. Here he may get a third retirement check. Or he might go to work for a company with a fine retirement plan for employes. Perhaps he is a thrifty soul and buys an insurance annuity; this too will spell added after-65 income.

Social Security: A qualified man with a 65-year-old wife receives $180 a month if he retires now. After 1963, the benefit will rise to $190.50.

Civil Service: These benefits go to city, state and federal employes with at least five years service. The amount available depends upon a number of factors, including years of service and highest pay in a five-year period. Some under civil service may qualify for social security or private company retirement.

Members of many unions can look forward to good retirement pay in addition to social security benefits.

Company pension and profit sharing plans are becoming increasingly liberal. It is not unusual for larger companies to pay their workers half their monthly salary after retirement. If you change jobs and the company allows you to take with you that portion of your retirement pay which you have contributed, you may benefit from two company retirement plans.

"Moonlighters," those who work at a second job, may put in enough hours to qualify for that second plan.

Insurance companies sell individuals retirement annuity policies. In addition to, or instead of, an annuity, if you have built cash Values into a regular life insurance policy, you can draw upon this when you retire.

Cancer Search Goes On

WASHINGTON (AP) — The search for more effective medicines for use in treating cancer is a massive one. There are now about 20 compounds used in the fight against cancer, according to the Phamaceutical Manufacturers Assn. But in the last three years, says the association, tens of thousands of chemicals, compounds or other substances have been tested in laboratories. In 1958, only 60 of 28,000 substances studied proved worthy of clinical investigation on humans. In 1959, out of 36,000, there were 49 given further study. Figures are not in for 1960.

Townsend Plan Has Changed But It's Still Alive

By GABE KAIMOWITZ
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA) — Remember that fateful day in '33 when Dr. Francis E. Townsend revealed in a "letter to the editor" of a newspaper his plan to rebuild the economy by restoring the dignity and spending power of the nation's elders.

Well, the Townsend Plan still is with us. In fact, July 3 to July 6, its supporters will be meeting in Grand Rapids, Mich., at their 21st national convention. They aren't any older because they skipped the war years.

Things aren't quite the same as they were in '35 when the Townsend Plan really rolled. Fo rone thing, Dr. Townsend died last Sept. 1 at the age of 93. Now his son, Robert C., has come to the fore.

The Plan has changed a little, too, like most everything else. It has to keep up with the times, says the Plan's economic consultant John D. Elliot.

For example, there was a day when economists were saying the Plan wouldn't work because of this, that and the other thing while Dr. Townsend was saying: "God deliver us from further guidance by professional economists."

Townsend had his own economic theory; everybody would retire at age 60 and get $150 or $200 a month, provided the money was spent within 30 days. To pay for the Plan, the government was to collect a national sales tax or a tax on every conceivable transaction. By now, we're pretty much doing that anyway.

The Plan today, as outlined by Elliot, is a little more complicated. The person over 60 would automatically get a minimum of $75 a month whether or not he was retired. The working person could, however, taper off his employment. For every two dollars of income he gave up, the Plan would give him a dollar. Maximum payment to an individual in any one month would be $150.

Elliott figures that a two per cent gross receipts tax would just about pay the way now. Some 20 to 22 million persons would share the $3.5 billion which would be coming in monthly. As much comes in, goes out.

But that isn't the only difference between yesterday, today and tomorrow. The Townsend Plan seemed to its followers like a good deal in the depression. But we don't have a depression any more. And it seemed even better when there was no Social Security Act. But we have one now, thanks in part to the Townsendites even though that wasn't exactly what they wanted.

Maybe good times is why the organization which once had 2½ million signatures on petitions in support of the Plan, has been ailing of late. They still have something like 3,000 clubs, Elliot says, but the circulation of the Plan's weekly newspaper isn't even 10,000 any more.

But everything doesn't change. Club members still get together in Glens Falls, N. Y., or Ludington, Mich., or Medford, Ohio, for piano recitals, readings, potlucks, covered dish suppers, card parties, door prizes, rummage sales, game nights and ladies' drill teams.

And in their newspaper, they still can read poems like "The Portrait of My Mother," stories on "Food Poisoning and How to Prevent It," and advertisements like for Dr. Ann's "Manna," the food that kept the Israelites in perfect health in the wilderness for 40 years—you know the kind of things that have been with us for hundreds of years and will be for hundreds more.

GOP to Capture N. Y. and Buffalo Morhouse Claims

SENECA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—L. Judson Morhouse, Republican state chairman, says the GOP will win the mayoral elections in New York City and Buffalo this November.

"We registered significant gains in the 1959 municipal elections, electing Republican mayors in 10 cities that had chosen Democrats in 1957," he told a meeting of the Seneca County Republican Committee Thursday night.

He also cited Republican gains in 1960 village elections as part of what he described as a Republican pattern.

Farm Prices Weaken

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"What did people do before they had television?" asked playwright and producer Dore Schary. "Well, we probably read more books. We probably went out to the movies more often. We played cards more. And, one thing I'm sure we all did: We talked more."

Television, Schary believes, can be as habit-forming as a drug.

"It's so comfortable to sit there in an easy chair," he continued. "It's easier to watch something you're only mildly interested in than it is to move."

Schary, former production head of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, successful film writer and author of two Broadway hits, will produce the first of a series of 18 specials on three networks next season which will be sponsored by an electrical company. The program is called "The Sound of the Sixties."

The time of the year has come when this column—and this columnist—takes a vacation.

And how will this columnist spend the days when there are no stories to be written, no publicity releases to be read, no stars to interview?

No. I do not plan to unplug the television set. Rather, I expect to watch television a lot, but only the programs that sound promising and new to me. And, for one glorious month, I can exercise a privilege most other viewers use all the time: I can stop looking at a program the minute it bores or offends.

There are books to be read, too —Gladys Schmidt's "Rembrandt," Shirer's "Rise and Fall of the Third Reich" (both saved for the purpose), also Stan Opotowsky's "TV, The Big Picture," which I skimmed and found full of interesting behind-the-scenes TV information.

There is a garden to be weeded, golf to be played. There may be Sundays when I miss Ed Sullivan and "Meet the Press." But, early or late, one telecast I'll be watching will be the second Project Mercury shoot.

Recommended tonight: "Way Out," CBS, 9:30 (Eastern Daylight Time)—"Side Show," about a man in love with a headless woman; "Person to Person," CBS, 10:30-11—a visit with comedienne Carol Burnett.

Probe of Religious Issue Is Rejected By Education Head

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The state education commissioner says a state investigation, requested by New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner, of alleged anti-Catholic bias in faculty assignments at Queens College is unnecessary and inadvisable.

Commissioner James E. Allen rejected the request in a letter to Wagner Thursday. Allen pointed out that any Roman Catholic faculty member of the City-operated college could appeal to him directly for a hearing if the teacher felt he had been treated unjustly.

NEW YORK (AP)—Today we are trillionaires. The new status works both ways.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon says America's total debt at all levels tops a trillion dollars for the first time.

But look at the balance sheet of Americans as individuals. Their current assets are put at $959 billion. Add their fixed assets of $607 billion, and U.S. citizens can claim to be worth $1,566,000,000,000.

Debt Also High

Of course, Secretary Dillon points out at the same time that individual debt totals $296 billion and continues to rise.

And as citizens we have a responsibility for the $290 billion federal debt and the $69 billion state and local debts. As stockholders they have an interest in corporate debt of $358 billion. (Corporate assets are much higher than this, and governments have financial and tangible assets, too.)

Can you as American citizens afford to carry all this debt? a lot of people say no. But look at the brighter side of the financial balance sheet.

Savings on Upswing

At the 1961 halfway point personal income is running at $414 billion a year. And personal savings have been climbing in the first half of 1961. Then there are those financial assets of $959 billion.

That figure is garnered from reports of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Reserve Board, and the Department of Commerce.

The financial assets include $343 billions in preferred and common stocks, $102 billion in government securities, $26 billion in other securities such as corporate bonds and notes, nearly $67 billion in savings and loan associations and credit unions, more than $181 billion in currency and bank deposits. To that are added more than $149 billion in private insurance and pension reserves and $70 billion in various government insurance and pension reserves.

Subject to Debate

The fixed assets are figured this way: $404 billion equity in home ownership and $203 billion in current value of durable goods owned. The durable-goods equity is figured by totalling consumer purchases in the last 10 years, depreciated at 10 per cent annually.

The figuring to reach the total assets of one and a half trillion is subject to debate among accountants, as all such overall estimates are.

And the question of whether individuals' assets justify the steadily climbing personal debt — or whether the national economy, growing jerkily but steadily, justifies the rising total of government and private debt—is up for sharp debate in and out of Congress.

In New York financial circles the majority opinion is that both private and public debt is still on a sound basis. That is, the national and personal assets and the current national and personal incomes can carry the debt load without undue strain.

Italian Student Says Her Nation's Schools Superior

Writing in the current Journal of The New York State School Boards Association, she said she considered an Italian high-school education better preparation for life for those who did not go on to college, and an Italian high-school diploma more difficult to obtain.

"One reason we accomplish more than the American students when we are in high school," she said, "is that we do not have so many distractions and extra-curricular activities."

U. S. Heritage: Past and Future

U.S. Doomed, Educator Feels, Unless Marked Change Occurs

EDITORS NOTE — With Independence Day almost here, George W. Cornell sums up a collection of views as Americans look into the past and toward the future in reviewing the nation's heritage.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the season for examining the American heritage. And all sorts of people are doing it.

As the nation prepares to celebrate its Independence day next Tuesday churchmen, scholars, pundits and politicians are pondering how it all began. And where it is going.

"If the American dream is for Americans only, it will remain our dream and never be our destiny," says Dr. Rene de Visme Williamson, chairman of Louisiana State University's department of government.

Searching Discussions

But what is the dream? What is the objective? Recent months have seen searching discussions about "national purpose."

"Clearly, the religious view and its moral implications were at the root of the founding father's innermost convictions," says Dr. Emile Cailliet, professor of philosophy emeritus of Princeton Theological Seminary.

"Whatever political principles they laid down were directly derived from the religious view and its moral implications—in that order."

As the Declaration of Independence put the matter, it was self-evident that "All men are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights" to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

That was the foundation of it: That each man bears a stamp of worth and dignity, endowed by a power beyond any man-made law or government.

Either God or Tyrants

"If we will not be governed by God," said American revolutionary leader William Penn, "then we will be governed by tyrants."

But it is questioned today whether the basic idea still thrives. Says Dr. Albert Hyma, University of Michigan professor of history:

"The United States in the past 50 years has been dominated to a large extent by persons who do not understand the spiritual heritage bequeathed by their ancestors.

"Unless a marked change takes place in the United States of America, it is doomed, just as surely as was ancient Babylonia."

His comments, along with those of other historians and scholars, were supplied for a fourm on the subject in "Christianity Today," a national nondenominational weekly.

Another Is Hopeful

America's image has been "badly defaced" by the caricatures of Communist deceit, said Dr. V. Raymond Edman, president of Wheaton, Ill., College, but it "must be restored. And it can be."

Dr. Robert M. Sutton, history professor at the University of Illinois, said: "Only if we see the American dream clearly in the light of God's love, his power and his judgment do we have a right to hope, with Lincoln, that this nation under God may yet experience a new birth of freedom."

Graduation Held At Laboratory

Honored for the completion of a year's study in laboratory science and technique were Barbara Carr, Wallkill; Lucille M. Clark, Kingston; Cathleen E. O'Leary, Rosendale and Gail L. Pfleghaar, Saugerties. Certificates were presented to the class by James A. Dwyer of the board of managers of the laboratory.

The program consisted of a welcoming address by Walter J. Lyons, director of Student Training and Biochemist of the Laboratory, and an inspiring message to the students by Dr. Joseph Bellamy of the Columbia Memorial Hospital. Dr. Bellamy was introduced by Dr. Herbert Derman, who like the principal speaker is a teacher, a director of a laboratory and a clinical pathologist.

Dr. Bellamy stressed the value of the medical technologist in modern medical practice. In particular, it was pointed out how important the hospital laboratory technician is to the care and welfare of the hospital patient. Dr. Bellamy urged that all laboratory analyses be carefully performed and honestly reported, and that any unusual or uncertain result be doubly checked and brought to the attention of the laboratory supervisor.

Attending the exercises were representatives of the Kingston Hospital, Benedictine Hospital, County Health Department, the Board of Supervisors, and the Board of Managers of the City of Kingston Laboratory.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Daniel J. Shea, PRVF, St. Mary's Church, offered the invocation, and the concluding benediction was given by the Rev. George P. Werner, Supt. of the Methodist District, Kingston.

The graduates have accepted employment as technicians in local clinical laboratories.

Teeners Risk Health

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Numbers of teen-agers here are risking their health by inhaling the vapor of model airplane cement for the drunken feeling it provides, police say.

No arrests have been made but several youths have been treated for the effects of the vapor. Authorities said one youth was unconscious for 15 minutes.

Beside a narcotic danger, doctors say the vapor can seriously injure the kidneys and liver and cuts the red cell count in the blood to dangerously low levels.

Suit Is Settled For Negligence And Malpractice

With the settlement Thursday of an action for negligence and malpractice brought in Supreme Court by Michael Burke, formerly of High Falls, the June term of Supreme Court was adjourned to chambers of Justice William Deckelman and all jurors were excused.

Burke brought an action against the Kingston Hospital, Dr. David S. Gerbarg, Dr. Glenn Van Gaasbeek and Mrs. Elizabeth O'Leary, nurse, for alleged damages which he said were caused by an infection he contracted while a patient at the hospital. Entering the hospital for treatment for peptic ulcer, Burke alleged an infection of his arm developed. It was treated and he left the hospital but later was required to return to the hospital and undergo an operation on the arm. He alleged negligence in sterilization of hospital equipment used in treatment. Alfred Julian and Philip Korn of Kerhonkson appeared for plaintiff. Joseph Balsamo appeared for Dr. Gerbarg, Donald H. McCann for the hospital, Donald Fager for Dr. Van Gaasbeek and Howard C. St. John for Mrs. O'Leary.

No announcement was made as to the terms of settlement.

Moose Club, Vets, K of C Score Close Wins in Babe Ruth Loop

One-run games were featured in the Kingston Babe Ruth league action last night. Moose nipped Kiwanis, 8-7; VFW beat Rotary, 4-3; and K of C went eight innings to stop the Legion, 3-2.

Jim Williams delivered a two-run single in the seventh inning to give the Moose its triumph. The winners were set back when Kiwanis tallied six times in the first inning. Brian Bach was the winner with some nifty relief work.

Mike Burns led the Kiwanis entry with a double and triple and he also scored twice.

The winners tied the score in the sixth and then won it in the seventh frame.

Pete Roberts slugged a leadoff homer in the bottom of the eighth to give the K of C club its decision over the Legion. Ron Schabot had homered earlier for the losers.

Grand Jury Move Hints College Grid Inquiry

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Extension of the grand jury term to Dec. 29 increased speculation today that Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan's investigation of fixes in college basketball would move on to college football.

Hogan's office would make no comment or expand on the announcement of the third extension of the grand jury's term, which came in the wake of the indictment of New York lawyer Charles Tucker as a ninth alleged fixer in the three-month old basketball mess.

Reports, however, have been circulating that football would—or has—come under scrutiny ever since the arrest of convicted football fixer Aaron Wagman of New York as a basketball manipulator back on March 17.

Wagman, since indicted on 37 counts of bribery and attempted bribery in the basketball scandal, was free on bail when Hogan first moved. The 28-year-old New Yorker was preparing an appeal from his conviction in Jacksonville, Fla., on charges of trying to bribe a Florida football player for a game with Florida State last September.

Dave Budin, another alleged basketball fixer and former Brooklyn College player, last fall was arrested in Michigan after a University of Oregon halfback reported a bribe attempt concerning Oregon's football game with the University of Michigan. Bribery charges against Budin eventually were dismissed but he was convicted on a charge of registering under a false name at a motel.

37 Now Involved

Thursday's basketball disclosures, which brought the current scandal to a count of 37 players from 22 colleges involving 48 games, named Tucker on three counts of bribery and one of conspiracy involving players from Connecticut, Detroit, Columbia and New York University. Indictment of Tucker also described an alleged attempt to reach players at the University of Oregon.

Named were Charlie North and John Morgan, the No.'s 2 and 3 scorers last season for the University of Detroit; and James Granata, 21, of New York, a substitute for Oregon in 1959 and 1960.

Hogan said Lou Barshak, Michael Siegel and Budin—all of the New York area — conspired to bribe North and Morgan for $1,000 a game for four games, including one with top-ranked Ohio State. The players, Hogan said, got only $50 each for "spending money".

Granata, Hogan said was approached by Tucker last fall and asked to sound out Oregon players. Granata was agreeable, Hogan said, but "there is no evidence he did anything about it." Granata left school. North and Morgan were dismissed by Detroit earlier this month.

In Tucker's dealings, Hogan said, he made offers to Pete Kelly of Connecticut, Ray Paprocky of NYU and Fred Portnoy of Columbia—all of whom have been mentioned previously in the scandal.

Barshak, who has been arrested in the concurrent investigation conducted by North Carolina authorities, and Siegel were roommates at Los Angeles City Junior College.

Perlman-Thayer High in Bridge

An exceptionally high 68 per cent game gave Dr. Paul Perlman of Woodstock and Harry Thayer of Kingston first place on the East-West side of the Glenerie Bridge Club's monthly Master point match.

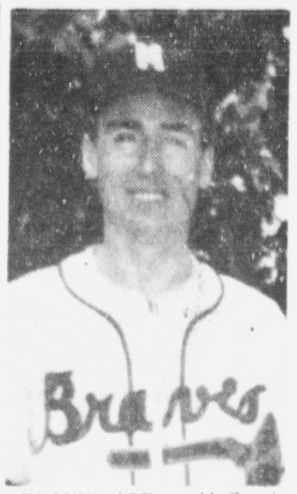

Leaders on the North-South side were Miss Marie Degenhardt of Poughkeepsie and Mrs. I. H. Wheatcroft of Kingston, with 62 per cent. Twenty-four boards were in play in a 12-table Mitchell movement.

Other leaders on the North-South side included: Mr. and Mrs. H. Ettlinger, Poughkeepsie, 61 per cent; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brooks, Hyde Park, 58 per cent; Dr. and Mrs. Harry McNamara, Hurley, 56 per cent.

Herbert Gertner and Joseph Pechioff, Kingston, posted 56½ per cent on the East-West side. Tied with 56 percent were the teams of Richard Swindells and Lawrence Fishbach of Kingston; and Robert Smith and Emil Jensen of Poughkeepsie.

Mulkey Favored To Win Decathlon

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Phil Mulkey of Memphis has been installed as the favorite to win the National AAU Decathlon tonight and Saturday.

Tonight the contestants will compete in the 100-meter dash, broad jump, shot put, high jump and the 400-meter dash. Saturday they take on the 110-meter hurdles, discus, pole vault, javelin and 1,500-meter run.

Mulkey, a 26-year-old school teacher, has unofficially bettered the official world decathlon record of Rafer Johnson. Johnson's record is 8,683 points.

Mulkey scored 8,709 points in the Southeastern AAU at Memphis two weeks ago, but his performance was not on an AAU approved field.

Orbiter Breaks Record at Spa

For the third night in a row a national season's record fell at Saratoga Raceway as driver Ralph Baldwin drove Orbiter to a dazzling 2:02 3-5 victory in the first dash of the Grand Circuit feature, the $10,000 Runnymede Trot last night. Orbiter also won the second dash in 2:03.5.

Last night's daily double at the upstate track returned $74.90 for a $2 bet. Winners were the 1-1 combination of Jewzell and Duke Dale. The crowd of 3,469 bet a total of $148,915.

Willie Mays' hot bat carried San Francisco in a twi-night doubleheader sweep at Philadelphia Thursday night as the Giants returned to second place in the National League race by winning 8-7 in 10 innings, and 4-1.

Willie hit three homers in the opener, putting it away with the 299th of his career, and added a triple and a double in the nightcap.

That put the Giants in second place by .002 percentage points over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who lost 4-2 at Pittsburgh. It also put the Giants within 2½ games of first place Cincinnati, after the Reds dropped their third in a row, 15-8, to the Chicago Cubs in the only other NL game scheduled.

Mays upped his batting average 13 points to .331 in the sweep and drove in five runs with his three homers in the opener. His first two, both two-run shots, were off reliever Dallas Green and gave the Giants a 4-4 tie after three innings. He won it with his 20th home run of the season, off Frank Sullivan (3-8).

In the second game, Mays tripled home the Giants' first run as they scored three in the fourth inning off loser Art Mahaffey (7-8). Billy Loes (5-5), knocked out as a reliever in the opener, took the nightcap with a five-hitter.

Lehman Starts

In the first game, southpaw Ken Lehman started for the Phils, gave up a single and a walk—and left. Billy O'Dell started for the Giants, faced one man (who singled)—and gave way to Sam Jones in a four-run first. Juan Marichal (6-4), working in relief for the first time, was the winner.

The seventh place Cubs, who lost only the opener of the four-game series, kissed the Reds goodbye with 17 hits, four of them homers, and beat Jim Maloney (4-4). Don Cardwell (7-5) was the winner. Cardwell slugged one of the Cubs' homers along with Billy Williams, Al Heist and George Altman—who now leads the NL with a .352 average.

Earl Francis (1-2) and reliever Elroy Face checked the Dodgers on three hits while the Pirates, blanked on four hits for seven innings, came from behind and beat Sandy Koufax (10-4) with four runs in the eighth.

All three Dodger hits were off Francis, who struck out 10 in his eight innings and gave up both runs on three walks and a single by Tommy Davis in the first inning.

The Saugerties Fish and Game Club has gone on record as opposing the present state engineers plan for reconstruction of Route 17 in the Beaverkill and Willowemoc Valleys.

A resolution to that effect was passed at the June meeting of the club and the organization's feelings will be made known to Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson and State Senator E. Ogden Bush.

The present plan, if carried through, would mean the virtual destruction of these world famous trout streams as they have been known for many years, the resolution said.

The resolution further pointed out that the building of many bridges, the relocation of the whole stream bed in many places, plus extensive gravel fill operations in others, would change these beautiful trout streams to barren stretches of washed out waterbeds. The noise of many automobiles whizzing by would take the place of the songs of the blackbirds and the numerous other birds which now inhabit the trees and brush bordering the stream.

All this destruction is not necessary, the club contends. Alternate routes are available, but the highway engineers seem intent on disregarding the alternatives.

The resolution posed the following questions: Could it be they (the engineers) are looking for a challenge in the difficulties of building a road up and over the streams? Why do they disregard the fact that thousands of our people enjoy many hours of fun, fishing and swimming in these streams? Does civilization need to progress to the point where we have nothing left to give out but a few moments of pleasure and relaxation?

The Saugerties resolution was triggered by a discussion of an article by Harry Darbie in the June-July issue of "Conservation Council Comments," which pertained to the fight to protect the famous Beaverkill stream against the ravages of the state public works department.

The officers and members of the Saugerties club are also requesting every person with the slightest interest in this matter to make their protests known to Senator Bush and Assemblyman Wilson.

The club warns persons in and outside of sportsmen's organizations: "Remember, these streams may be a little far away for you to fish often, but the day may come when your favorite stream may be threatened by the bulldozer, the drag line bucket—and the state highway department engineers."

Club members are also invited to meet on Saturday, July 8, at 2 p. m. at the Saugerties Sales and Service garage for the purpose of looking over two parcels of land which are available to the club for purchase for use as a building site.

Johnson Is 9-5 To Beat Machen

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Heavyweight contender Eddie Machen gets a chance to redeem himself Saturday night when he takes on NBA light heavyweight champion Harold Johnson in a television non-title 10-rounder at Convention Hall.

Although he is the No. 2 contender and has lost only three pro fights, the 28-year-old boxer-puncher from Portland, Ore., is a 9-5 underdog to the co-holder of the 175-pound crown.

One reason is Johnson's winning streak of 14 over a 4½-year span. Another is Machen's failure to win his key fights.

The trim 6-footer had an unbeaten record of 24 victories and one draw when he was blitzed in one round by Ingemar Johansson in Sweden, Sept. 14, 1958. This was the springboard victory that led the Swede to the world heavyweight title.

In his two major fights last year, Machen was outpointed by his two rivals for high-ranking honors, Zora Folley and Sonny Liston.

Since the loss to Liston, now the No. 1 contender, Machen has won three straight. He outpointed Wayne Bethea last year and this year knocked out Garvin Sawyer in five and outpointed Mike DeJohn in ten.

This made his record 37-3-1 including 21 knockouts.

Johnson, 32, has two ambitions. One is a return bout with Archie Moore, who still is recognized as light heavyweight champion in New York, Massachusetts and Europe. The other is a shot at Patterson. At the moment he's a long way from both.

The Philadelphian finally obtained a title, when he gained NBA recognition by flattening Jesse Bowdry in the ninth round last February. The NBA had designated this fight to determine the successor to Moore. It had stripped ole Archie of his crown for failure to defend within reasonable time.

Johnson has knocked out five of his last six opponents. His record is 65-8 including 31 knockouts. He has been stopped four times.

The bout will be telecast nationally by ABC-TV.

The winners opened on starter Carl Legregni with a pair of runs in the first inning. They added two in the third, two more in the fifth and one in the sixth. The Dodgers had solo markers in the second and fourth frames.

Chuck McKinley Main U. S. Hope At Wimbledon

By JOHN GALE

WIMBLEDON (AP)—America's main hope in the 75th Wimbledon tennis championships is husky Chuck McKinley, who says he's sworn off throwing tennis rackets and plans to win titles from now on.

McKinley, 20, from St. Louis, was suspended for six months after a racket throwing episode in the Davis Cup interzone finals in Australia last year. But looking every inch the serene young gent, he has progressed to the last 16 of this name pulling tournament showing virtually no temperament at all.

McKinley Thursday reached the last 16 with a 6-3, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2 triumph over Poland's Vladimir Gasiorek.

ALL Firemen Top Lions ,10-4

Though they managed only three hits, the Firemen tripped the Lions, 10-4, in an American Little League game yesterday.

Pete Caprotti had a double and single to pace the Firemen. Walter Lyons tripled for the losers while Charles Green and Dwight Byrd socked doubles.

After matching five run bursts in the first inning, the Wrens and Hawks proceeded to put on a slugging show before the Wrens came out on top, 10-7, in a Jaysee Little League game last evening.

Bill Roosa provided the big blow with a three-run homer in the third inning. The winners were never caught after that.

Bill Lahl had a double for the Hawks while losing hurler Ken Gilligan socked two singles. Roosa, Russ Suppies and Tom Reis had two hits each for the winners with Roosa scoring three runs.

Invitational Pace Slated Saturday at Monticello

MONTICELLO — Monticello Raceway has planned a classy Invitational Pace for Saturday night to help highlight a big four-night Fourth of July holiday racing program.

The Mighty M has drawn from the New York racing circuit for at least two starters and possibly four for Saturday's feature.

Free-legged veteran Kenny J., and consistent Clever Yankee will make their first starts of the season at Monticello.

However, it won't be known until sometime today when the entires are dropped in the box if Mo Jo and Spangler Goose will start.

Youthful Lucien Fontaine is expected to drive Clever Yankee who is in the Billy Haughton stable.

Matched against the invaders probably will be Winbee, Red Dominion, Explorer, and Donna Goose.

Winbee won last Saturday's $2000 Invitational in 2:04.1. Red Dominion was two lengths back in second.

Winbee is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clukey of Harrington, Del., and trained and driven by the Clukeys son-in-law, Ned Galentine.

First 50-Lap Race

Rebel Harris Gunning For Fifth Feature Win

This time, the inaugural 50-lap event of the season is expected to attract the strongest field of the season, including Johnny Flach, the South Westerlo veteran who has been missing the past few weeks.

Sunday's 50-lapper will set the Onteora Speedway racing buffs in a receptive mood for the gala 4th of July big car, Indianapolis-type, racing program by the Sam Nunis circuit out of Trenton.

Stretch Van Steenburgh, the Saugerties whiz, chased Harris across the line Wednesday night at Lebanon Valley and may catch him this time. If he doesn't, Harris can look for plenty of trouble from Walt Schubert, Ernie Beesmer, Don Avery, the points leader and others.

Rex Cawley Top Track Star in '61

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Rex Cawley, University of Southern California sophomore, topped National Collegiate individual track and field statistics for 1961, the NCAA's final report for the spring campaign showed today.

Cawley had the best time in the 220-yard low hurdles, a :22.5 clocking, to edge Ray Cunningham of Texas and Ron Ablowich of Georgia Tech by one-tenth of a second. His :49.9 was fastest for the 400-meter hurdles.

The Southern California flash shared the 440-yard dash time of :46.2 with Earl Young of Abilene Christian and Adolph Plummer, New Mexico's NCAA champion. Cawley also anchored USC's mile relay team to an intercollegiate record of 3:07.6, matched later by Abilene Christian.

Orbiter Sets Two Marks In Runnymede

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Orbiter won both divisions of the $10,000 Runnymede Trot, a Grand Circuit event at Saratoga Raceway, and set two records in doing so.

Orbiter won the first dash last night in 2:02 3-5, the best time in the nation this year for three-year-old trotters. He established a track record for three-year-old trotters, erasing the previous Runnymede mark of 2:03 set by Hickory Smoke in 1957.

Driven by Ralph Baldwin, Orbiter paid $6.60. Caleb was a length behind and Duke Rodney, previous holder of the season mark for three-year-old trotters (2:02 4-5), finished third.

Orbiter's time for the second dash was 2:03 3-5. Spectator was second and Frostbite third. Orbiter and Spectator, an entry as in the first dash, paid $3.70. Both horses now are eligible for the Hambletonian, classic for three-year-old trotters.

A national season record for two-year-old pacers on a half-mile track was set at Buffalo Raceway by Mighty Tarheel with a 2:04 4-5 mile.

Reynolds Memorial

Mighty Tarheel won the final $8,377 pace of the W. N. Reynolds Memorial Stakes and returned $5.-30. Play Bill was second and Knight Latch was third. Mighty Tarheel, Play Bill and Miracle Knight also won elimination dashes in the windup of the Reynolds events, which had a total purse of $20,943 last night.

At other New York tracks it was a night for stretch racers:

Roosevelt Raceway — Merrie Adios rocketed from last to first place in the stretch to net the $1,500 Class A-1 Pace event. The winner, clocked at 2:01 4-5, paid $7.20. Flying Time was second and Champ Volo finished third. John Patterson drove Merrie Adios.

Vernon Downs—Sal's Gal put on a burst of speed after dropping back from third to sixth to take the $1,200 Class B-3 Trot in 2:05 4-5. Driven by Angus Allen, Sal's Gal paid $12.70. Meadow Gaines crossed the wire next, followed by Mighty Freight.

In the co-feature, My Darlyn stepped a 2:04 1-5 mile to return $4.90. The winner was driven by Bob Walker. Essie Gallon was second and Dennis third.

Speedy Raceaway Is Entered in Goshen Cup Race

GOSHEN — Raceway has two things going for him. He's fast and he has Joe O'Brien training and driving him. Raceway is a two-year-old pacer in the S. A. Camp Farm and he'll show his speed in the $13,000 Goshen Cup at Historic Track next Thursday.

The pacing colt already holds a season mark of 2:04 on a mile track and was the first two-year-old of 1961 to duck under 2:05. O'Brien will have to watch for another pacing whiz — Miracle Knight, winner two times on the Maryland Circuit this spring.

Grand Circuit week at Historic starts July 3 and winds up July 7—and what a wind-up! Two stake races, one for the folks who like the trotters, another for the pacing fans. The pace brings in the three-year-olds for the $6,000 Orange County Cup. Hogan Hanover looks good, having won the Governor's Cup at Roosevelt Raceway on June 17 in 2:04.1. Knight Champ has been coming home first many times in '61, too. Sweet Miriam paced away with the Reading Futurity, while Poplar Harry and Sandra Dares were picking up trophies elsewhere. Take your choice.

Historic Track's final day of harness racing brings out the old pros for the $14,500 Titan Free-for-All. These are the trotters that have piled up $50,000 or more in winnings and entered are three who have season records. They're Arden Homestead Stable's Family Man, 2:01; Hickory Pride, 2:02; and Su Mac Lad, 2:01. The Titan is bound to be a thriller with other great trotters such as Elaine Rodney, Great Lullwater, Steamin' Demon, Tie Silk and Darn Safe in there, also. Darn Safe won it last year and again in 1958. If he takes it next Friday, Darn Safe will be the first triple-time winner of the famous stake.

Name Griffith Boxer of Month

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—The National Boxing Association has named welterweight champion Emile Griffith of New York its boxer-of-the-month for June.

Tony Petronella, NBA ratings committee chairman, announced Thursday Griffith won the honor on the strength of his successful defense against Gaspar Ortega of Mexico.

Griffith edged two other world titlists, junior lightweight Flash Elorde of the Philippines and flyweight Pone Kingpetch of Thailand.

In its monthly ratings the NBA did not rank unbeaten Tom McNeeley, Arlington, Mass., heavyweight who is virtually assured of a title shot against champion Floyd Patterson in Boston in the fall.

The NBA named the following for honorable mention in June: middleweights Obdullo Nunes of Puerto Rico and Yama Bahama of Bimini, lightweight Eddie Perkins of Chicago, bantamweight Johnny Caldwell of Ireland, welterweight Ralph Dupas of New Orleans and featherweight-newcomer Jose Luis Cruz of Mexico.

The Nimrod's Corner

By Old Doc

In the early days of our country, the land truly did teem with wildlife. To us today, the numbers reported seemed fantastic. Great flights of passenger pigeons in migration darkened the skies. Their numbers were estimated by naturalists even into the billions. The supply seemed inexhaustible. They were slaughtered for the market by any and every means possible—gun, net and club. Today the passenger pigeon can be found only as a stuffed specimen in a case in a museum. He has joined the ranks of the extinct species.

In the early days, buffalo herds ranged the great plains by the many millions. Man deliberately sought to exterminate them. The animals were decimated by commercial hunters as transportation lines moved westward. Buffalo exist today on refuges and protected ranges only in the limited numbers permitted by the existing forage. They were in great numbers only when they had the vast prairies for their homes and could range widely at will and get the food they needed. Men changed that with the plow, wire fence and economic enterprises.

MISUSE MUST STOP

All of this means just one thing. No matter how great a wildlife resource may be, it can be lost if man continues to misuse and sweep bare the countryside of required food and cover.

Today we face a challenge to preserve another and a most important segment of habitat needed by wildlife—our wetlands. Please still remember—the past is prologue—relate to me your history and I will foretell to you your future.

Wetlands, meaning lands covered with shallow water for all or part of the year, are the richest of all our wildlife habitats. The dependence of migratory waterfowl, from the Canada goose to the green-winged teal, on wetlands is so well known as to need little discussion. Our marshes, swamps, bogs, estuaries, shallow streams and lake margins are also essential to other wildlife and form an incidental but valuable part of the habitat of many more.

The wetland inventory published by the Fish and Wildlife Service recently lists 38 game and furbearing species reported by the various states as making use of one or more of the 20 types of wetlands. The importance of wetlands to these species varied from the casual use by squarrels in the north to the utter dependence of the alligator in the south.

While much of our big game and our puland game does not require water itself except for drinking, and makes little use of aquatic vegetation, wetlands in many areas provide much of the available dense vegetation, valuable as food and cover. This food and cover, not necessarily aquatic in nature, is the main reason for the high value of wetlands to bear, squirrel, rabbits and grouse.

DRAMA OF THE WETLANDS

Those who would watch the dignified heron stalk his dinner, glimpse the stately egret or listen to the excited marsh wren must go to the wetland areas. The song of the spring peeper is not heard elsewhere, nor is the croak of a bullfrog on a sunny afternoon.

There are at present, about four and one-half million acres of necessary wetands which we must obtain if we are to keep our migratory waterfowl at an even keel—much less build the flocks.

It is estimated it will take $150,000,000 to do the job. Using duck stamp money on a pay as you go basis, it will take from 38 to 40 years to complete this job. Thus time becomes our enemy. We cannot wait that long—the entire resource will be depleted. So Congress is being asked to "loan" $150,000,000 now—payable to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service in $50,000,000 chunks, so that it can accelerate and complete that program.

Baltusrol Par Foils Women's Field in Open

Associated Press Sports Writer

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — It was a battle of survival today as the 82 pros and amateurs competing in the 16th annual Women's National Open Golf Tournament went into the second round.

The field is due to be cut to the low 40 and ties for the final two rounds Saturday.

Based on the opening round scores Thursday it appeared a 36-hole total of 164 might make it, so rugged is the 6,372-yard, par 36-36—72 yard Baltusrol lower course.

Only two players were able to match par in the first round and only 17 of the 82 starters could break 80. The 80 or over performers included such tournament-seasoned pros and Mrs. Marlene Bauer Hagge, Betty Jameson, Patty Berg and Beverl yHanson.

Mickey Wright and JoAnn Prentice were the par shooters. Mickey, second to Louise Suggs as top money winner this year, had 37-35—72, and JoAnn, a sharpshooter who has yet to win a tournament in five years as a pro, carded a like score.

Campbell Leads With 4-Under 68 In Flint Open

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Joe Campbell was a tricky long-distance shooter on the basketball court and now he's doing it from far out as a pro golfer.

Campbell-never a major winner on the golf course but a big earner last year when he sank a hole in one for a $50,000 bonus-made good on another faraway shot Thursday.

It gave him a one-stroke first round lead in the $53,000 Flint Open.

The former Purdue basketball jump shot artist finished with a four-under-par 35-33—68. He leads Dan Sikes by one stroke entering today's second round.

The more experienced pros found elongated Warwick Hills a treacherour enemy. Only 17 players in the 150-man field bettered par-72 on the 7,280-yard layout, longest on the tour.

Sikes, another relative unknown from Jacksonville, Fla., also topped all the big names with his 35-34—69. This was his best showing since he started touring this year.

But the experienced golfers follow within easy striking distance of Campbell. Lionel Hebert, Jerry Magee, and defending champion Mike Souchak had 70s. Cary Middlecoff and Al Balding were among those with 71. Doug Ford, Dow Finsterwald, former Flint champions Art Wall and Bill Casper, and Sam Snead were listed among the 72s.

Commander Lists Rules of Safety For Boat Owners

Boating can be dangerous unless the boat owner is aware of its hazards, said Donald F. Clark, Commander of the Mid-Hudson Power Squad, in a pre-4th of July interview today.

Noting that the week of July 2-8 has been designated National Safe Boating Week by proclamation of President Kennedy, Commander Clark said that, despite the tremendous increase in boat owners, there has not been a proportionate rise in accidents.

Every boat owner should consider every week and every day the time for safety, said Clark. He listed the following rules as his Ten Commandments for boating safety:

1. Before starting out, be sure there is a U. S. Coast Guard approved life jacket aboard and readily accessible for every individual on the boat; (2) Be certain that there are the required number of filled fire extinguishers handy; (3) before gassing up, kill all the lighted cigarets, cigars or pipes and any open flames. Close all windows, doors and hatches; (4) keep the nozzle of the gas hose in firm contact with the filler pipe;

Also, after refueling, air the boat and bilge thoroughly before starting engine; (6) know and follow the Rules of the Road; (7) check to see that you have the correct charts of the waters you'll navigate and use them intelligently; (8) know your Aids to Navigation; (9) don't take chances; (10) do take advantage of the courses offered gratis by the United States Power Squadron in your area.

Columbus Loses Ace Relief Pitcher

The props supporting Columbus' first place lead in the International League may be just a little weaker today now that Al McBean has gone up to the parent Pittsburgh Pirates.

McBean, a mainstay in Columbus' bullpen all season, may have proven that Thursday night when he saved the Jets 4-3 victory over Toronto and picked up his fourth triumph in seven decisions. The victory, coupled with second-place Charleston's 7-6 loss to Syracuse, increased Columbus' lead to four games.

In other IL action, Buffalo defeated Richmond 6-3 and the Rochester Red Wings won over Jersey City 4-3.

Orioles Win 5th Straight

The Baltimore Orioles won their fifth in a row by beating Kansas City 6-2 behind the two-hit pitching of Dick Hall Thursday night. It was the eighth victory in nine games for the fourth place Birds, who open a three-game set against the American League leading Detroit Tigers tonight.

Detroit handed the Chicago White Sox a second straight loss, 5-2, for a two-game bulge over the idle New York Yankees. Third place Cleveland dropped six games behind with a 3-1 loss to Washington, the Indians' 10th defeat in 12 games. Boston beat Minnesota 9-5.

The Orioles came from behind against Lew Krausse (1-2), the $125,000 right-hander who gave up eight hits and five earned runs in 5 1-3 innings. A single by Jim Gentile and an error tied it 2-all in the fifth inning, and Baltimore then broke it up with a four-run sixth triggered by Russ Snyder's two-run triple.

Frank Lary won his 11th for the Tigers, out-dueling Cal McLish (4-5) in 93-degree heat at Detroit. A two-run triple by rookie Dick McAuliffe, off reliever Turk Lown, broke a 2-2 tie when Detroit scored three in the seventh. Billy Bruton, who hit a two-run homer in the third, brought in the final run with a sacrifice fly. Floyd Robinson homered for the Sox.

Washington clipped Cleveland on home runs by Billy Klaus and Marty Keough behind the six-hit pitching of winner Johnny Gabler (3-2) and reliever Dave Sisler. Wynn Hawkins (5-7) was the loser for the Indians, who scored in the seventh inning on two errors.

Frank Malzone hit a pair of home runs for the Red Sox, one a three-run shot that clinched it as they came from behind with six runs in the fifth inning off Bert Cueto (0-3). Arnie Early, recalled the day before from Seattle, was the winner in relief.

Mays Boosts His Average to .331 After Great Day

"I just like to go out and play," he explained Thursday night after a tremendous display of hitting and fielding which hoisted the San Francisco Giants to an 8-7, 4-1 doubleheader sweep of Philadelphia.

Mays belted three homers—all in the 10-inning opener—a triple, double and single, batted in seven runs and scored four.

He said he connected on sliders on the first two homers off Dallas Green but caught a fast ball on the payoff shot which won the opener in the 10th with Frank Sullivan pitching.

The fleet-footed centerfielder hiked his homer total to 20 to tie for the leadership in the National League with teammate Orlando Cepeda. He boosted his batting average 13 points to .331 to move into fourth place among the leaders in this department and upped his RBI total to 55, third best in the league.

"I just hope I can keep it up," he said, while shrugging off praise. "We still have the last half (of the season) to go."

Mays, 30, said he thought Thursday night's spree was one of the best of his 10-year major league career.

3 Million More May Be Eligible

Provisions Spelled Out Of New Housing Bill

EDITOR'S NOTE—What does the housing bill which President Kennedy may sign today mean to the home buyer? What are its other effects? Joe Hall, veteran AP Senate newsman who covered the bill on its congressional journey, spells out its provisions in the following story.

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials estimated today that the new housing bill could make 3 million moderate income families eligible to buy their own homes.

Other millions may find better housing in moderate rental apartments under the bill's new programs.

Tentative Estimates

These tentative estimates came as the housing and home finance agency took a close look at the $3,646,000,000 measure sent to President Kennedy Wednesday.

In his March housing message to Congress, Kennedy said, in effect, that the housing needs of upper bracket families had been met in the post World War II boom—mostly in new suburban developments.

Government housing officials have emphasized the legislation will be administered with this in mind.

The chief provision which will make more families eligible to buy homes is the extension of the mortgage term from 30 years to a maximum of 40 years under the moderate income family section.

FHA figures this will cut the monthly payment on a $15,000 house—the most expensive the agency will insure under the new program—from $82.95 to $74.85. The stretch-out also would increase the total interest the home buyer would pay.

It is this reduction in monthly payments which brought the rough estimates of eligibility under FHA income rules for 3 million more families.

The bill would give the moderate income family a 35-year mortgage as a matter of right. The term could be lengthened to 40 years if the FHA commissioner felt the buyer's income was inadequate to make the payments under a 35-year loan.

The down payment on a $15,000 house would be $450. Closing costs could be included in the loan.

The sponsors think several million more families may be able to afford apartments that could be built with a subsidized 3½ per cent interest rate and government money under the moderate income program.

The individual home buyer above the $6,000 level also will get easier terms on FHA loans under the general insurance program.

He could obtain a 35-year mortgage, as compared with the present 30-year ceiling, and get an insured loan on a $25,000 home as against the present $22,500 top.

He also is given a somewhat smaller down payment schedule. This works out, for example, to $1,575 on a $22,500 house as compared with $2,205 under present law.

Senate Approves Plan to Revamp FTC, Air Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over solid Republican opposition, the Senate has approved President Kennedy's plan to reorganize the Federal Trade Commission and the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Both plans previously had been upheld in the House. Thus Kennedy has a tally of two victories and two defeats in his efforts to, as he put it, streamline various regulatory agencies.

The House previously rejected a reorganization plan for the Federal Communications Commission and only last week the Senate turned down one for the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Still awaiting action are Kennedy's plans to reorganize the National Labor Relations Board, the Maritime Board, and the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

Bare Soviet Blast

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials say a blast that could have been caused by a small atomic device or chemical explosives occurred last Jan. 31 in the Soviet Union, east of the Finnish border.

The size of the explosion was estimated as equivalent to between 50 and 100 tons of TNT. The first U.S. atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima had a blast equivalent of 20,000 tons of TNT.

Westchester Girl Still Critical, Injured Monday

Still critical today at Kingston Hospital is Lucy M. Finlayson, 18, of Rye, Westchester County, who was severely injured in a mishap Monday night on Route 28 at Alfaben.

A companion, Anne G. Moffat, 18, of Bedford Hills, was killed in the mishap.

The car bounced off a large tree and was in collision with a 1957 convertible operated by Eric Berglund, 36, of Malden-on-Hudson. In the Berglund car were Mrs. Katherine Sue Lewis, 21, of Cementon, Greene County and her three children. Mrs. Lewis was admitted to Kingston Hospital with lacerations and possible chest injuries. Her condition today is reported as fair.

Miss Finlayson and Miss Moffat had been staying at the home of Miss Finlayson's grandmother, Mrs. Lucy M. MacBride of Shandaken.

Chrysler, UAW Talk

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp., the only one of the big three automakers in the red this year, sits down today with the United Auto Workers to begin bargaining on new wage contracts which the union says must break new ground and develop new concepts.

The UAW already has put Chrysler on notice it will not listen to a plea of poverty and will expect Chrysler to meet terms of contracts it is negotiating simultaneously with General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co., others of the big three.

Kuwait Moving Help to Border

KUWAIT (AP)—Armored reinforcements moved up to Kuwait's ill-defined northern border with Iraq today to face Iraqi armor reported here at two brigades.

The border so far has been reported quiet, but officials said Iraqi forces had been strengthened along the frontier since Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem last week laid claim to the oil-rich sheikdom on the Persian Gulf after Britain gave it independence.

Optometrist Will Provide Service For IBEW Local

Dr. Sigmund Rudisch, local optometrist today announced the signing of a contract between Local 645, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the New York State Vision Services Inc. to provide complete prepaid vision services to the union members and their families.

After several meetings with representatives of the NYSVS and the trustees of the local union, an agreement was reached whereby all union members and their families will be provided with eye examinations and where necessary eyeglasses. NYSVS, Inc., is a voluntary, non-profit organization incorporated to provide machinery through which organized groups can contract for a high type of vision care and prescription glasses on a planned basis.

The employer trustees involved in the negotiations were Joseph E. O'Connor and David Jacobs, electrical contractors; Thomas J. Mitchell, union representative; Dr. Harold Katz, president of NYSVS; Dr. Eugene Jaffe, president of the Hudson Valley Optometric Association and Dr. Rudisch.

This is the first time that a local union in this area has contracted for complete visual services for members and their dependents, at no additional cost to them.

Should Prepare For War, Says Head of Legion

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—National Commander William R. Burke of the American Legion says that unless Soviet Premier Khrushchev is "bluffing on Berlin or we surrender, we will be at war by the end of this year."

He told about 7,000 delegates at the opening of the 43rd annual convention of the California department of the Legion Thursday: "We should prepare for what appears to be inevitable war.

"If in order to insure that the United States survives it is necessary to destroy Castro and Khrushchev and communism, I say, let us get on with the task."
